

Violence Outbreak Is Worst Florida March Is Set on by Whites

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of white segregationists raced into a civil rights march Thursday night, screaming and flailing at Negroes in this city's worst outbreak of racial violence.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King said only the non-violence of Negroes "saved the city from a bloody night of terror."

At least 45 persons were injured and 15 of them were treated at a hospital. Dozens were arrested.

Protests were halted today as integrationists asked a federal court in Jacksonville to overturn an order by Gov. Farris Bryant barring any group—integrationist or segregationist—from demonstrating after 8:30 p.m.

State Police Threatened
King said that he appealed to the White House for help at the height of Thursday night's melee and was assured the matter would be investigated. He frequently has called for federal marshals' protection.

For the first time in three weeks of almost daily confrontations, State Police were openly threatened. On at least two occasions, angry whites surrounded isolated groups of state troopers and tried to liberate Negro prisoners.

The Negro parade moved into the downtown square exactly like others which have been held. The proposed route went around the side of the square in which at least 200 whites were holding a segregation rally.

Break Through Police
When the Negro column approached, the whites burst through police lines and into the marchers with fists. Some of the Negroes were hit; some of the whites were clubbed by police and arrested.

The parade disintegrated and never reformed. Remnants of the march continued around the square with whites attacking again and again. Finally, the march turned into a riot. The Negroes ran toward their section of town, pursued by screaming whites who would hit once or twice, and race on.

The marchers struggled back to their starting point with some near hysteria. King said that some were ready to get guns and return to the scene of the downtown riot.

Segregationist leaders told newsmen afterward that counter-demonstrations would continue as long as the Negro demonstrated.

Shokan Resident Lt. Governor at Legion Girls State

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — The Federalist Party dominated mock state elections at the annual Empire Girls State, electing a governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general.

The 300 high school girls attending elected Thursday Rachel Tessier of Glens Falls governor; Susan Witko of Shokan, lieutenant governor; and Nonna Noto of Pearl River, attorney general.

The nationalists elected Nancy Broderick of Middleport, comptroller.

Option Taken on Mountain For Rosendale Ski Project

It was announced today that Rune Karlson and William P. Curran have signed an option to purchase the 117½ acre tract of land in the Village of Rosendale, known as Joppenbergh Mountain, the location of the Telemark Ski Jump, where championships ski jumping tournaments were held for 1963 through 1962, but which were discontinued because of a gas rationing during World War II.

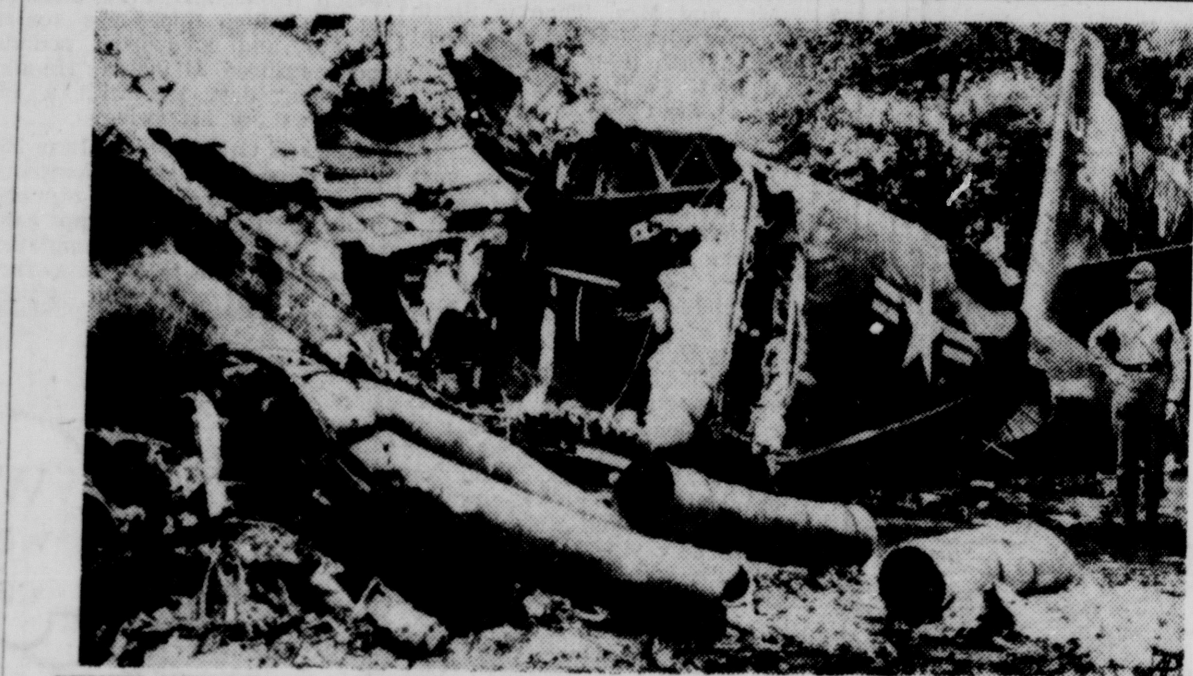

The signing of the option to purchase for a reported $20,000 is the first financial and legal step, along the road that will lead to the operation of the 60 meter championship Telemark Ski Jump, which will be operated by the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc., under sanctions from the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association, and in cooperation with the Metropolitan Ski Jumping Committee.

Karlson, a councilman of the Town of Rosendale, and Curran, Rosendale attorney and legal step, along the road that will lead to the operation of the 60 meter championship Telemark Ski Jump, have called a meeting of any interested persons to attend, Monday at 8 p. m. at the village firehouse, Main Street, Rosendale. At this public meeting, a committee from the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc. will explain to all in attendance, a tentative plan for the purchase of the mountain by offering equal shares of stock in a corporation which will take title to the mountain and tract of land and ski jump location. The option to purchase the mountain at $20,000 must be exercised within 60 days, and it is reported by the committee that time is of the essence.

In an interview today, Kenneth A. Tokie, a former jumper, member of the famous Tokie ski jumping family, and vice president of the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club, reported that a definite schedule has been set up in re-establishing the jump. Immediately upon obtaining the financing, title to the land will be taken, and construction will commence by voluntary labor as a community project. Sanctions will be applied for to the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association to hold a championship winter, during the forthcoming Metropolitan Ski Jumping Committee, upon the approval of the reconstructed Telemark jumping hill.

U.S. Toughens in Asia As China Power Slips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is drawing the line in Southeast Asia at a time when Red China's ability to fight a major modern war is in a tenuous state.

China's war-out air force is starved for spare parts and new planes to replace a jet fleet that is largely of Korean War vintage.

Her army, huge in manpower, is strapped for up-to-date tanks and short on artillery. There are serious scarcities of fuel for the planes, tanks and vehicles at China's depots. Red China's military deterioration set in about four years ago when the growing ideological

Urban Transit Has Permanent Right To Bus Franchise

A certificate of public convenience held by the Urban Transit Corp., operator of local bus service, has been made permanent, the Public Service Commission announced today.

The company has been operating under a temporary certificate since Nov. 4, 1963, when it began service as the successor to the Kingston City Transportation Corp., which was permitted to go out of business because of financial difficulties, after operating here some 34 years.

Seeks to Expand
Urban Transit also seeks to extend its service to the Town of Ulster on a permanent basis, and it is expected that the PSC is to fix a hearing date soon for airing that proposal.

In a report to the Commission on Urban Transit's permanent certificate of public convenience, Examiner Isadore E. Crade said that Mayor John J. Schwenk testified at a public hearing that "the service provided by Urban Transit, under temporary authority, has been very satisfactory, and that a continuation of said service would be in the best interests of the residents and the business establishments of Kingston."

Has Other Services
Based on evidence received Examiner Crade concludes that a grant of permanent certificate "is required by the public convenience and necessity."

Urban Transit is headed by Julius Lipton, who operates school buses and a service between Saugerties and Kingston.

Saugerties Father Is Viet Victim

A U. S. Army captain, whose wife and two children reside in Saugerties was killed Wednesday in the crash of a light observation plane in South Viet Nam.

An Associated Press report from Washington, D. C., identified the victim as Capt. Marlin E. McCahan, 28, with the 73rd Aviation Company. His widow is the former Patricia McCahan of 5 Washburn Terrace, Saugerties.

The Army reported the crash was not caused by enemy action. Capt. McCahan graduated from U. S. Military Academy at West Point on June 3, 1959 and Carson Long Military Academy, New Bloomfield, Pa., in 1954. He underwent advance training at Fort Rucker, Ala., and at that time Mrs. McCahan and their two children, Melissa, 4 and Lisa, 3, made their home with Mrs. McCahan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCahan, both of Harrisburg, Pa.

Local funeral arrangements will be announced by Seamon Funeral Home, John and Lafayette Streets, Saugerties.

Both Goldwater, Scranton Lose Strength on Ist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's first ballot strength slipped by eight votes this week and Gov. William W. Scranton's dipped by seven, an Associated Press survey of Republican presidential nominating delegates showed today.

Goldwater's current total of 686 is 31 more than the 655 needed to win the GOP nomination on the first countdown at the San Francisco convention opening July 13 if those who are personally committed to him or say they favor him stick with those who are bound to him.

Scranton, Pennsylvania Governor who is the Arizona Senator's closest competitor, now has 131 first ballot votes, according to the AP survey.

Goldwater had been credited with 15 first ballot votes from the 58-vote Ohio delegation, but at a caucus earlier this week the delegates decided to support Gov. James A. Rhodes as a favorite son on the first ballot.

This surface loss of 15 votes for Goldwater was partially offset by a pickup of one in Florida and six in Tennessee. Under the Ohio decision, Scranton lost 10 delegates who said they favored him on the first ballot. But he added two in New Jersey and another in West Virginia, making a net loss of seven.

Bright Future Seen for Uptown, Businessmen Install Officers

A large turnout of members of the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association gathered Thursday night at Hoppey's Restaurant for the annual dinner and installation of officers.

During the evening, retiring president George Svirsky outlined the comprehensive and hard hitting uptown promotional campaign designed for the coming year. He promised members that many improvements have been built into it as the result of experience with last year's successful campaign. Svirsky asked for the co-operation of all segments of the uptown business community in underwriting the program, noting that a very small minority of the retail merchants who benefit from the promotion are perhaps not shouldering their fair share of the costs.

Officers, Directors
Svirsky introduced to the members the incoming officers for 1964-1965. Adrian Kaplan will serve as president; Donald Winans, first vice president; W. F. Firstenberg, second vice president; and Andrew McDermott, secretary and treasurer.

The new board of directors includes Joseph Brady, Francis Kolts, Stephan Nekos, Richard Whittington and Herbert Kleiske for a term of one year; H. Van Wyck Darrow, August Foerschler, Harold Kaye, George Schneider and Stanley Bunting, Raymond Garraghan, William Rosmond, Robert Schneller and George Svirsky for three years.

The speaker of the evening

Sam S. Pepper, a member of the uptown business community and a recent past president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, offered a rousing note of optimism in connection with the business future of the area. He pointed out that there is a continuously rising trend of business in the Wall Street district and that the faith of merchants along that thoroughfare is amply indicated by real estate transactions for expansion and the modernization of stores which takes place almost daily.

Pepper noted an emerging trend in the quality of business engaged in by Wall Street merchants, noting that they were becoming the sellers of higher quality merchandise and high-style goods. He said that while

Explosion Doubted Over Trio

Dulles Suggests Careful Handling

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Presidential fact-finder Allen Dulles says he doesn't see "any likely explosion" in this Deep South state over the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers.

U. S. sailors joined state and federal officers again today to comb this east-central Mississippi area for any clues to the trio, missing since last Sunday.

Sailors Join Search
President Johnson ordered the sailors from the nearby Meridian Naval Air Auxiliary Station to join the search late Thursday.

One hundred sailors teamed with FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen to wallow knee-deep in mud through snake-infested swamps. Another 100 sailors were on standby duty at their base.

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 21, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, were last seen Sunday night when released from jail here after paying a speeding fine.

The only clue to their mysterious disappearance was the finding Tuesday of their burned-out station wagon 17 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was expected to brief President Johnson today on his mission to Mississippi. Dulles returned late Thursday night to Washington after two days in this state.

"I don't see any likely explosion," Dulles told an impromptu airport news conference in Washington.

He hastened to add: "The situation requires careful handling."

Search in Good Hands
Dulles, who did not come to Philadelphia, said the search for Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney "is in good competent hands."

Before leaving the state he met at Jackson for 90 minutes with state civil rights leaders and again conferred with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Two of the civil rights leaders who met with Dulles later asked for a personal meeting with President Johnson to discuss the racial situation in this state.

"Negroes now feel a kind of

Chains Self to FBI Door As CORE Demonstrates Here

A demonstration Thursday at Central Post Office as part of a nationwide protest against reported abuses of civil rights in Mississippi, included one at the FBI office there, in which a member of CORE, chained himself to an office doorknob.

The chaining was by Joseph Van Dyke, 22, son of Sixth Ward Alderman Leonard Van Dyke, of 18 Mill Street, and a member of the Ulster County Chapter of CORE.

March With Signs
Seven CORE demonstrators marched in a line outside the building carrying signs and Van Dyke was joined inside by Lenzie Mills, 18, of 79 Broadway, another CORE member, who sat in front of the FBI office, and remained there with Van Dyke for five and a half hours during which they sang "freedom songs," and explained why they were there.

Picketing continued outside from noon until 5:30 p. m., and a torchlight demonstration was held at night. Picketing was due to resume at noon today.

VanDyke said he refused to leave the federal building until

Diplomacy For Talks Rebuffed

President Fearful Of Open Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balked in efforts to set up direct talks between Greece and Turkey, the Johnson administration today turned to the United Nations for an easing of the explosive Cyprus crisis.

Sends Ball to N.Y.
After four days of apparently unsuccessful personal diplomacy, President Johnson dispatched Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, his Cyprus trouble shooter, to New York to report to U.N. officials on the results of his talks with Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu and Greek Prime Minister George Papandreu.

Fearful of open warfare between the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, Johnson tried to convince Inonu and Papandreu they should open direct diplomatic negotiations on a Cyprus settlement.

The Greek Cypriots outnumber the Turkish minority on Cyprus almost 5 to 1, and Greece advocates self-determination for the eastern Mediterranean island. Turkey firmly rejects Enosis—union of Cyprus with Greece.

Must Make Concessions
Johnson told both men their countries would have to make concessions, but argued this is in the interest of preventing a war between NATO allies and blocking a new Communist thrust into the area. The Soviet Union reportedly promised heavy arms aid to the Greek Cypriot government.

After seeing Johnson Monday and Tuesday, Inonu reportedly left with the understanding that he would go along with negotiations if they proved feasible. Papandreu saw the President Wednesday and again Thursday and turned down his appeal.

To Report to Thant
Now Ball plans to talk with Papandreu and Inonu in New York as well as report to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and to the U.N. Cyprus mediator, Ambassador Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland. He is prepared to promise strong U.S. support for a more intensive campaign by Tuomioja to get the Athens and Ankara governments moving toward some direct attack on their dangerous differences.

After rebuffing Johnson's appeal, Papandreu told reporters at Blair House, the President's guest house: "I do not think the views held on each side are mature enough for such a meeting. This is my attitude on all levels (of negotiation)."

Elite Police Squad Disbanded

11 Choose Dismissal, Balk About Collusion

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten city policemen, including a lieutenant in the department's elite investigating squad, have chosen dismissal rather than answer grand jury questions about police collusion with gamblers.

Shortly after the department disclosed the dismissals Thursday in the wake of an undercover, three-year probe, the 48-member investigating squad was disbanded and its members reassigned.

Lost Effectiveness
Police officials said the squad members had "lost their effectiveness."

The squad is composed of highly trained plainclothesmen who rely to a great extent on their anonymity, which the grand jury investigation might have destroyed.

The squad handled such specialized chores as probes of gambling, vice and even reports of corruption within the department.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said the inquiry was touched off by reports that some police had conspired with gamblers to accept bribes in exchange for overlooking gambling operations.

"We have been investigating these allegations in full cooperation with the district attorney's office for the last three years," Arm said.

Kept Wraps on Probe
Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said his office kept the probe under wraps because "you appreciate that we have to conduct an investigation without fanfare."

Robert Errichetti, a civilian, also refused to waive immunity

Seven Lose Lives In Okla. Crash, Eighth Critical

Children Victims
Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred two miles west of Boswell on U.S. 70, in the Lake Texoma area.

Dead on arrival at a Durant, Okla., hospital were C. R. Brackett Jr., driver of one car, and his passengers, Glenn Russell and F. M. Mark. McMennamy; and Mabel B. Newton, 30 driver of the second car; her husband Raymond A. Newton, 31, and their two daughters, aged 11 and 5.

Driver Apparently Dozed
The Newtons were from Russellville, Ga.

In critical condition was a woman passenger with the Newtons, Vassie T. Johnson, 20.

Officers said Mrs. Newton apparently dozed at the wheel and swung across the highway dividing line into the path of the Brackett car.

Scranton Flays Both Johnson, GOP On Automation; Proposes 5 Points

DETROIT (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton hit today at what he termed failure of President Johnson's administration and "ostriches" within his own Republican party to cope with problems of automation.

"The underlying philosophy of the Johnson administration boils down basically to this: Delay automation as long as possible, harassing industry," Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery in this industrial city only hours before Johnson would appear here for an evening address at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Turning on the GOP, Scranton, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, declared:

"I must tell you that I think no more highly of the response of the ostriches in our own party. Their response appears to be: Bury your head in the sand, until this and all other problems somehow go away."

Though Scranton did not mention Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, in the light of recent statements by Scranton his remarks appeared aimed at the Arizona senator. Goldwater presently holds a big edge in delegate strength for the nomination.

Scranton is campaigning in Michigan with hopes he could put some 45 Michigan delegates on ice for second-ballot support at next month's San Francisco convention.

Scranton proposed five points to meet the problem of automation "and to translate its benefit into a better, happier, more productive future for all of our people."

His proposals: Remove restrictions on automation so that the nation can "maintain our competitive position in world trade" by turning out "all the goods that our economy can produce."

Encourage labor and management to "accept their full share of the responsibility for solving the short-range problems (of automation) that will be created."

"Launch a massive program of job retraining."

Give education to "meet the needs of the new economy and the new society" and provide more funds through "altered" federal tax disbursements.

Establish a state and national clearing house "to match available workers with available jobs."

Though three Michigan delegates were counted to Goldwater, the rest of the 48-member delegation are following the favor-to-son lead of Gov. George W. Romney to the first ballot.

Scranton told a news conference Thursday night indications were in Michigan "that we're in a very favorable position."

The schedule for Scranton's Michigan visit included a swing to Detroit to address the Detroit Press Club, then a return to Lansing for an evening meeting with Michigan delegates. The governor planned to leave Lansing at 9:20 p.m. for Harrisburg.

The Pennsylvania governor competed for public attention in Michigan with the man he would face this November if Scranton is the GOP nominee—President Johnson. The President is to address a Democratic $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Detroit tonight.

Scranton came to Lansing on Thursday after delegate-hunting sorties in Miami, Fla., and Cleveland, Ohio. In both states only small proportions of the delegations turned out.

However, the governor con-

Police Feel Civilian Groups Confuse Hoodlum Problem

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK
NEW YORK (AP)—Auxiliary police perform vital services in many cities, but a growing civilian patrol movement is causing police concern here.

"We feel they are complicating rather than simplifying the problem," a Police Department spokesman said. "We can't let amateurs take over police work."

A Jewish group began a car patrol plan recently in Brooklyn in an effort to curb a rising number of attacks by hoodlums. The wife of a rabbi had been dragged from her home and raped.

The group's members now include both whites and Negroes and a number of religions are represented. Radio cars patrol the Crown Heights section from dusk to dawn.

Most large cities have civilian auxiliary police units, but operating under regular police jurisdiction.

Regular police generally train the units, uniforms of both usually are similar. In some cases, the auxiliary members are armed. Often they work without pay.

Much of their work is devoted to parade, park, traffic and similar assignments that keep them away from violence.

The Brooklyn group, called the Community Safety Patrol, operates independently and has resisted police efforts to have it join the police auxiliary.

When trouble develops, police are notified.

"There is no action we can take against them because they are not violating the law," the police spokesman said.

Los Angeles has two reserve county sheriff's office.

About half of the sheriff's reservists pair with regular officers in patrol cars, work in jails, and perform jobs similar to those of full-time deputies. Others serve on mountain rescue teams and in the sheriff's mounted posse.

They come from various walks of life and join for different reasons.

In New York, author Max Wyllie patrols in Central Park two nights a week as part of the city's auxiliary police force.

His 21-year-old daughter, Janice, and her roommate, Emily Hoffer, were slain in their East Side apartment last year and Wyllie says he is determined to do everything possible to prevent similar tragedies.

New York has an auxiliary force of 3,816 persons, but they have no more authority than civilians. The Central Park precinct is the only one in which they normally are sent out on police units, a city police group of 110 and 1,120 men with the patrol duty.

Portland, Ore., has nearly 500 auxiliary policemen to help its 650 regular officers. A bad windstorm hit the city on Columbus Day in 1962 and within an hour 150 auxiliary workers were on duty.

"We'd be hard put to get along without them," said Lt. Thomas W. Simmons, a regular policeman assigned to the group as liaison officer.

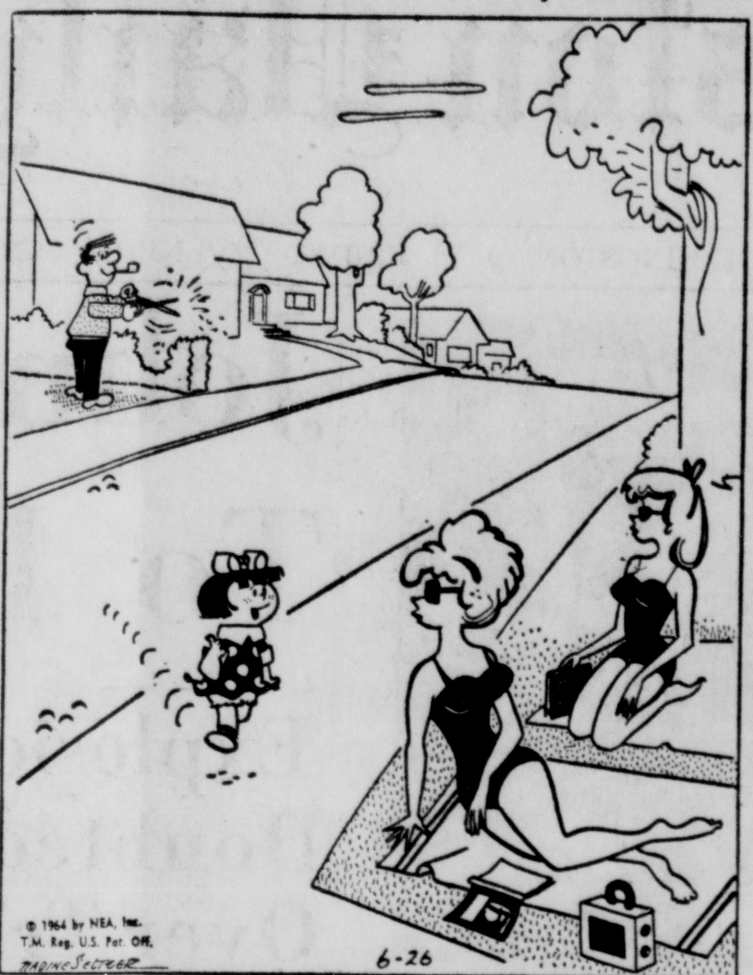

In Philadelphia, auxiliaries patrol the streets on weekends, help in parades, conventions and do traffic and other work. Police credit them with helping to cut down on robberies and muggings.

St. Louis, Mo., tried the plan seven years ago, but said it didn't meet the department's needs.

Jersey City disbanded its force several years ago after members lost interest.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bross, Park Avenue, New York City, were callers in the village center Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richard and son, Paul, came up from the city last weekend to open their village center place for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of downtown Kingston spent Sunday with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olsen and four sons at the Olsen home on Reservoir Road. Mrs. Olsen is the former Eileen Smith.

Leona Foster was a mid-week caller at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Wilbur Johnson, Arkville.

Three busloads of pupils from Bennett School, Boiceville, and their chaperones, 120 in all, went on a Saturday trip to the World's Fair.

Mrs. Richard Addicks, West Palm Beach, arrived here Sunday to spend a few weeks with her son, Hoyt Addicks, and family. Mrs. Addicks, who was here last summer, was brought up at Glasco and she also lived at Margaretville several years.

Dorothy Feml, Haines Falls, was a Shokan caller Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin Gulnack is visiting relatives in Southern California where she has three married children.

Mrs. Charles Cooper, Woodstock summer resident, called on friends in the village center Wednesday.

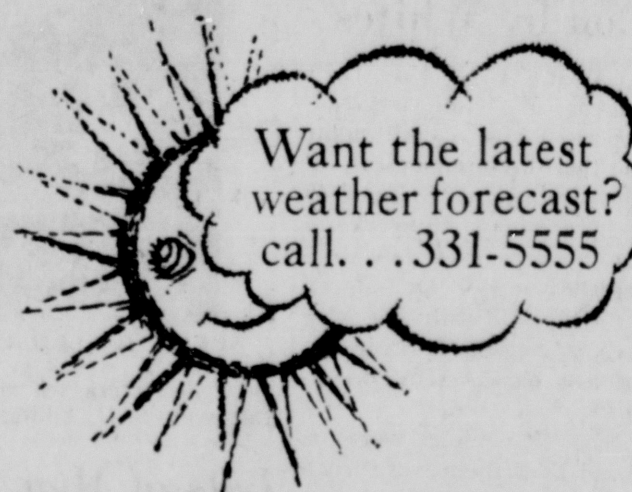

Bobby Mallory, 12, hooked a 15-inch trout while fishing through a crack in the flooring of Walker's Bridge at East Jewett. The boy called his Uncle

Maurice for help and the two managed to get the line above the bridge and landed the big fish.

Another good piscatorial yarn originating in the Mountain Top sector of neighboring Greene County has to do with Dan Lockwood, Hunter, who reported on a Saturday caught a 16-inch trout and also another big one which tipped the scales at four and a quarter pounds and measured 24 inches. He did well next day, too, with a 15-inch trout on his string.

News of Other Days: June 26, 1911—McArthur Bros. Company were moving their steam stovels, engines, tracks and dump cars from the recently completed Woodstock dike to the site, farther east of the West Hurley dike. The Woodstock sector, constructed of packed earthen embankment and concrete core wall, is the first of the Ashokan Reservoir barriers to be built by the contractors... June, 1939—Mrs. Frank Sharwell, Norfolk, Va., is again at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell... Herbert A. Dibbell, local B.W.S. engineer and collector of fine building tools, has in his collection a Sheffield hand-saw which was used by his grandfather, George Dibbell, Shokan Civil War veteran and retired millwright. The saw also used by a great grandfather over a century ago before tools of the kind were made in this country. NEW YORK (AP)—New construction is falling below its year-ago pace. The slip from the like period in 1963 could be the first signal of a leveling off in the long boom in this essential segment of the economy.

Or, say construction experts, it could be only a minor bobble.

They note that despite the slip in May, the total of construction projects started so far this year still is leading 1963 figures.

The building boom has been one of the chief factors in the 40-month advance of the general economy.

April had seen a dip from the March figures for construction contracts awarded. But these forerunners of building activity to come still held above the April 1963 figures.

Then May dipped 4 per cent below the year ago total. This was the first year-to-year decline in new construction reported since early in 1963.

The awards as collected by F. W. Dodge Co., a division of McGraw-Hill Inc., show that in May contracts for future construction came to $4.6 billion, by no means a trivial addition to economic growth. And they brought the total for the first five months of the year to $19.6 billion, a pleasant 9 per cent above the like period in 1963.

The only sour note was that the May figures, in all categories, dipped below the year ago awards. Nonresidential building was off by 6 per cent; residential awards by 1 per cent; and nonbuilding construction, such as highways, by 8 per cent.

George A. Christie, economist for F. W. Dodge, prefers to call the May figures a sign that new construction demand has stabilized.

Toll-Free Service Approved by PSC

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A plan to establish toll-free service between the telephone exchanges in Utica, Barneveld and Remsen had the approval today of the Public Service Commission.

For customers in the Remsen exchange, the new service will mean a higher rate. No change is planned in the rates in the other exchanges.

In another action, the commission authorized the Orange County Telephone Co. to enlarge its base-rate area at Middletown and revise rates beyond the new base. The change will result in an annual saving of $18,048 to 3,147 customers outside the city.

General Telephone will boost the rates for its customers in Remsen by $6,900 a year to offset an expected drop in toll charges. New York Telephone estimates it will lose $8,800 a year in tolls in Utica and Barneveld the PSC said.

On Group at New Paltz First Contingent of CYO Campers Arrive in Area

The first of about 4,000 youngsters to spend at least two weeks this summer at Catholic Youth Organization Camps — one in New Paltz—arrived today at the Upstate sites, according to the Associated Press.

About 400 boys aged 7 to 14 boarded nine buses for the trip to either the CYO boys' camp in Putnam Valley or Camp Hayes, near Port Jervis.

The interracial camps have accommodated 28,000 children since they were established by Francis Cardinal Spellman in 1942.

About 300 girls will leave by bus Friday for the CYO girls' camp in Port Jervis and Camp Dineen in New Paltz.

Rockefeller Has Delegate Parley Scheduled July 12

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —Gov. Rockefeller chairman of the New York delegation to the Republican National Convention, has scheduled the next meeting of the group for July 12, on the eve of the convention, in San Francisco.

Most of the 92 delegates are expected to back Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the GOP presidential nomination.

The only other meeting of the delegates was held here June 11. At that time, the delegation adopted a resolution backing Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination. A majority of the delegates pledged to support him until he was nominated or until he released them.

On June 15, Rockefeller withdrew as a candidate and urged the nomination of Scranton. But he has not yet released the New York delegation.

Rockefeller spokesman says they expect to be able to turn over to Scranton at least 85 votes in the New York delegation.

Civil Service Exams

New examinations have been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for Astronomers, Food Service Supervisors, and Medical Record Librarians.

The astronomer examination is given for employment in the Navy's Research, Test and Development laboratories located in the Potomac River area adjacent to Washington, D. C., Maryland, and Virginia. Some positions in other federal agencies in Washington and other parts of the U. S. may also be filled. Applications should be sent to the Board of Examiners for Scientific and Technical Personnel of the Potomac River Naval Command, Building 72, Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. 20390. Full information is contained in Announcement No. 330-B.

Experienced food service supervisors are needed for duty in federal penal and correctional institutions located throughout the U. S. Salaries range from $2.72 to $3.84 an hour. Interested persons should ask for Announcement SL-14-3(64) and should send applications to the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Medical record librarians, paying $4,690 to $9,980 a year, are needed for work in hospitals, clinics, and other medical care and research facilities operated throughout the U. S. by the Veterans Administration, U. S. Public Health Service, Dept. of Defense and other agencies. The education and experience requirements are described in Announcement 331-B. Applicants should file with the Central Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C. 20420. Announcements and applications forms may be obtained from Leo Darwak, Examiner in charge at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. 20415.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bruce Brown, the man who produced "Slippery When Wet," "Barefoot Adventure" and "Waterlogged," presented the world premiere of his latest film "The Endless Summer" this week.

Haven't heard of Bruce Brown or any of those films? You must be an earthbound square, man. Any hotdogger (surfing bug) knows that Bruce Brown is to surfing what John Ford is to Westerns, what Michaelangelo was to ceiling painters.

"The Endless Summer" has sold out four nights this week at the Encore Theater where audiences of tanned, taffy-haired young people and a few elderly types have gasped and cheered at surfers skidding down Matterhorn-like waves on foam-and-fibre glass boards. It is the sixth annual film of Brown, who went around the world to shoot two young surfers in Senegal, Ghana and other places that had never seen a surfboard.

Brown, 26, and blond, has been riding the crest of the surfing craze that has become a religion for thousands of California teen-agers. Through surfing music and magazines, the fad has spread to other parts of the country.

Brown operates his one-man film industry from his office at Dana Point, 50 miles south, in the heart of the high-wave district. He is his own cameraman and cutter and narrates the action in 100-150 one-night stands per year.

He makes frequent trips to Australia, which is the second most enthusiastic surfing country. Others are France, South Africa, New Zealand and Peru. His films also are shown with a recorded narration, and each can gross as high as $200,000.

Overbidding No Crime in Bridge

It was almost 30 years ago that Louise Wainwright of New York became the first woman to win the Resinger trophy for the Eastern Team of Four championship. In those days Louise was an underbidder, but time changes many things and in a recent rubber game at the Regency Club in New York, she overbid to a rather doubtful game contract.

It wasn't too much of an overbid, but the wrong dummy hit the table and it almost required a good look at all the adverse cards for Mrs. Wainwright to make the hand.

She ruffed the opening heart lead and led the jack of clubs. East won with the king and shifted to a low trump. Louise rose with the ace, and promptly took a diamond finesse.

When this worked, business looked pretty good. The last club was led from dummy. East rose with the ace and led another trump. Louise refused a finesse. She could afford to lose a trick to the queen of trumps, but she

THE BIG INTEREST BITE

Of those normal charges against family income, one expects to find food, clothing and shelter taking a lion's share. In recent years, however, a new and somewhat disturbing factor has come to claim a large slice of the household budget.

This is interest paid on borrowed money. The Wall Street Journal reports that, on the average, 20 per cent of an American family's income goes to servicing debt. This causes justifiable concern among the nation's bankers and economists.

Let those who are proud that they owe money to no one dispute the figure, it should be reported that there is an odd imbalance to the way this debt is owed. Fifty per cent of the families have all the installment debt. Presumably, then, among this group more than 20 per cent of the family budget is tied up in consumer financing. The heavy burden of debt takes many forms: mortgage loans, chattel mortgages and just plain personal notes. It is an unusual expansion in the first category which causes major concern at this time.

Lending officers are worried because more and more people tend to use the open-end mortgage on their home for things unrelated to housing. It has become too easy, in their view, to load up the old homestead with mortgage debt for a trip, say, to Europe or to buy a fancy boat.

Whatever form it may take, the wisdom of borrowing money to "enhance" the family's standard of living may always arouse controversy. It is difficult to see how the economy could stay at its present peak without some consumer debt. The other side of that coin is the false sense of security borrowed money may sometimes give. Apparently half of America's families believe one way, while half believe the other.

NEXT: NERVE BANKS

One of the great continued stories of medical progress is that having to do with the use of parts from one body, living or dead, to benefit another. Blood transfusions are commonplace. There are eye banks now, and bone banks. Now and then one reads of a successful organ transplant.

An interesting new chapter in this continued story has just been recorded by Dr. Leonard Marmor, an orthopedic surgeon connected with the University of California at Los Angeles. He has successfully replaced a three-inch section of the nerve in a woman's wrist. The length of nerve, taken from a newly dead person and irradiated to reduce the danger of inflammation, provided a kind of scaffolding over which the patient's own nerve regenerated to give her hand sensation again.

This and similar cases open up striking possibilities. Nerve tissue banks probably will be established, and there will be hope in many hitherto hopeless cases of nerve damage. The science fiction dream of interchangeable parts for human bodies seems not so far short of realization, after all.

TAKE COURTESY ALONG

Courtesy and consideration — they're wonderful! They're especially wonderful in public places where thoughtlessness and selfish rudeness can be not only annoying but also downright dangerous.

Think how pleasant it would be during the summer vacation season, for instance, if all of us picked up after ourselves in the picnic areas, in the parks.

Think how much nicer the highways and adjoining ground would look if we didn't throw wrappers and cans and bottles and all manner of things out the car windows to litter the roads and landscapes.

Think how many lives would be saved on those same highways if we drove with courtesy and consideration for those who share the road with us and whose lives literally depend on the way we drive.

A basic resolution for every vacationer might well be to act courteously, thought-

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
GOLDWATER'S IVY LEAGUE MANAGER

If Senator Barry Goldwater gets the nomination at San Francisco, a man who has been called the "least-experienced and most-unknown Presidential manager" in recent history will suddenly loom on the horizon as "the man who did it" for Barry. His name is Denison Kitchel, and he hails from the city of Phoenix in Goldwater's home state, which, of course, makes him the leading member of what has been called the "Arizona Mafia."

The odd thing about Mr. Kitchel, however, is that, like Teddy Roosevelt, he is a Westerner chiefly by adoption. He is, as a matter of fact, a product of the Northeast, a St. Paul school (New Hampshire) boy who became a graduate of two Ivy League universities (B.A., Yale, 1930; a Harvard law degree in 1933), a native of Bronxville (which was once the home of Jack Kennedy), and the son of a senior partner in the eminent Wall Street law firm of Cadwallader, Wickersham and Taft. In between his graduation from Yale and his journeying to Cambridge to study law at the institution dominated by Professor Felix Frankfurter, Mr. Kitchel spent a year at the School for International Studies at Geneva in Switzerland. His ambition at the time was to become an expert on international law.

So much for the early background of the man who has presided over the Goldwater political fortunes ever since last January. What burns Mr. Kitchel up is the propaganda that, as head of the "Arizona Mafia," he is confidently expected to lead a bunch of whooping cowboy isolationists into the White House if Goldwater should make it all the way.

This propaganda has bothered this columnist, too. Ever since I read Goldwater's long statement of his foreign policy position in Life magazine last February, I have been convinced that Goldwater should, in all logic, be Western Europe's candidate for the Presidency. He is so pronouncedly pro-NATO that he even commended himself to Clarence Streit, the prophet of "Union Now" between the U. S. and the West European democracies. Mr. Streit has printed Goldwater's statements in his magazine, Freedom and Union. But nobody has succeeded in explaining all this to European correspondents in the U. S. Maybe Goldwater will have to make a speech in Strasbourg or Paris to prove his point.

To Mr. Kitchel, everything about Goldwater's foreign policy seems to have got itself twisted 180 degrees around in the public mind. Barry, he says, is the east isolationist candidate now running. "Here we have Goldwater," so Mr. Kitchel observes, "wanting desperately to strengthen the bonds of NATO, he is for maintaining our military supremacy so that we will be respected to the point where we shall never have to fight. He wants an overall policy that will make use of economic strength and the resources of psychological warfare. The LBJ foreign policy, on the other hand, is a no-plan policy — or, as it has been called, the 120-planes foreign policy. 120 being the number of members in the UN. Under Johnson we don't even fire and fall back, we just fall back. This is real isolationism. If we let them take Latin America, we'll really be isolated. Yet Goldwater, who is against this retreat, is called the isolationist. Things couldn't be more twisted."

Mr. Kitchel is convinced that Republican fighting is what has caused the public, erroneously, as he thinks, to get a picture of Goldwater as a man who would be quick on the trigger in foreign affairs. "They twisted our position in New Hampshire," he says. "The voters in New Hampshire didn't want Rocky, and when Goldwater was projected as a rock-the-boat type the Lodge people simply moved into the vacuum. We've got to get it across that Goldwater is a responsible, prudent individual — for he is just that."

The strange thing about it, as this columnist insists upon quite unpropagandistically, is that all the Republican candidates, from Rockefeller and Lodge to Goldwater, are for doing what it takes to win in Southeast Asia. They would all risk extending the war to the north in order to stop the Red infiltration of South Vietnam. Yet Rockefeller, Lodge and Scrantom have been willing to let Goldwater seem a warmonger for thinking as they do.

It's campaign stuff, of course. And those of us who call attention to the sincerity involved in it are called propagandists. Oh, well, that's the way the ball bounces. It will all come out in the wash when the Republican platform produces a foreign policy plank acceptable to all the candidates. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Antibiotics Keep Check
On Spread of Skin Infection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the cure for impetigo?
A—Impetigo is a skin infection that is common in children and is highly contagious because the pus gets on the hands, clothing, bed sheets, floors and furniture. This disease was very common before the advent of antibiotics. Staphylococcus aureus is still seen when the causative organism has become resistant to penicillin. A newer antibiotic, erythromycin, has proved very effective. It works better when given internally than when used in an ointment. When impetigo is present in a household, it is essential that all members of the family use an antiseptic soap containing hexachlorophene.

Q—What is the cause and cure of leukoplakia?
How dangerous is it?

A—Leukoplakia is a condition in which a white patch develops on the mucous surface of the mouth. More rarely it may occur on other mucous surfaces. The most frequent cause is heavy smoking. The danger lies in the fact that it is often a forerunner of cancer. Its true nature should be determined by microscopic examination of a small piece of the affected tissue. If the condition is leukoplakia and not lichen planus, which may closely resemble it, surgical removal is advised as a cancer preventive measure.

Q—This summer we will be living in a furnished apartment with cooking utensils and dishes supplied. What should I use in the dishwasher to disinfect these dishes?

A—The best disinfectant is heat. Boiling for two or three minutes will do the trick.

Q—In a recent column you told about the benefits derived from the use of low molecular dextran (LMD). My doctor said he was unable to get it at the drug store. Is it commercially available?

A—It is manufactured by Pharmacia Laboratories of New York and also I believe by the Pharma Chemical Corporation of Bethlehem, Pa.

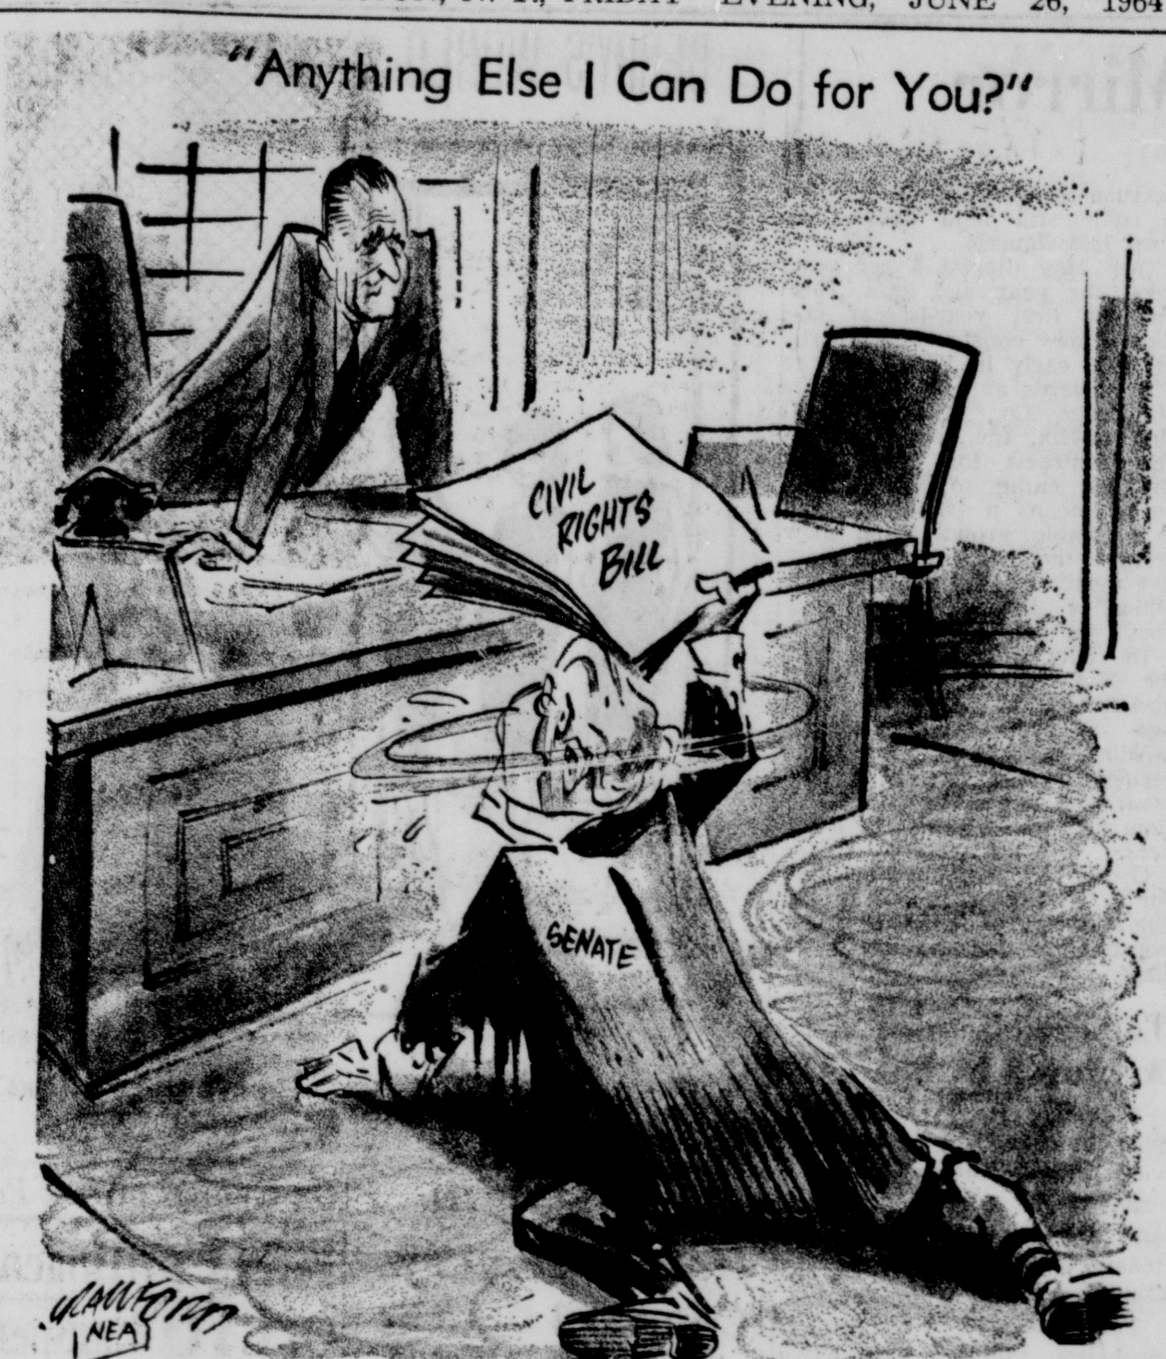

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It hasn't been publicly announced, but Air Force aerospace scientists have discovered that by means of electrodes placed on the skull it is possible to control switches by thought processes.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists are now planning for the day when an astronaut in a space vehicle will use his mind to control his ship without using his hands or feet. As one scientist puts it: "The pilot will observe his target and his eye movements will be translated into guidance signals."

It is only one step further to conceive of an airplane pilot or an automobile driver steering his vehicle by eye movements or by "thoughts."

The advantages would be great. If a man could control his space ship, his airplane or his automobile by eye control, for example, he could react four times as fast as he can when using his arms or legs for steering or braking.

Suppose it now takes pilot or driver two-tenths of a second to react manually and put on his brakes. By eye control he'd be able to brake in five-hundredths of a second.

IT WILL BE A LONG TIME

of course, before such thought or eye control is practical. But already there is concrete evidence that it will be feasible.

Medical scientists have constructed an artificial arm which ties into the nerves of the upper arm. "From these neural signals," says a NASA scientist, "the wearer can 'will' the mechanical arm, powered by small motors, to move—just as he does when he wills his own arm to move."

The air is soft, the night breeze fingers window screens like a burglar in sneakers. It is barely strong enough to make the red maple leaves fall. In the dark, the first young grapes hang pale on green vines. A fat puppy pants and whines because he cannot reconcile his first summer to his first fur coat.

In the distance, lightning stutters in the sky and the night breeze pauses to catch its breath. Two cautious bluejays swoop out of an azalea bush and set up light housekeeping in the eaves of a barn. They are wrong; the storm does not come. It is a dress rehearsal, with percussion instruments, a dry run.

The sun, slave of summer, comes up early. It sticks its hot tongue over the edge of the cool blue sea, splashes the white clouds with pink and peach and pastel green and repaints the landscape. In the pale dawn, a gray squirrel pauses halfway up a tree trunk, the tail curled into a question mark.

A sailboat rides quietly at anchor, looking at itself in the lake. A speckled trout leaps for joy, and leaves a dimple in the water. In a cellar, a female spider finishes her mating web, and tests the springs. A cat, dozing on a back porch, opens a yellow eye to the sun and shuts it tight. Along a fence, primroses lift their heads to shake the dew. A little girl, sleeping in cotton pants, looks around the room and whimpers for attention.

A man parks at a curb, throws his golf bag into the seat, and taps his horn. A stout woman in a skyscraper mops the last floor, blows the hair out of her eyes, and prepares to go home. Turning Point in Viet Nam Seen With Taylor on Hand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be Ambassador to Viet Nam means that the United States wishes to serve notice on all concerned that the war in Southeast Asia has to be won even if it takes more and more American military forces on land, sea and in the air.

There comes a time in nearly every world crisis when firmness and resoluteness must be asserted, though there is always a risk that the other side may miscalculate and compel an intensive war to be fought.

The United States has been patient for many years now about the Southeast Asia situation. If the Red Chinese take over Southeast Asia, they will become a much more threatening factor in the entire Western Pacific, which includes not only Formosa but the Philippines and Japan. It also could mean a disruption of the situation in the whole of Asia, particularly in India and Malaysia.

The simple truth is that the Washington authorities are not going to let the Communists take over in Southeast Asia. The United States now is deeply in earnest, and it may be expected that the leaders of both political parties will back up the government.

The American viewpoint has recently been expressed privately by high officials in many conferences with newsmen. Deep disappointment has been voiced that our European allies who are also members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization have not been as co-operative as they could be in handling problems in the Far East.

The French, for example, say they don't want to see Southeast Asia communized, but at the same time they keep opposing military solutions, thus giving the impression to Moscow and Peking that the allies are not going to put up a fight against continued aggression.

There has been too much talk in the past few months of appeasing Red China with promises of enlarged trade as well as diplomatic recognition or membership in the United Nations. Apparently Peking got the idea that the United States was willing to pay almost any price for peace. But a distinct turn in the whole situation occurred recently when President Johnson decided that he was tired of vacillating policies. He is not interested in trying to achieve a status quo in which the Communists would retain the benefit of their aggressions in Southeast Asia.

All that the American government wants is that the countries in Southeast Asia shall become truly independent and not be controlled from the outside by designing governments interested only in provoking more and more conflicts, particularly revisionism, whether in Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia or Thailand, in all of which infiltration by the Red Chinese has been steadily increasing.

It might be wondered why the United Nations doesn't undertake this job. But, unfortunately, the Communists have so thoroughly infiltrated the United Nations that they are today able to block action in the Security Council. If a war of major proportions arises, however, it is difficult to see how the United Nations can remain aloof. Ultimately, as happened in Korea, the United Nations will have to join with the United States in adopting military measures to repel aggression.

Gen. Taylor, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has been spending a good deal of his time studying the military problem in Southeast Asia. He knows the background of it thoroughly and, having himself served in Korea, he is familiar with the problems of land warfare in the Asian world. It isn't customary for a military man of such prominence suddenly to be chosen as ambassador. Theoretically, an ambassador reports only to the Secretary of State, but in this case, Gen. Taylor sees eye to eye with both Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara on all phases of the problem.

Gen. Taylor, therefore, with his experience on the military side and with a foreknowledge of just how far the United States government will go to achieve its point, is virtually taking command of the whole situation. The President and his Cabinet here will be guided largely by what Gen. Taylor reports and advises. The mere fact that a military man has been chosen for this post indicates that a turn has come and that the dilatory process of negotiation has been abandoned in favor of direct action.

The United States has apparently already determined that the risk of war has to be taken if the entire Western Pacific is not to be lost to the Red Chinese. (Copyright 1964, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Small waves scour the beaches. A glass of beer percolates on a mahogany bar. On a hotel porch, an old man's hand reaches once more for his.

A frog plunks a bass string. An infant under netting sleeps fretfully, pouting like Winston Churchill. A tomato blushes on a window sill. Silently, a firefly wings over a hedge, his red blinker working. A mosquito and a moth walk around a lamp, insects afraid of the dark.

The air is soft, the night breeze fingers window screens like a burglar in sneakers. It is barely strong enough to make the red maple leaves fall. In the dark, the first young grapes hang pale on green vines. A fat puppy pants and whines because he cannot reconcile his first summer to his first fur coat.

In the distance, lightning stutters in the sky and the night breeze pauses to catch its breath. Two cautious bluejays swoop out of an azalea bush and set up light housekeeping in the eaves of a barn. They are wrong; the storm does not come. It is a dress rehearsal, with percussion instruments, a dry run.

The sun, slave of summer, comes up early. It sticks its hot tongue over the edge of the cool blue sea, splashes the white clouds with pink and peach and pastel green and repaints the landscape. In the pale dawn, a gray squirrel pauses halfway up a tree trunk, the tail curled into a question mark.

A sailboat rides quietly at anchor, looking at itself in the lake. A speckled trout leaps for joy, and leaves a dimple in the water. In a cellar, a female spider finishes her mating web, and tests the springs. A cat, dozing on a back porch, opens a yellow eye to the sun and shuts it tight. Along a fence, primroses lift their heads to shake the dew. A little girl, sleeping in cotton pants, looks around the room and whimpers for attention.

A man parks at a curb, throws his golf bag into the seat, and taps his horn. A stout woman in a skyscraper mops the last floor, blows the hair out of her eyes, and prepares to go home. There is a loud sigh from a bus, beginning a day's work. The sun is higher, more gold than red, and it traces its image in thin spangles across the rivers, lakes and seas.

The thermometer feels a lift

Gave Important Evidence at Nuernberg

One Nazi That Jews Honor For Efforts at Auschwitz

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A new youth center in the Ruhr bears the name of Kurt Gerstein, a lieutenant in the Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

Gerstein's cause is championed by a Jewish survivor of Nazi concentration camps and has been taken up by Jewish organizations.

"If there had been thousands more like Gerstein, there would have been no Auschwitz," says Issy Wygoda, 43, a Frankfurt fur dealer and onetime concentration camp inmate.

Gerstein died under mysterious conditions shortly after World War II, but he provided important evidence which was used at the Nuernberg war crimes trials. He risked his life to obtain much of it, Wygoda believes.

Incensed About No Pension

Wygoda is incensed because West German authorities have classified Gerstein as a Nazi offender and have denied his widow a pension.

In 1940 a sister-in-law was killed as a mental patient under the Nazi "mercy killing" program and Gerstein began checking on Nazi killings. He joined the SS to gain inside knowledge of Nazi crimes, Wygoda says.

Gerstein had studied some medicine and chemistry. The SS needed men with his training and he eventually headed a section in the "Hygiene Institute."

One of his jobs was to procure a cyanide gas used by extermination camps.

Gerstein tried to sabotage the operations in a limited way. Evidence shows he stopped one shipment of gas by marking it no good and ordering it buried.

But, according to Wygoda, his main effort was to alert the world outside Germany to concentration camp horrors.

A Lutheran, he got word to German Bishop Otto Dibelius of his church. Dibelius in turn informed Swedish clergymen.

He was allegedly turned away when he sought an audience with the Papal Nuncio in Berlin, and later wrote:

"Could one expect that an ordinary citizen can do something when even the vicar of Christ does not want to listen to me although tens of thousands are murdered."

Gerstein's visit inspired German author Rolf Hochhuth in writing his largely fictitious play "The Deputy."

In 1945 Gerstein surrendered to the Allies and gave the most detailed report on Nazi crimes ever to reach Allied hands. As proof he supplied bills for the cyanide gas.

The Allies could not be sure of Gerstein's anti-Nazi efforts and he was interned. He died July 25, 1945, in a Paris prison. Officially the cause was suicide, but there have been recurrent rumors that he was murdered to silence an accuser.

Appeal Rejected

In 1950, a German court ruled that Gerstein was a Nazi offender. His widow, Elfriede Gerstein, appealed but the appeal was rejected.

Wygoda heard of the Gerstein case just after he had successfully finished a 13-year struggle with authorities for recognition of his own German citizenship.

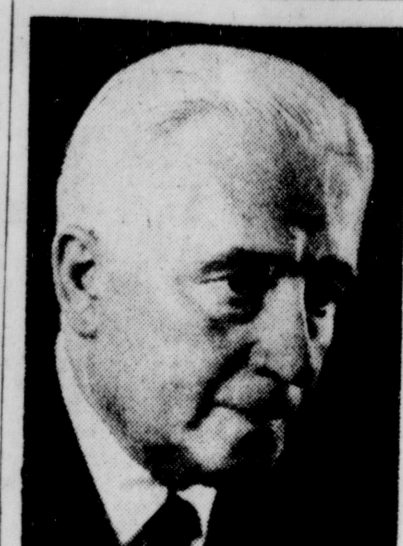

Struck by what he regarded as another case of postwar injustice, Wygoda got Mrs. Gerstein's permission to reopen her husband's case.

Jewish organizations in Germany and France have taken up the cause.

SEN. KENNETH B. KEATING

Senator to Tour Catskill Areas During Weekend

A weekend tour of Catskill Mountain areas and resorts is scheduled this weekend by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R.N.Y.).

The senator's office in New York City said he will take advantage of a rare break in his normally jammed schedule to visit a group of Catskill Mountain resorts.

The popular New York lawmaker has had numerous invitations to visit old friends throughout the Sullivan County vacationland and plans to respond to as many as possible Saturday night and Sunday. The senator expects to visit Grossingers, the Concord and at least half a dozen other famed resorts in the area.

One of his many stops will be at the Monticello Raceway where he will present a trophy to the winner of Saturday night's feature race.

Another highlight of his visit to this region will be his appearance at the opening ceremonies of Dairy Day on the portico of the Monticello Courthouse at 2 p. m. on Sunday. Following the Dairy Day festivities, Senator Keating will fly back to Washington, D. C. to resume his heavy schedule in the capital.

Leaflet Available On Tree Aphids

SYRACUSE — A free, four-page leaflet, "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids," is now available from the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Aphids, or plant lice as they are more commonly known, will attack all parts of all of the more common species of softwoods and hardwoods. By sucking the fluids from the leaves, bark, buds, and blossoms, these minute insects can cause serious damage such as defoliation, deformity, or death.

Aphids are prolific breeders and multiply quite readily, resulting in many generations and variations in one season. It is for this reason that members of the same species may vary greatly in color and in the choice of plant parts or species of plants on which they feed.

Even though these insects are difficult to see, their damage is quite apparent during periods when attacks are extensive. Signs of aphid attack are: crooking of needles and curling of leaves; discoloration or dropping of foliage; formation of galls on new growth; abnormal swelling of woody parts; dead areas of bark; or quantities of sticky honeydew on foliage, bark and ground vegetation.

Unless infestation is abnormally heavy, control of the aphid is relatively simple. A complete description of control methods is covered in "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids." It is also brought out that aphids actually do little permanent harm to healthy, vigorous trees. Their life cycle is so easily affected by even changes in the weather that the periods of destructiveness are often short.

To get a copy of the leaflet, "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids," write to the Extension Division, College of Forestry, Syracuse, 13210.

Severe aphid problems on forests or nurseries should be brought to the attention of the State Conservation Department's Forest Pest Control Bureau, or to the College of Forestry or College of Agriculture.

Serious aphid attacks on vegetable, floral and other agricultural crops should be brought to the attention of your county agent or the extension entomologist at the State University College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

This is but one of the many free services available to the public through the Extension Division of the College of Forestry.

Business Is Soaring... But

Seaway Facing Turning Point on Money Squeeze

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

OTTAWA (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, officially opened five years ago today by President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II, faces a key turning point within the next week.

Despite record business, the U.S. and Canadian agencies running the international waterway have fallen far behind schedule in repaying loans and interest on the Seaway's 450-million construction cost.

Recommendations Due

Recommendations to ease the financial squeeze are due by July 1.

They could affect rail and shipping interests on three fronts—the Great Lakes, the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico.

From a competitive standpoint, all three areas have stakes in pending proposals to help the Seaway pay its own way, especially on the question of toll charges.

As recently as March, the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of Canada was reported to press for increased toll charges. But its American counterpart, the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., opposed toll hikes. So did U.S. and Canadian shipping interests on the Great Lakes.

Competing interests argued that the delay in repaying construction money borrowed from government funds meant taxpayers were subsidizing the Seaway. They said toll should be high enough to make the Seaway self-supporting.

The two Seaway agencies have completed five-year financial reviews and are required to submit recommendations to their respective governments by July 1.

Will Suggest Overhaul

Informed sources here indicated the Canadian agency will not press for any changes in the current toll rates of 90 cents a ton for general cargo and 40 cents a ton for bulk cargo.

Instead the Canadian agency is expected to suggest a financial overhaul.

One alternative would be to extend the 50-year period for repaying the debt. Another calls for refinancing the loans at lower interest rates.

Seaway traffic has increased every year since 1960; last year cargoes totaled more than 30 million tons for the first time.

According to original forecasts on which the toll rates were based traffic was supposed to reach 30 million tons by 1968. Now officials believe the Seaway should start paying its own way by the early 1970s.

An increase in shipping tonnage this year has fanned a new surge of optimism. Traffic through Seaway locks has been more than 50 per cent higher than the comparable 1963 period.

Traver Sentencing Is Set For July 29 in Poughkeepsie

HCL Unchanged From May; Food, Housing Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and housing prices dropped in May, but most other consumer goods increased in price and living costs remained unchanged from the month before, the Labor Department said today.

The consumer price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics stood for the second straight month at 107.8.

The figure means it cost $10.78 in both April and May to buy typical consumer goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Lower meat and egg prices were the main factors in a two-tenths of one per cent drop in food costs.

Fruit and vegetable prices remained unchanged. Sugar dropped slightly, but was still up more than 6 per cent from a year ago, and coffee climbed another 2.3 per cent, to an over-the-year total increase of nearly 23 per cent.

The bureau ascribed both the sugar and coffee price developments to the world supply situation.

Blast Kills Vols, 2 Others; Frees Poisonous Snakes

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A truck loaded with dynamite caught fire and exploded near here early today, killing at least five persons and freeing hundreds of poisonous snakes from a nearby reptile farm.

The blast made a crater some 10 feet deep and 30 feet wide and caused extensive damage over a quarter-mile area.

Three of the dead were volunteer firemen from Marshalls Creek, some three miles from the scene of the accident on Route 209, who had responded to the fire call.

They were tentatively identified as Leonard Mosier, Earl Miller and Ed Heine.

Also reported killed in the explosion was John Regina, son of the owner of the Regina Hotel, located a few hundred yards from the blast.

The scattered remains of a fifth person were found near the scene.

Seriously injured in the explosion were two other firemen from the Marshalls Creek station, not immediately identified; Ted Regina, owner of the hotel, and Ruth Livingstone, manager of the reptile farm.

Law enforcement agents, state and local police went through damaged buildings for possible injured or dead persons.

They were hampered by hundreds of snakes, many poisonous, from the damaged reptile farm.

Snakes, shot by officers, were reported strewn all over the road.

Some 125 firemen from six volunteer fire companies in the area responded to the explosion. Only the Marshalls Creek firemen were there when the truck blew up.

The scene of the accident is in this northeastern Pennsylvania resort area.

Fire Damages Ambulance

A fire of suspected incendiary origin damaged an unused ambulance at the rear of the Fatum Garage, 52 O'Neill Street, early today. A unit from Wiltwyck Station with Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholz in charge, responded to a call at 12:50 a. m., made by a garage employee. The interior of the ambulance, a 1955 model, was reported badly damaged.

AETNA CASUALTY AND SURETY COMPANY
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

Suspended Police Lt. George H. Traver, 51, veteran member of the Poughkeepsie police department, was convicted Thursday afternoon by a Dutchess County court jury of second degree assault and ordered committed to jail pending motions.

Traver was indicted on two counts of second degree assault in connection with an assault last Nov. 17 on John Phillips, 32, of Highland, a Poughkeepsie taxicab driver, on the lawn in front of the Traver home at 1 Colburn Drive, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz today fixed Wednesday, July 29 for sentencing of Traver. Bail of $5,000 posted for the suspended police lieutenant in November was exonerated.

Motions Denied
Judge Schwartz denied defense motions to set aside the verdict on the grounds that it was contrary to the weight of evidence, that the evidence was incomplete and that a newspaper headline was prejudicial.

Traver faces a maximum sentence of five years. The court could suspend sentence or impose probation.

Within the next 10 days, Traver must face departmental charges filed by Police Chief John L. Martin, at a hearing to be held before the Police-Fire Trial Board of three members. The lieutenant has been under suspension since his arrest. Police officials said the convicted officer had an unblemished record as a police officer prior to the November incident.

The jury of 10 men and two women, found Traver guilty of the first count of the indictment, which charged that the lieutenant hit Phillips on the face with a .32 revolver during a quarrel. The weapon discharged and wounded the taxicab driver's shoulder.

The jury found Traver innocent of the second count of the indictment, which had charged the police officer who has 27 years of service, with assaulting Phillips with intent to inflict grievous bodily harm.

Judge Schwartz, who presided at the four-day trial in Poughkeepsie, told the jurors in his charge that they could return any of four verdicts, — guilty of the first or second counts of the indictment, guilty of third degree assault or not guilty.

The case went to the jury at 1:30 p. m., and the report was handed up to the judge at 4:50 p. m.

During the judge's charge and summations by District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta and Edward Filipowicz, defense attorney, Traver and his wife sat calmly in the courtroom and listened attentively to the remarks.

RFK Denies Barry Has Widespread Support

BERLIN (AP) — U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, does not enjoy widespread public support in the United States.

Kennedy, during a visit to Berlin to commemorate the first anniversary of his late brother's triumphant tour here, belittled Goldwater's standing.

Tens of thousands of Berliners lined the streets to cheer and wave to the attorney general.

A reporter's question on Goldwater, who opposed some of the late President John F. Kennedy's policies, prompted the attorney general to speak at length on the Arizona Republican.

"The conclusion that Goldwater has widespread public support in the United States is erroneous," he said.

Det. Kills Woman After Attack by Two

NEW YORK (AP)—A detective shot and killed a woman who slashed his face with a knife as she and her son attacked him when he tried to quell a disturbance, police report.

Killed last night was Mrs. Carmen Sierra, 53, of the Bronx.

Her son, Edward, 24, was taken into custody.

Detective John Echevarria's wound was not believed serious. He and another detective had been summoned to the apartment building by the superintendent.

Charged With Larceny

NEW YORK (AP) — A Wall Street customer's man with a reported penchant for bad investments is charged with stealing $167,214 from accounts of his brokerage firms over a five-year period.

Authorities said the man, Samuel Strasburg, 40, father of two, lost most of the money in the stock market.

He was charged yesterday with larceny and forgery and released without bail for a hearing later. He had been employed by Hoppin Brothers and Co., which made good the losses to customers.

Three Drivers Fined

Two drivers, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each in city court today. They were: Arthur Shannon, 57, of 53 Amherst Street, St. Johnsville, N. Y., and Emily Buddenhagen, 29, of 12 Mary's Avenue, Fred R. Cure, 74, of 4 Forest Hill Drive, charged with a stop-sign violation, was fined $10.

AT NEW MARKET OPENING—Grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremonies were held Thursday at the Big Deal Market, 70 Franklin Street, which formerly housed Adin's Mkt. Mayor John J. Schwenk prepares to cut the ribbon. Standing to the rear of the mayor (directly in doorway) are (l-r) Matt Lassandro, manager; Hy Weinreb, supervisor, and Robert Tumasian, produce manager. For many years the market was operated by A. D. Rose and later as Adin's Market. The business was recently acquired by Big Deal Markets, a New York City chain, which operates several stores. ### Health, Welfare Agencies Hold Workshop Here

Representatives of numerous health and welfare agencies of Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Orange Counties assembled at Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing this week to participate in a workshop on "The Skills of Interviewing." Sponsors were Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

More than 150 social workers, teachers, nurses, policemen, and clergymen, among others that serve the public, came to hear David J. Houghton, training field representative of the Massachusetts State Department of Public Welfare talk about basic skills and techniques in handling a "purposeful conversation between two people," his definition of the interview situation.

Houghton received his master's degree in social work from the Boston College of Social Work in 1950. He served as teacher for Boston University and Simmons College from 1950 to 1955, and as a supervisor for the merged Family Society-Boston Provident agencies from 1955 to 1960. He has worked in training capacities for the Dept. of Public Welfare since 1960.

The program was planned by a volunteer committee of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

2 Girls Treated For Fluid, Boy Injured by Bench

Two Franklin Street children believed to have consumed transmission fluid were taken to the Benedictine Hospital Thursday, and a boy was reported injured when a bench collapsed during the showing of a recreation department movie.

Sally VanWagenen, 4, of 75 Franklin Street, and Patricia MacDonald, 3, of 83 Franklin Street, were admitted to the Benedictine Hospital, after it was reported that they had picked up a can of automobile transmission fluid which was partly empty, and it was feared they had consumed some of it Thursday afternoon.

As it turned out Patricia MacDonald had consumed little, if any, of the fluid, and was discharged from the hospital today, and Sally VanWagenen, who bore symptoms of having consumed some, was reported in fair condition today, and was expected to be discharged.

Police were notified at 9:02 p. m. that Ralph VanEtten, 5, of Colonial Gardens, while watching a movie in an area near there, had suffered an injured ankle when a bench collapsed. He was to be treated at Kingston Hospital.

Grand Jury to Consider Abortion Charges

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — A grand jury will consider abortion charges against a physician and two other men who State Police said were part of a ring operating in Central New York.

The cases were sent to a grand jury Thursday after a day-long hearing before City Court Judge Donald K. Comstock.

Bail of $10,000 each was continued for the three defendants, Dr. Harry L. Alpert, 52, of Victor Gorea, 42, both of Fulton, and Frank Morreale, 53, of Utica.

They were arrested May 28 by State Police.

Dominick Froio, 45, of Rome, charged with aiding and abetting an abortion in the same case, faces a hearing July 1.

AMA Elects Ward

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—A 59-year-old Dubuque doctor who takes over next year as president of the American Medical Association is a specialist in plastic surgery but one of his main concerns is the family doctor.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward was named president — elect of the AMA at its national convention Thursday in San Francisco.

It's an office he cherished and for a reason.

"I don't want to destroy the relationship between the general practitioner and the specialist, but I do want to strengthen the concept of the family doctor," said Dr. Ward, chief of the surgical section of Finley Hospital here.

Schrafft's Man Inspects Boice Property on 28

A representative of the Schrafft's interests today inspected the Leroy Boice property on Route 28 adjoining the State Thruway as a possible site for a business establishment. The Freeman learned from a reliable source.

It was learned that after inspecting the Boice property, which consists of six acres, the Schrafft representative went to Poughkeepsie to view a site in that area. It is understood that the company may acquire both properties and establish business places in Kingston and in or near the City of Poughkeepsie.

Schrafft has for years operated business places in New England and New York City, and is a nationally known dealer in top rate candies.

A few weeks ago The Freeman published an article stating that Schrafft's was interested in the Boice property as a site for business here.

Topless Suits Are Getting More Exposure

The topless bathing suit for women is getting still more exposure across the nation, although it proved a disappointment to 200 expectant males in Oklahoma City.

Not so in Los Angeles, where fans, mostly male, crowded around a clothing store display window where a live model was wearing the suit Thursday.

Also attracted were two sheriff's deputies, who checked with headquarters and found that nudity was not enough for arrest; lewd behavior must be proved.

In Oklahoma City about 200 persons, mostly male, gathered at a housing project after a radio station announced that a pretty girl wearing a topless suit would arrive by helicopter.

She did, and there were some red faces.

She was blonde, blue-eyed Billy Rae, 3½ years old.

Technically "topless" bathing suits were shown at a Detroit fashion show. However, it was a hair fashion show, and the models appeared in waist-length hair styles resembling wide suspenders, Sam Browne belts and tie-back window curtains.

It looked scratchy and one model said it was.

Hope Diamond took a dip in a Hartford, Conn. park pond in a topless suit, and was promptly arrested for indecent exposure.

"I had a wonderful swim," she said, emerging into the arms of the law. Hope admitted the public exposure would not hurt her professionally. She's an exotic dancer.

Bus Crash Kills Three

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — A chartered bus carrying 32 passengers from Los Angeles overturned on a freeway north of here today killing at least three persons, the highway patrol said.

A newsman at the scene, two miles north of Madera on Highway 99, said all the remaining passengers appeared injured. They were taken to Madera County Hospital.

The bus was chartered by a Chinese drum and bugle corps from Los Angeles and bound for a convention in Sacramento.

Shot Off Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Guidance system trouble today forced a second straight postponement of an attempt to launch the high-energy Atlas Centaur rocket on its third test flight.

The countdown on the 112-foot-tall rocket had progressed to two hours before the scheduled 9 a. m. liftoff when the problem cropped up.

No new launching date was set immediately.

E. J. Dempsey Serious

The condition of former Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, of 625 Delaware Avenue, who was admitted to Kingston Hospital early this month, was reported serious today. His condition had been reported satisfactory for some time. He had served as the city's mayor from 1926 to 1931.

St. Remy Vols Start Drive for Funds on Monday

The St. Remy Volunteer Fire Company will launch a fund raising campaign beginning Monday and continuing for the next five days.

Proceeds will be used for the purchase of emergency equipment.

Members of the campaign committee will distribute coin cards to homes of all residents in St. Remy and Union Center. If no card is at home cards will be left in mail boxes. Further information is printed on the cards.

The committee hopes to contact every resident in the fire district. However, if any interested parties are missed they may notify fire company headquarters.

Educators Will Organize June 30

Organizational meeting of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District (Consolidated) will be held Tuesday, June 30 at the offices in the George Washington School immediately following the year-end meeting scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Three members will officially begin their terms in office. They are Richard P. Boice, Lake Katrine, and Harold E. Keator, same community, and Francis Stern-Montagny of Hurley. Boice and Keator were elected in May for terms of five years, and Stern-Montagny will fill the unexpired term of Gifford Beale, a former trustee who resigned after moving from the school district to Highland last December.

Boice and Keator will succeed Howard L. Fox and Benson A. Krom, who did not seek reelection. Their terms expire at midnight next Tuesday.

Officers of the board, including president and vice president, will be named for another term.

Denies Red Fire Kayoes Laos Plane

VIETNAMESE, Laos (AP)—The Lao government denied today that Communist ground force T28 fighter-bomber during a strike against Pathet Lao positions on the Plain des Jarres.

Col. Thongphann Knoksy, a Defense Ministry spokesman, said the air force's U.S. supplied T28s were fired on by Communist anti-aircraft guns but all have returned to their base.

The Pathet Lao radio claimed a T28 had been shot down and another damaged southwest of Khanh Khay, the Pathet Lao headquarters.

Wallace Willing

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—"Certainly I am a candidate for president of the United States," Alabama Gov. George Wallace says.

Wallace made the statement to some 9,000 wildly cheering persons Thursday night as he brought his movement for unpolluted presidential elections to the giant Mississippi Coliseum here.

"I intend to give the American people a clear choice," he said. "I welcome a fight between our philosophy and the liberal left-wing dogma which now threatens to engulf every man, woman and child in the United States."

Report Heavy Red Toll

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 100 Communist guerrillas may have been killed in a major battle with government troops Thursday, reports reaching Saigon indicated today.

The battle took place 60 miles northeast of the capital in the same area where government troops suffered a serious reversal last Friday.

The casualty toll in the latest encounter could not be confirmed immediately. Details were scanty.

HAMILTON GARDEN APARTMENTS

5 units with 8 apartments each
... a total of 40 LIVING UNITS

Mr. Davies, owner of Hamilton Garden Apartments, installed competitive makes of boilers in the first three units and IRON FIREMAN WHIRL-POWER GENERATORS in the last two units... so far this year the heating costs in the last 2 units are

25% LOWER than in the others.

Mr. Davies says .... "After considering all types of fuel for heating, we chose OIL because of its economy, cleanliness and convenience of operation!"

The tenants in these apartments appreciate the fact, that they're not "insulated-in," that all the rooms are comfortably warm, and that the basement utility rooms are not damp... every one is happy with OIL HEAT!

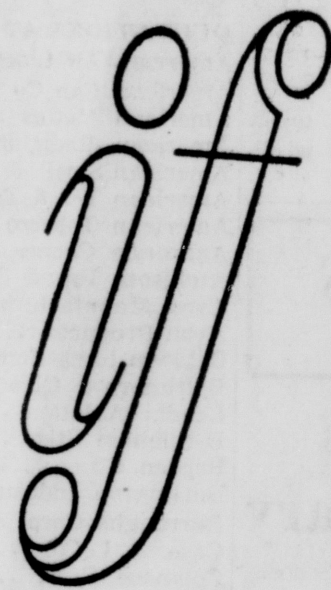

If you are having friends in and feel the need for fresh air, Mr. Davies says, "Just throw open your windows for all the fresh air you need. Iron Fireman Oil Heat is inexpensive."

In these apartments heat is being paid for by the owner, if you were in an electrically heated apartment, you would probably have to pay for your own heat, at a much higher cost! "So you would need to be 'insulated-in'!"

*Based on seasonal operating efficiency, comparative thermostat settings and degree days. Our representative will make a survey of your heating plant and determine the facts.

We dare to make this startling offer because so many owners of Custom Mark II warm air furnaces and hot water boilers report savings over gas, oil or electric fuel of 20% or more.

The Iron Fireman Custom Mark II utilizes a new concept in heating which provides 100% combustion of the oil. This is why your heating costs are lower. And this new oil firing breakthrough gives you solid comfort, a cleaner home, trouble-free operation and longer life.

You save in other ways, too. The completely automatic Custom Mark II wastes no heat during "off" periods. No pilot lights to waste fuel and no seasonal "on" or "off" pilot light service charges. Competitively priced, the Custom II gives you the most for your heating dollar... with terms to fit your budget.

Reedy in Center of CR Data White House Scores Inaccuracy Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Reedy, the slow-talking, pipe-smoking White House press secretary, faced waiting newsmen and announced gravely that one item of information he had furnished earlier was "inadvertently accurate."

Of course, this was only a slip of the tongue—he quickly said he meant to say "inadvertently inaccurate"—early last night following a stream of misinformation from the White House.

Worst Day in Memory

Seldom, if ever, in recent memory has the White House put out so much inaccurate information as it did in announcing the deployment of federal military forces in the search for three young civil rights workers who vanished Sunday in Mississippi.

At his midday briefing for reporters Thursday, Reedy announced that President Johnson had ordered 200 Marines based at Meridian, Miss., not far from the search site, to join the hunt. And he said they would be augmented by eight Marine helicopters.

Asked whether the move had been taken at the request of Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi, Reedy indicated there had been no request, but added: "This is a cooperative effort. There has been complete cooperation at all levels."

Minutes after newsmen had dispatched this word, and even as they were finishing their dispatches, Reedy personally contacted them at their telephones and said he was misinformed—that the Marines were coming from outside Mississippi and only the Marine helicopters were Mississippi-based.

Gov. Johnson was saying in Jackson that he was surprised by the movement of Marines—that several days ago he had offered the use of National Guardsmen familiar with the area for the search.

Second Press Briefing

Shortly after 5 p.m., Reedy met reporters for a second time and announced that one item he had conveyed at his noon-hour briefing had been "inadvertently inaccurate."

He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been informed that Marine personnel from Meridian—where there is no Marine base—would be used in the search. He said the Marines "turned out to be sailors."

He volunteered the information that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had called Gov. Johnson since the original announcement, which had been allowed to stand unchallenged for five hours, "to straighten out this matter."

A newsmen, mindful of Reedy's statement that one bit of information had been inaccurate, asked whether Gov. Johnson had been aware in advance that military people were being dispatched to the search site.

'Slip-up' Somewhere

"There was an inadvertent," said Reedy. "There was a slip-up somewhere."

Thus did the White House spokesman concede that he had been overstating the case earlier when he had spoken of "complete cooperation at all levels."

At this point, one reporter asked if Reedy had been correct in reporting that eight Marine helicopters were being used in the search.

"I believe," said the press secretary, "these will turn out to be Navy helicopters."

There was no further White House explanation of the whole incident.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was a shade higher late this afternoon as trading slackened considerably from Thursday's five-million-share rate.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

American Telephone was still being traded heavily as investors dealt in its new stock, just split 2-for-1. AT&T inched higher.

General Motors held firm in early trading and then moved ahead a full point.

The trend was slightly higher among steels, motors, oils, aerospace issues and rails.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 310.8 with industrials unchanged, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.20 at 829.68.

U.S. Smelting recouped more than 2 points of Thursday's 6-point decline. Control Data was weak, trimming a point from a 5-point loss. IBM was down 2.

Cigarette stocks were irregularly higher following their recent losses.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Woman Is Hurt As She Swerves To Avoid Animal

A Dutchess County woman was injured at 9:25 p.m. Thursday when she swerved her 1960 sedan to avoid an unidentified animal on Route 9, Town of Hyde Park, and crashed headon into a utility pole.

Sergeant Maurice Valliant of the Rhinebeck sub-station of state police, said Delores Horwede, 27, of Springwood Village, Hyde Park, was driving north on the highway north of Old Farm Road when an animal ran in front of the vehicle.

Trooper J. S. McLean said the driver swerved the car off the east shoulder of the highway and hit the pole. The woman was taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by the Hyde Park Fire Department Rescue Squad. Troopers said the driver suffered lacerations of the nose and right knee and a fracture of the right little finger.

U.S. Toughens

Asian wars, plus an Army airborne brigade on Okinawa. There are two Army Divisions in South Korea, but these are pinned down by the ever-present threat from Red North Korea.

On Hawaii, the 25th Infantry Division stands ready as the theater reserve.

The United States has vastly improved its air fleet in recent years and reinforcements, including a Marine division on the West Coast and Army troops from the United States, could be flown across the Pacific.

But the movement of the heavy gear that makes these divisions potent striking forces would have to go by ship, and that takes many days.

Not Enough Material

Some heavy equipment is stockpiled in Thailand, on Okinawa and aboard three depot ships in the Philippines, but not nearly enough for a truly major ground operation.

This country's aces in the game are nearly 3,000 military planes in the Pacific, plus the 125 ships of the 7th Fleet ranged along the Asian Coast.

U.S. Warplanes—most of them far faster, far more maneuverable, and far more heavily armed than the Chinese—can strike at China from bases on Okinawa, Formosa, the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Thailand and Japan, although political considerations might prevent this.

The 7th Fleet has three big carriers from which Marine and Navy fighters and bombers could be launched against the mainland.

Chinese Inventory

This is what the Chinese have, based on intelligence reports: An air force of about 2,400 planes, mostly elderly fighters—MIG15s and MIG17s. As much as half of this force reportedly has been immobilized by a shortage of fuel and a need to take parts from some planes to keep others flying. Some medium and long-range bombers and a few transports. The 75,000 air force men include about 10,000 pilots who aren't rated very highly.

A People's Liberation Army of 2,600,000 men—many of them conscripts—formed into 160 divisions. About three are armored divisions, one is air-landed, some are cavalry for desert operations and the great mass are infantry.

A navy of about 135,000, which includes Marines. An air arm of about 500 MIG17s. Some 30 submarines, about half equipped for mine-laying. This navy, mainly for coast defense, couldn't stay in the water with the mighty 7th Fleet.

Scranton Flays

tended the numbers of delegates that met with him were not a true sign of his support in those states. Asked about a statement by Illinois Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen that Goldwater would win on the first ballot at San Francisco, Scranton declared: "When the convention comes about I think you will see a different situation."

"I'm in this race to stay," he said.

Largest Crowd Yet

Scranton was greeted Thursday by two of his largest crowds so far. Some 5,000 persons turned out in Public Square, Cleveland, in Lansing Thursday night an estimated 4,000 crowded around a truck Scranton used as a platform in a shopping center.

DONALD G. CROUT

Named Admission Officer at UCCC

Officials at Ulster County Community College today announced the appointment of Donald G. Crout as admission officer at the college. Crout has been serving as assistant director of admission at Springfield College in Springfield, Mass. since 1961. Prior to his position at Springfield, Crout served as assistant district executive of the Boy Scouts of America in Baltimore, Md.

Crout started his college study at the University of Maryland and later completed requirements for his bachelor's and master's degrees at Springfield College.

While in college he was extremely active in co-curricular activities and in a broad personal interest in camping, sailing and in music. He is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and served overseas in an intelligence unit.

Crout has recently married Miss Carol Cerny who has been a teacher in the elementary schools of Longmeadow, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Crout will move to Kingston in July when Crout will assume his new duties at the college. In September, Mrs. Crout will teach at the Hurley School.

Bright Future

This trend might result in a smaller number of customers interested in better items, the dollar units of sales were larger and accounted for an overall betterment of sales volume for uptown merchants.

Holiday Schedule

The Association also announced that, in conformance to American tradition, uptown stores would be closed on Independence Day, July 4, but that for the convenience of customers they would be open on Monday night, June 29, in addition to Friday night, July 3.

Voters in the Town of East Fishkill today are balloting on a proposition which, if approved, would provide $228,000 for a new town hall. Polls were scheduled to open from 2 to 9 p.m. The proposed new building site is at Hopewell Junction.

Driver and Rider Arrested After Mishap Downtown

A Thursday night mishap at Delaware Avenue and Hanratty Street, in which police said, a car struck a pole, resulted in the arrest of a driver on two charges, and an occupant of the car on a public intoxication charge.

Monroe Turner, 38, of 323-A Flatbush Road, was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Aaron E. Klein, former city judge, appeared with Turner to the intersection with the right front bumper and fender, continued on, and stopped "around a corner" for fixing of a flat tire on the right front wheel.

Officers Weston Hoffay and Anthony Turk investigated.

A police report at 8:45 p.m. said the car struck a pole at the intersection with the right front bumper and fender, continued on, and stopped "around a corner" for fixing of a flat tire on the right front wheel. Officers Weston Hoffay and Anthony Turk investigated.

frustration never experienced before. Aaron Henry of Clarkdale and Charles Evers of Jackson said in a telegram to the White House.

Henry is state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Evers, brother of the late Medgar Evers, who was slain by a sniper a year ago, is the organization's field secretary.

Farmer Concerned

At Meridian, James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, expressed concern about the nature and progress of the investigation.

He said he felt protection was required for other civil rights workers throughout the state—"that's why we called for marshals."

"No one asked for a special number," Farmer said. "Just to have marshals around would be a great deterrent factor to violence."

The White House first announced that 200 Marines would join the search but later said the report was "inadvertently inaccurate" and only sailors from the Meridian base would be used.

Report Stirs Resentment

The erroneous report that Marines would be used stirred resentment among some Mississippi members of Congress, including Rep. John Bell Williams, who said the President bowed to "left-wing racial agitators."

Williams said that if President Johnson is so concerned about helping to find missing persons, he should turn his attention to New York City, where he said, 10,000 persons were reported missing last year, of whom 188 are still listed as missing.

Earlier, Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., whose home is Philadelphia, told the House the disappearance of the three men may be a hoax designed to attract publicity.

"Nobody knows there has been any violence," Winstead said. "There are some who think it is a hoax intended to get all this unfavorable publicity."

Cardiac Bachelor Must Sell All and Reinvest

Q) "I am a 56-year-old bachelor with a cardiac condition and have retired with a yearly pension of about $4600. My mother and I own our home, have $13,000 in savings, and shares of Cannon Mills, Avco, Hess Oil and Chemical, and White Motors. For protection against inflation I think I should put part of our savings and switch part or all of our stocks into such growth issues as General Motors; Jersey Standard; American Telephone; Sears, Roebuck; and Bristol-Myers. I would appreciate your advice." L.S.

A) I am extremely sorry to read of your cardiac condition, but am pleased that you are well fixed financially for retirement. Although I like Avco, the shares are in the aerospace group, which has lost market favor. Cannon Mills and White Motors are good stocks but very cyclical in nature.

Hess Oil is a speculation not suited to your purpose. I advise you to sell all present holdings, remove $5,000 from savings, and place the resultant sum in the strong stocks you've mentioned as replacements.

Q) "Would you please let me know if it's advisable to buy Madison Square Garden stock as a long-term investment for my grandchildren?" M.D.

A) While I think it is admirable to want to do something for your grandchildren, I do not consider your stock choice as suitable for your purpose.

Madison Square is strictly a speculation, as its very low price indicates.

I cannot emphasize too often and too strongly that it is unwise to buy a stock simply because it can be bought for a dollar or two. When a stock sells at that level after 15 years of the longest bull market in history, its price is more apt to indicate lack of intrinsic value rather than an opportunity to pick up a bargain.

I advise you strongly to buy few shares of a powerful growth stock like Procter & Gamble as an investment for your grandchildren.

Role of Congress in Health, Smoking Problem Gets Hazier

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future role of Congress in the problem of smoking and health is growing hazier all the time.

A host of bills is pending—all asking Congress to move in a host of different directions—and all the paper seems to have created a confusing maze.

The confusion has been compounded by a decision of the Federal Trade Commission to issue a rule requiring that cigarette advertising and labels include a warning next year that smoking may cause death from cancer and other diseases.

The FTC announced its rule at a House Commerce Committee hearing called to consider bills that would enact a similar rule into law.

Some Courses Listed

Some of the courses Congress may take now that the FTC has issued its rule are:

1. Do nothing and let the FTC rule go through with its rule. With the tobacco industry taking the rule to federal courts, years of litigation would follow.

2. Approve one of several bills introduced since the U.S. Public Health Service's special advisory committee said that cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

If Congress passed a law requiring the same labels the FTC rule would be over. Without court suits, the tobacco industry likely would begin putting warning notices on its labels and advertising.

3. Approve one of several bills which would either delay the FTC decision for three years or require approval by Congress before the FTC may issue a rule.

Tobacco States Support

These bills have the support of congressmen from the tobacco states and of those congressmen who believe the FTC has overstepped its authority.

4. Approve legislation proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare giving the Food and Drug Administration authority to regulate cigarette labels under the Hazardous Substances Act.

Such a law, however, might not stop the FTC rule. Commission Chairman Paul Rand Dixon

Youth Is Injured

As TV Antenna Falls

Garry Young, 7, of Second Street, Slightsburg, received scalp lacerations Thursday shortly after noon when he was struck by a falling TV antenna which had been damaged when a truck backed into a guy wire.

A truck owned by the Syracuse Tank Manufacturing Co. Inc. of 723 Hiawatha Boulevard, Syracuse, was backing up preparatory to unloading tanks for the Kingston Oil Supply Company at Slightsburg when the top of the truck struck a TV antenna guy wire causing the antenna to fall. The youth was playing in the vicinity and was struck on the head. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Richard Colman and Dennis Kilmer, employees of Kingston Oil Supply Company.

Deputy Sheriff Carl J. Swenson investigated.

Urges Hudson Curfew

A curfew that would take children 9 to 12 years of age off the streets of Hudson at a "decent" hour, was proposed Thursday by Mrs. Irene Burton, chairman of the Taxpayer-Rentpayer Association of that city.

Alderman Benjamin Murell pledged immediate support to the proposal and said, "I'll back her up 100 per cent."

Paltz Driver Cited

Accused of operating a motor vehicle while his license was revoked, John Martin, 39, of North Putt Corner Road, New Paltz, was cited Thursday by State Trooper Robert Whalen of the Highland sub-station. Troopers reported Martin pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace S. Glenn Parks, Town of New Paltz, and was sentenced to four days in the county jail.

Graduation Exercises At Woodstock Elementary

Forty students were graduated from the sixth grade at the Woodstock School Friday, June 19. Mark Bailey served as master of ceremonies for his class and introduced David Every who gave the Welcoming address. Joan Webster followed with the class history. All three of these pupils did a very good job. They spoke clearly and effectively.

The Woodstock School Chorus, directed by Mrs. Richard Jeffrey, in the absence of Mrs. Katy Stowe, sang Deep River, This Is My Country and You'll Never Walk Alone. Mrs. Stowe was called back to Missouri due to serious illness in her immediate family and the Ontario School Administration expresses thanks to Mrs. Jeffrey, who volunteered her services and did such an excellent job in Mrs. Stowe's absence.

Mark Bailey next introduced the commencement speaker, Dr. George Sullivan, Superintendent of the Ontario Central Schools. After his address, Walter Van Wagenen awarded diplomas to each member of the Class of '64 to prolonged applause from the parents and friends of those graduating. The class sang the Alma Mater together as a group to conclude the exercises.

Later the graduates were guests of the Woodstock Parent Teachers Association at a luncheon held at the Cafe Espresso Restaurant in Woodstock.

Dear Abby . . .

Rely On Your Intuition!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently we started seeing a lot of a certain couple. I have always liked them both but we have never been real close friends. For the past few months I have had the feeling that something was going on between this woman and my husband. I have never been jealous before. When I first got that feeling, I told my husband about it. He denied everything and I felt like a heel. I haven't mentioned it since, but I am no fool. All of a sudden she has been planning things for the four of us to do almost every night, and she does favors for me that are uncalled for. I don't like the looks that pass between them or the way they always manage to sit close to each other, or the way they dance together, either. I've never had to cope with this in 20 years of marriage. Should I keep my mouth shut and keep watching or what? My woman's intuition is strong.

NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: Your woman's intuition is probably better than Scotland Yard. Tell your husband in plain language that you are jealous, you sense danger and you have no intention of sharing him or losing him. If he fights too hard to continue the friendship, you will know your suspicions were correct, in which case you had better enlist the help of the other husband.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife's mother came to live with us. Everything is fine, except when we go out for a ride. I have a two-door automobile. My mother-in-law is 78, and quite large. She always climbs in the front, which seats two comfortably, but with three it's crowded. It is also dangerous, because I have only two seat belts in front, and they are being sat on—not used. I certainly am not going to put my wife in the back seat alone, so she's up front next to her mother, near the door. My mother-in-law can't very well straddle that hump on the floor, so she puts both her feet next to mine, which interferes with my driving. She leans heavily toward me, so her head is right in my rear view mirror. I don't enjoy these rides, but I go anyway because my wife says her mother needs the fresh air. Is there a solution?

SKIP MY NAME

DEAR SKIP: It is not easy to get most large 78-year-old women into or out of the back seat of a "two-door automobile." But that's where "mother" belongs. Get a car with two more doors (Detroit will love you!) and enjoy a safer ride.

DEAR ABBY: No uglier facet of human personality is there than was shown by the critics who wrote to tell you that they would not stop to help an injured animal in the road. Surely you are not surprised! Thirty-eight cowards watched a New York woman being stabbed to death. They should hang their heads in shame. Twenty-three years ago, on an Iowa farm, a mad bull had my father pinned to a fence. My frail little mother was alone on the farm. She got a pitchfork and fought the bull back into the barnyard. Dad suffered a broken nose, but we had him another fifteen years.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 26—Most readers of this column are aware that since the panic-like stock market decline in the spring of 1962, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has been marching upward, with only short halts, to successively new record highs.

Business Backbones the Stock Market

The rapid shrinkage in stock values in the dark days of 1962 undoubtedly had its beginnings in distrust of the politico-business outlook. Then, as paper profits began to vanish, selling pressure rose to a crescendo, with investors hurrying to preserve what profits they had left, or to limit their losses. The market did regain its composure when investors realized that a business decline of the proportions indicated was not imminent. By that time, too, the "water" had been pretty well wrung out of the glamour and speculative stocks.

Thus it has been the sustained well-being of general business, powerfully assisted by consumer spending and residential building, which not only righted the stock market but launched it on a two-year advance, virtually uninterrupted, during which time the Dow-Jones Industrial Average rose from a low of 536 to a high of 830.

Are Inflation Fears Justified?

As I view the market now, many of the blue-chip stocks which have largely accounted for the two-year market advance seem fully priced, and real bargains are harder to find. This is understandable, since the Dow-Jones Industrial Average's climb of nearly 300 points outdistanced the gains of industrial activity and business profit in the same period of time. Business and profits may rise further over the near term, to be sure, but such additional gains are probably pretty well discounted. Hence we must look to another element to propel the stock market on upward. This may well be speculative enthusiasm stemming from fears of inflation. It has been said that a whiff of inflation psychology can stir investor buying impatience.

Those who feel we are in for more inflation have many arguments in their favor. Since the last business recession, U. S. monetary authorities have been pursuing a policy of keeping money and credit plentiful. To the extent this has exceeded the legitimate credit needs of business, the surplus represents an inflationary potential. In addition, consumers have been expanding their borrowings, both for installment purchases of durable goods and for new home mortgages. Such borrowings are inflationary to the extent that purchasing power is boosted above the levels of earned incomes. The deficit operations of federal, state, and municipal governments are also inflationary; and we must not forget the steady inflation of labor costs.

On the other hand, President Johnson's economy drive in government spending is an attempt to prevent inflation from getting out of hand. The most effective barriers against inflation in recent years, however, have been the surplus of most commodities and the excess of productive capacities in many industries.

Hedging Against Inflation

The danger of inflation is most acute during and following wars. Under normal conditions, deflation is more likely to prevail. In today's "semi-war" economy and prolonged prosperity, therefore, the tug-of-war between inflation and deflation leaves the situation in doubt. Conceivably, this stalemate could continue with neither side gaining a clear advantage, even though over the long run rising government spending and the unreasonable demands of labor suggest further inflation.

It has been my experience that the best time to hedge against inflation is when the stock market and real estate prices are depressed. Hence, although the current bull market may yet penetrate higher ground, the "real gravy" is largely behind us and the risk factor greater from here on in. It might therefore be better to have patience and "hold your fire." Profitable hedging against inflation requires careful timing and selection. When the prices of stocks and real estate are depressed, and when deflation rather than inflation is the watchword of the day, then investors should have the courage to acquire inflation-hedge investments—carefully and selectively. I believe more inflation is ahead of us, but now is not the time to hedge against it.

State Reports 92 Major Crimes Arrests in County

There were 92 arrests for major crimes in Ulster County between January and March of this year, according to figures released today by Commissioner of Correction Paul D. McGinnis.

Of these, 51 involved persons 21 years of age and over, and the other 41 youths 16 to 20 years of age.

McGinnis said 30 persons were arrested for major crimes in Kingston during the same period, including 13 between the ages of 16 and 20 and 17 who were 21 years or over.

The commissioner said they were among 19,885 persons arrested for major crimes in New York State during the first three months of the year. He said this was the largest quarterly total on record, exceeding by 51.1 per cent the previous high of July-September 1963. This record-breaking volume registered an advance of 22.6 per cent over October-December 1963 and an increase of 24.7 per cent over the first quarter of 1963. New York City was the major contributor to the rise over the previous quarter, McGinnis said, but both sections of the state participated almost equally in the advance from January-March 1964.

McGinnis said that the upward trend in youth arrests (16-20) also was reinforced by the influence of the rising youth population resulting from the post-war rise in the birth rate. He said that arrests for narcotic drug violations alone accounted for almost one-third of the numerical increase, followed by felonious assault, burglary and auto theft. Among youths under 21, the greatest numerical advances occurred in arrests for narcotic drugs and auto theft, while adult increases were largest for narcotic drugs, felonious assault and burglary.

Other area county and city figures showing total arrests for the three-month period, age 16-20 and 21 years over categories, respectively, included:

Baptists Retain Men's Club Slate, To Change Tenure

Current officers of the Men's Club of First Baptist Church will continue in office through December, if a resolution adopted at Wednesday night's meeting is approved in September.

The resolution, presented by the nominating committee during the annual steak roast at Upper Hasbrouck Park, would bring the Men's Club in line with other church organizations whose officers serve for the calendar year.

In the past the men's group has elected officers in June with installation in September.

Current officers include Alfred E. Shults, president; Billy G. Smallwood, vice president; Alfred O. Sonnenberg, treasurer, and Irwin J. Thomas, secretary.

The only other major business transacted last night was a report by Donald Field relative to the annual Baptist Men's retreat at Colgate University, set this year for the Aug. 29-30 weekend.

The feature of the annual steak roast meeting was the traditional softball clash. Last night's game wound up in a 3-3 tie between A. Sonnenberg's Baptist Batters and Bill Williams' Cape Codders.

Don Field and Norm Bowen were the opposing hurlers. The Batters pushed across two runs in the last inning to knot the score. Defensive star of the game was Al Goodwin who required all three batters in the first inning.

YMCA Staff Will Wind Up Camp Plans Saturday

The final planning sessions of the YMCA Day Camp Staff will be held at camp today, Friday and Saturday. All phases of the summer camp program will be discussed for the largest season in the camp's history. The staff will work on the waterfront and review swimming, boating, canoeing, sailing and life guard duties. The camp has joined the National Camp Archery Association in which campers shoot for scores according to distance to earn badges and pins. The staff will put up tents and the new 20 foot Indian Teepee.

Committee on Senecas Adjourns, No Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee seeking agreement on funds for the Seneca Indians of New York State adjourned indefinitely Thursday after a meeting at which "little or no progress" was reported made.

The meeting was the fourth held by conferees trying to resolve differences between two bills to compensate the Senecas for loss of their lands as a result of construction of the Allegheny River Dam at Kinzua, Pa.

The reservoir to be formed after the dam is closed next fall will inundate much of the Seneca Reservation in southwestern New York.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House conferees, told reporters that "little or no progress" was made at the meeting.

The differences hinge on money. The House voted $20.15 million in damages and for a rehabilitation fund for the Senecas, while the Senate voted $9.12 million.

MRS. PAUL JOSEPH VOGT (Lakeside photo)

Van Buren-Vogt Nuptials Are Announced; Wedding Ceremony in Episcopal Church Here

Miss Linda Jean Van Buren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Van Buren of 105 Cedar Street, this city, was married to Paul Joseph Vogt, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Vogt, 48 Pine Street, this city, on Sunday, June 21. The wedding ceremony took place in St. John's Episcopal Church, Kingston, with the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, pastor, officiating.

Gladioli and white pompons decorated the church for the occasion. Given in marriage by her brother James Van Buren, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and silk organza over silk taffeta. It was styled with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, long tapered sleeves and full silk organza skirt with front panel of lace. The gown was chapel length. Her butterfly veil of English silk illusion was caught to a double crown of pearls and cut crystals fashioned with crop crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet with stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses. Blanche Bigando of Kingston was matron of honor for her sister. The bride's sister Mrs. Arlene Corrado of 8 Conway Place, and Mrs. Peggy Vogt of 32 Pine Street, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, were the attendants. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Joanne Corrado, the bride's niece. They wore floor length gowns in petal pink silk organza with fitted sleeveless bodice and full bouffant skirts. Large horseshair picture hats were also worn accented with pink flowers, illusion bows and streamers. The matron of honor was in Viva pink and the bridesmaids in pink. The junior bridesmaid wore petal pink organza gown with full skirt and Viva taffeta cummerbund and back bow with streamers.

The attendants carried arm bouquets of light pink carnations with deep pink ribbons. The junior bridesmaid carried an arm bouquet of light pink carnations with deep pink ribbons and matching ribbon.

The matron of honor carried an arm bouquet of rubrum lilies. George E. Vogt, the bridegroom's brother, 32 Pine Street, this city, served as best man. Ushers were Donald Van Buren, 105 Cedar Street, this city, George Oswald of Saugerties and Jerry Corrado of 8 Conway Street, the bride's nephew.

Approximately 100 guests were entertained at The Alpine. The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. The bride is employed by Shop-Rite, Inc. and the bridegroom by Graphic Techniques.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogt will be at home at 30 Stahlman Place, this city when they return from their wedding trip through the southern states.

Stay at Home
Three-fourths of the people in the United States never have traveled in a commercial airplane. Half the population, according to a recent study, moves no farther than 200 miles from home in the course of a year.

GUESTS SEATED AT TWO TABLES

Q: My husband and I are giving a large dinner party at home. There will be 20 in all, and as our table is not large enough to seat everybody at one table, we are having two tables of 10. Both tables will be in the same room. In this situation, should my husband sit at one table and I at the other, or do we both sit at the same table?

A: To avoid the possibility of offending any of your guests by seating them at what they might consider a "second" table, you should sit at one table and your husband at the other.

Lighting Cigarette From Candle

Q: The other night my wife and I had dinner at a very nice restaurant here in town. Each table had a lighted candle on it. After we had finished our dinner, I took out a cigarette and lit it from the candle on the table. My wife immediately pounced on me for doing this and said I should know better. I can't for the life of me see anything wrong in this and would like to hear what you have to say about it.

A: If you did not pick up the candle and risk spilling melted wax on the tablecloth, your wife was unnecessarily punctilious in criticizing you for lighting your cigarette from it.

Inviting Wives Without Their Husbands

Q: I am going to be married shortly and have a problem concerning the invitations to my reception. I am not having too large a reception but I would like to include some of the girls from my office with whom I have worked for many years. Most of them are married. Must I also invite their husbands who are strangers to me?

A: I'm sorry, but it would not be proper to invite them without their husbands.

How and when to introduce people seems to puzzle many. The Emily Post Institute book, entitled, "Introductions," gives helpful information on this subject. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

Carol McArdle, William Michael Cuff Are Married; Ceremony in Local Church

In the Holy Name Church of Wilbur marriage vows were taken by Carol Mary McArdle and William Michael Cuff.

The ceremony took place on June 21 at 2 p. m. with the Rev. John Russell officiating. Organist was Nan Goldrick and Mrs. Frank Sass was the soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cermak of 22 Davis Street, this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Matthew O'Locki of Schenectady and the late John Cuff.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. After the wedding ceremony, the bride dedicated a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Mother.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle and Godfather George F. McArdle. She wore a white silk organza gown in empire style with full length skirt accented with embroidered lace appliques. A double crown of lace held a pure silk illusion fingertip veil. The bride carried a missal which belonged to her great grandmother. With it she also carried an orchid.

The bride's aunt Mrs. James Sass of Sunset Park was matron of honor in a white

Rochelle lace over orchid taffeta gown. It was styled with a fitted bodice, mid-length sleeves and scoop neckline. The modified bell shaped skirt was cocktail length and she wore a bow tie headpiece with a fly-away veil.

Attendants were Miss Julianne Letus of Town of Ulster, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. John Cuff of Schenectady, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore Nile green gowns identical in style to that worn by the honor attendant.

John Cuff of Schenectady, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Walter Cuff, another brother, and Frank Briody, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception for 150 guests was given in the White Eagle Hall in Kingston. Afterwards the couple left for Pennsylvania. When they return they will be residing at 29 North Wilbur Avenue, this city.

The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Cuff is a graduate of the Central Academy of Cosmetology, Newburgh, and is employed by Mickey's Beauty Shop in Kingston. Her husband is attending Ulster County Community College and is employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

Bush-Muller Wedding Takes Place June 6

Mrs. Anita M. Bush of Hurley and Pierre J. Muller Jr. were united in marriage June 6 at St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. William Williams officiated.

Attending were Mrs. Warren Henry, the bridegroom's sister and Joseph H. Hoffman, the bride's brother. A reception followed at Leherb's Restaurant after which the couple left for Bermuda.

Mr. Muller is employed by the Kingston City Post Office. The couple plans to reside in Hurley.

FBI Sent After 3 Missing Constitutional Wall Major Barrier in Mississippi

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leaders got smaller encouragement when they asked the government to take "preventive" police action not only to protect civil rights but "the 985,000 Negro citizens" in Mississippi.

Swarms of volunteer civil rights workers are supposed to pour into Mississippi this summer. Three young men of the advance guard disappeared Sunday night and have not been seen since leaving a police station at Philadelphia, Miss.

Action Is Taken

But this action was taken after something had happened: The disappearance of the three men.

What Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Kennedy to do was take "preventive" police action for Mississippi Negroes and civil rights workers before anything happened to them.

Kennedy said that even under the pending civil rights bill, not yet law, the Justice Department would have only "limited authority" to step into a racial crisis such as that in Mississippi.

Authority Limited

He said, "It won't give us authority because we have no national police force. Our authority is very, very limited." What he had in mind was the high constitutional wall separating federal power from the power of the states.

Nothing in the Constitution authorizes the federal government to take such ahead-of-time action as Wilkins asked. But sometimes both the Constitution and federal power take on the appearance of stretchable rubber.

When there seemed a chance of race riots in Birmingham, Ala., in 1963, President John F. Kennedy sent 3,000 troops into Alabama's military bases near but not in Birmingham. He did not have to use them. But did he have authority to?

The Justice Department at the time said the President could have decided whether to use troops or not, if a riot started, under authority of a specific law—Article 10, Section 333 of the U.S. Code—which says:

A Gigantic Task
The president can use troops or "any other means" to suppress domestic violence in a state if it "hinders the execution of the laws of that state and of the United States within the state, that any part of class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection."

There's a lot of latitude there if the President felt he had to act. But in that case he would have been handling an immediate problem concentrated in Birmingham. For the government to protect several hundred civil rights workers, if they were scattered around Mississippi, would be quite a task.

Yet, the government in some particular cases can act on the assumption that something happened. When a "Freedom Ride" bus was bombed in Alabama in 1961 it seemed like a local problem. But the FBI was sent in on the assumption there might have been a violation of federal law against transportation of bomb materials across state lines.

FBI Explanation
The Justice Department explained this week why the FBI was sent into Mississippi after the trio of civil rights workers, held 3½ hours by Philadelphia police, disappeared.

While no one could say for sure anything had happened to them, the Justice Department operated on the assumption it might have.

The department gave this explanation: "We wish to talk to the three men about the circumstances of their arrest. We also are investigating the possibility they are being held against their will by persons not law enforcement officers or are being deprived of their civil rights."

Federal intervention in a state is supposed to be permitted when some federal law or authority is violated or someone in government can argue it might

Barry Will Give Away Daughter At Phoenix Rites

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, top contender for the Republican presidential nomination, settled down in his Arizona hilltop home today to make the transformation from politician to father of the bride.

Goldwater's youngest daughter, Margaret Ann, 20, will marry Richard Arlen Holt, 26, of Beverly Hills, Calif., Saturday night at the Phoenix Trinity Episcopal Cathedral.

The Arizona senator made two speeches in his home state Thursday, then ducked out of the spotlight.

In Nogales, Ariz., Goldwater told an American Legion convention that he hated to cut his visit there short, but that he had to get home for a "meeting of the clan."

A dinner was scheduled for tonight.

Miss Goldwater, better known as Peggy, will be given away by her father at the 11-minute ceremony.

Her husband-to-be is a junior executive with an oil company. The newlyweds plan to honeymoon in Hawaii and then make their home in Beverly Hills.

GE Gives Union No Good Hope On Arbitration

NEW YORK (AP) — General Electric Co. has offered no hope that it will agree to voluntary arbitration of a union incentive pay dispute at its Schenectady plant.

Following a top-level meeting Thursday of company representatives and officials of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers on the union-proposed arbitration, E. J. Ritter, GE's manager of union contracts, said:

"We could give the union no encouragement of putting such an important determination in the hands of a third party. However, the union is free to make such a request through the usual procedure."

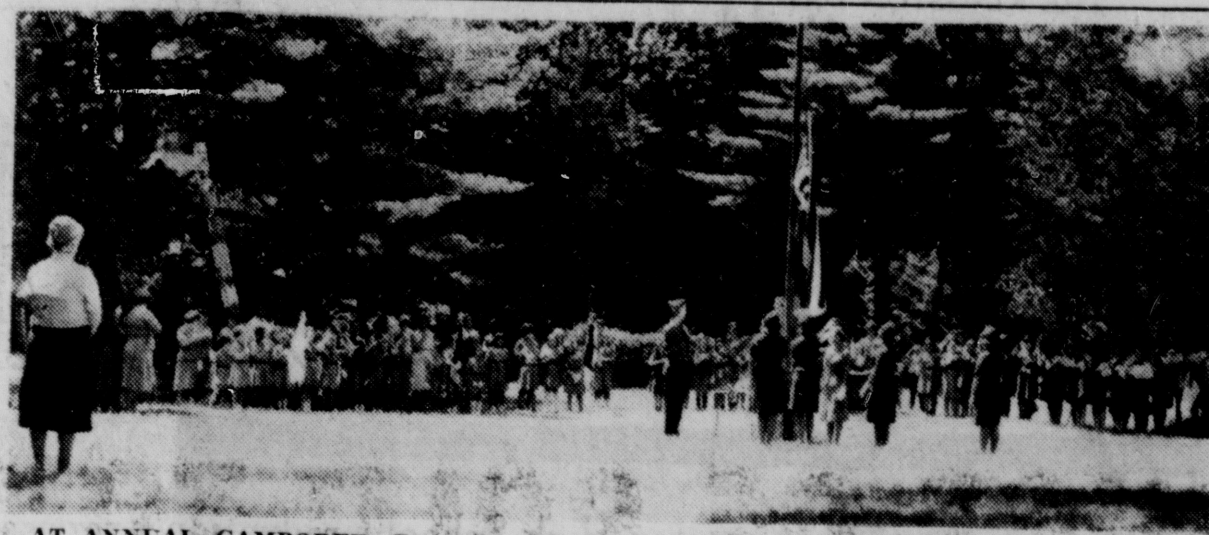

The company proposed elimination of piece work incentive pay rates for 3,000 of the 9,000 union employees at the plant, effective July 13.

The plan called for gradual substitution of day-work rates which are lower.

The union contended the matter is a national issue and suggested it be arbitrated. The company maintained that sound solutions could be reached at the local level since the condition was unique to Schenectady. The company promised to reply to the union grievance within five days.

be involved. This is pretty broad authority.

If a truly critical situation develops in Mississippi it won't be surprising if the federal government steps in with one excuse or another to save lives.

Ontora Scouting Camporee Is Held; 130 Participate

Fair skies favored the annual Girl Scout camporee held June 19, 20 and 21 at Camp Mountain Pals, Mt. Tremper.

Throughout Saturday troops competed in camping ability, conduct, knot tying, compass reading, nature, first aid, sewing and water boiling contests.

Approximately 130 Scouts participated composed of Brownie Troops 91 Phoenicia, 83 Ashokan, 138 Olive Bridge, 80 Lake Hill, Junior Troops 179 Bearsville, 124 Phoenicia, 178 Ashokan, 177 Shokan, Cadette Troops 139 Shady, 86 Olive Bridge and Senior Troop 172 Ontario School.

Troop 139 took first place for the third consecutive year in the Junior and Senior class. Troop 179 took second place with Troop 124 taking third.

Troop 91 took first place in the

The Saturday night campfire was again an inspiring spectacle presented by the Western District Chapter of Order of the Arrow, Half Moon Lodge 28. A presentation of Indian legend of why the crow is black was depicted in a dance with authentic costumes. Each troop then presented an original skit.

The flag pole presentation of awards ceremony was held Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk of Mt. Tremper, directors of the camporee thanked all those who for the past three years have made the camporee possible. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shikita, owners of Camp Mountain Pals, Ed Quadro, Woodstock, Tom Fickus, Ashokan, Pat DiSalvo, Woodstock, Bud Buley and son Westly, Ashokan, Bill Loran and son Rick, Woodstock, Ronnie Hutchinson, West Hurley, Mrs. Doris Arneson, staff nurse, Phoenicia and all troop leaders and assistants.

Festivities will start 1:30 p. m. All members and friends may attend. Those attending will bring hot dogs and rolls. Beverage, salads and other food items will be supplied by various members.

New York Ballet Is

To Summer at Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The Saratoga Performing Arts Center will be the summer home of the New York City Ballet in 1966.

The ballet company's plans to stage up to 32 performances during a four-week period starting July 5, 1966 were announced Thursday by Harold G. Wilm, state conservation commissioner, and Newbold Morris, board chairman of the City Center of Music and Drama Inc.

The Philadelphia Orchestra will perform at the center in August, 1966, while the traditional thoroughbred racing meeting is on here.

Ground will be broken for the $3-million center Tuesday in a ceremony in which Gov. Rockefeller will take part.

Passionettes Win Three in Flowers

Eight teams competed in the Flower League meet at Plaza Bowl, Saugerties, Wednesday night with Essie Owen's Passionettes taking all three of their games to total an even 2,000.

Defeating the Tiger Lilies 640-681-679 with a 63-pin handicap, the winners netted 619-660-658—1937 over their opponents' 644-658-654—1956 gross.

In other matches, the Bleeding Hearts took their last two games to gross a 649-683-688—2020 as opposed to the Snap Dragon's 677-651-660—1988 tally. The Sweet Peas won their first two and finished with 728-613-574—1915 while the Poppies managed to come up in the third and ended with a gross of 591-592-615—1798.

The Rose Buds took a close one against the Tulips, totaling 607-682-602—1891, with the losers grossing 588-600-620—1808.

2447 Gross Total In Stephano Win

Stephano's Construction took their first and third games to gross a total of 2447 to Sangi's Bowlero score of 2382 and P. F. Electric Motors out-rolled the Electric Five 2325-2415 in the Bowlero Summer Classic League meet at Sangi's Wednesday.

Stephano's had 835 in the first to Sangi's 698 and watched the losers scrape through with 793 to their 775 in the third clinched the win.

P. F. Electric won the first two in a row, rolling 836 and 855 while the losers stayed in the upper 700's. The winners lost their last round by 16 points, as the Electric Five rolled a neat 850.

Friendly Raps 13-4 Softball Win in Saugerties

Friendly Inn wasn't exactly that in belting out a 13-4 victory over Dale's Chevron in the Saugerties Softball League as FI bats boomed for 12 hits.

They did it in spite of seven errors.

Friendly Jack Lechner set a season record for the league by blasting five runners across the plate. He smashed a home run, a double and a single in four trips to the platter in the process. Team mate Jerry Smith settled for a perfect day at the plate with two-for-two, including another round-tripper. Bob Shuenbacher whacked a two-bagger for the winners. Winning pitcher Bob Wolven added to his cause by knocking in two tallies.

Dale's was spared complete humiliation by reeling off a triple play in the seventh inning, although they committed five playing misuses. Chevron John Gambino had two-for-four for the losers.

The line score:

Friendly	.....520	114	0—13	12
Dale's	.....200	101	0—4	5

Bob Wolven and Bob O'Connor; Ralph Childers and John Hinchey.

Canadian Trotter Bows in Big M Feature Tonight

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Amulet Hanover, the seven-year-old brown mare owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Leblanc of Quebec City, Canada, makes her bow in the $5,000 invitational ranks at Monticello raceway tonight as the 3-1 early line favorite.

A winner here last weekend in 2:03.3—fastest trotting time of the season at the Sullivan County oval—Amulet Hanover has been assigned the No. 5 post in the one-mile handicap test. Roger White will do the driving. The Satt's pride mare, which will be facing the likes of Great Pleasure, Dancing Demon, Mighty Indian and newcomers Hadley's Boy and Timmy, carries an impressive record into the one-mile battle.

In eight starts this year, Amulet Hanover has breezed to four wins, a second and three thirds for a bankroll of slightly under $10,000. Both Great Pleasure, assigned the outside six hole, and Timmy are pegged as the 7-2 co-second choices by oddsmakers.

Eddie Cobb piloted the eight-year-old Maregreat Pleasure to a 2:04.2 triumph at MR last week. That win, her second in 14 tries, boosted her earnings for the year over the $20,000 mark.

In Timmy, a five-year-old Demon Hanover gelding owned by the Ohio Valley stables of Hamilton, Ohio, Amulet Hanover and Great Pleasure will be meeting a rugged opponent.

Campaigning mostly in Chicago and Philadelphia this spring, Timmy racked up $23,000 in winnings of a 2-4-4 chart for 14 starts.

Hugh McIntosh will take the latter from post position four. Veteran trotter Mighty Indian was assigned the rail and will be handled by Jim Grundy. He is listed at 9-2 in the morning line. Dancing Demon, 4-1 from post two with Bobby Camper driving, and Hadley's Boy, 5-1 from the three hole with Paige West assigned, complete the lineup.

The associate feature tonight will be a $3,500 invitational handicap trot which finds Miss Sarah Rodney pegged the 3-1 favorite from post five in a field of seven starters.

Supplementing the card will be three invitational pacing tests.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Jerry Lynch, Pirates, hit two home runs and drove in three runs as Pittsburgh belted New York 8-1, defeating the Mets for 11th time in 13 tries.

PITCHING — Steve Barber, Orioles, pitched a three-hitter, striking out nine as Baltimore completed a three-game sweep of the New York Yankees 3-1 and moved 2½ games in front in the American League pennant race.

Politics Come To Wimbledon

By BOB WATTS
Associated Press Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Officials at aristocratic Wimbledon, which prides itself on being the world's best-run tournament, were wondering today just what to do if any more Communist players refuse to play with South Africans because of apartheid.

Politics hit Wimbledon tennis for the first time in its 78 years Thursday when Russia's No. 2 player, Alex. Metreveli, scratched from the men's singles after refusing to meet South African Abie Segal in a third-round match because of South Africa's racial policies.

This shock withdrawal was closely followed by Hungarian Istvan Gulyas pulling out of the men's doubles in which he was to have partnered Segal.

Now Wimbledon officials are wondering if another player, Mrs. Suzi Kormoczy of Hungary, will withdraw from the doubles first-round match in which she is scheduled to play with Christiane Mercelis of Belgium against Segal's wife, Heather, and Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla.

One Wimbledon official said: "To keep political propaganda out of Wimbledon in the future we should insist that a player can only withdraw if he produces a valid medical certificate."

Russian coach Semyon Belitz-German said: "The decision was entirely up to Metreveli's own conscience. There was no pressure from me or from the tennis association in Moscow."

Politics apart, Thursday saw the exit of the first seed in the women's bracket — seventeenth-ranked Jan Lehane of Australia. Norma Baylon, the young Argentine star, beat her 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Otherwise, all of the seeds, both men and women, who took the courts Thursday came through — though several had some uneasy moments.

These included the holders of the men's and women's titles — Chuck McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., who was taken to four sets by Denmark's bearded Torben Ulrich, 7-5, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Marge Smith of Australia, who struggled through a marathon first set before beating Mrs. Karen Susman, of San Antonio, Tex., 1962 winner but unseeded this year, 11-9, 6-0.

Outfielder Admits

He Substituted Ball

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — As a high fly hit by Dan Napoleon soared toward the fence Thursday night, evidently bound for home run territory, it was suddenly snared from the air in a spectacular catch—or so it appeared.

But later, outfielder John May of the Binghamton Triplets in the Class A New York-Pennsylvania League admitted he didn't catch the ball after all. He said he went through the gestures, but actually substituted the ball in that was hit out of the park, with one he had in his uniform pocket.

May apologized to Auburn Manager Clyde McCullough and explained he was sorry to Binghamton Manager Andy Palko, who said as far as he was concerned the incident "is closed." Napoleon was credited with the homer. Auburn won the game, 4-2.

Orioles Beat Yanks Third Straight; Kauffax Has New Strikeout Record

Barber Is In Good Form

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dust off the first chair, boys — Baltimore's fanciest Barber is back in business!

Steve Barber, who bossed the Orioles' pitching corps a year ago with a 20-13 mark, can count his 1964 victories on one hand. But the three-hit, nine-strikeout trim job he did on New York Thursday night in a 3-1 verdict over the Yankees had all the earmarks of a return to 1963 form.

The southpaw's effort, coupled with home runs by Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson, gave the Orioles a sweep of the three-game series and stretched their American League lead over the Yanks to 2½ games.

A month ago, Barber was still looking for his first victory. He had started five games, finished none and was laboring with a sore arm and a 6.63 earned run average.

Now he's 4-4 with two complete games in his last three starts and a 3.79 ERA. His left arm is healthy again, which is more than can be said for the Yankees' image.

They came into Baltimore on a five-game win skid and left with their heads shaved. Manager Yogi Berra, however, was unruffled.

"We're one game behind (in the loss column) with 98 to play," he purled. While the Orioles were mistreating New York for the third straight time, the red-hot Los Angeles Angels captured their ninth in a row, nipping Kansas City 4-3, and climbed into a sixth-place tie with idle Boston. Cleveland overpowered Minnesota 8-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

St. Louis topped Houston 4-2, Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 8-1 and San Francisco nipped Los Angeles 2-1 in 13 innings in National League action.

Barber's scissors slipped once against the Yanks. Joe Pepitone led off the third inning with his ninth homer. But Powell's 16th circuit—his third in the series—and Robinson's eighth, both off loser Jim Bouton, gave Barber all the runs he needed before 36,368 fans, largest Baltimore crowd of the season.

Bob Rodgers' sixth-inning single scored Bob Perry, snapping a 3-3 deadlock at Los Angeles and extending the longest winning streak in Angel history. Fred Newman recorded his fourth straight victory with the aid of Dan Osinski's scoreless three-inning relief stint.

Veterans Jim Piersall and Vic Power each delivered runs in the Angels' three-run third inning. Bill Bryan hit a solo homer for the A's, who scored twice in the top of the sixth, to tie it.

Max Alvis crashed his third homer in two games and Jack Kralick won his eighth game in 10 decisions as the Indians cuffed former teammate Mudcat Grant. Kralick collected three hits and combined with reliever Don McMahon for a three-hitter.

Larry Brown also homered for Cleveland and Dick Howser went 3-for-5. The Twins' Bob Allison stretched his hitting string to 15 games with a fourth-inning double.

Kelso Seems Ready To Again Take Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Kelso, the 7-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable, appears ready to make his run for a fifth straight Horse-of-the-Year title and top spot among the all-time money winners.

After running two poor races on the West Coast, the son of Your Host-Maid of Flight got back into winning stride with a 1¼-length victory in the $15,000 Straight Face at Aqueduct Thursday.

His share of the purse wasn't much, $8,750, but it boosted his total earnings to $1,591,452 and left him only $158,417 back of the leading money winner, Round Table.

More important than the victory, with Ismael Valenzuela in the saddle, Kelso showed he was ready for the big test in the 1¼ miles of the $100,000-Added Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct July 4. Weights will be announced next week and one of his probable opponents is Quadrangle, the 3-year-old who won the Belmont Stakes.

Del Crandall Gets 4 Hits

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sandy Koufax set his record but the 35,930 Candlestick Park fans who saw him do it probably will remember Del Crandall's performance a lot longer.

Koufax has struck out 10 or more batters in a game 54 times before, but how many times has Crandall had four hits in a game?

It was the veteran catcher's fourth safety of the night that broke up a 13-inning oldtime Giant - Dodger donnybrook Thursday night and gave San Francisco a 2-1 squeaker over Los Angeles.

Crandall, acquired from Milwaukee last winter, delivered the key blow in the final inning after hits by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda and an intentional walk to Jim Ray Hart had loaded the bases.

Crandall, batting .188 going into the game, cracked his game-ending hit off Nate Oliver's glove as Cepeda scampered across with the winning run.

Four innings earlier, Koufax had broken the mark he shared with Rube Waddell and Bob Feller, by reaching the 10-or-more strikeout plateau for the 55th time in his career.

The Dodgers got their first run on Roy Fairly's third homer of the year in the seventh. San Francisco tied it on Mays' walk and steal of second and Tom Haller's pinch single in the eighth.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh whipped New York for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 8-1, and St. Louis rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to whip Houston 4-2.

Jerry Lynch hammered two homers and Bill Mazeroski had one as the Pirates piled up an early lead against the Mets. The 13-hit attack made it easy for Joe Gibbon, who fired a four-hitter.

Ron Hunt had two hits for the Mets and scored their only run. It was New York's fifth straight loss and 13th in the last 14 games.

Ken Boyer and Dick Groat cracked eighth inning doubles to drive in the three Cardinal runs as St. Louis rallied to beat Bob Bruce. Boyer's two-run shot came after Curt Flood walked and Bill White singled. Groat's hit added the insurance run.

Bob Aspromonte drove in both Houston runs with a pop fly double in the second inning and a homer in the sixth.

Tebbetts Has Hopes Of Joining Indians

ANNA MARIA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, Cleveland Indians manager who has been recuperating from a heart attack at his home, left Thursday for Cleveland with hopes of rejoining the club.

Tebbetts will first undergo a complete physical examination and if permitted by his physicians, will rejoin the Indians immediately.

Tebbetts suffered the heart attack April 1 during spring training in Arizona.

Accompanying him were his wife, Mary, and four children.

Sickler's Win 6-4 in American

Sickler's Delivery capitalized on a four-run second inning to post a 6-4 verdict over Felice's Masonry in the American LL.

They went through the complete batting order and picked up four hits in the process.

Felice scored two runs in the top of the second inning before the Sicklers bounced back. The winners pushed two more tallies across in the bottom of the fifth and Felice came back with two in the top of the sixth but that wasn't enough.

Keith Nickerson allowed two hits and struck out 11 batters in earning the win and had a perfect day at the plate with three-for-three, including a double.

Teammate Mark Kachigan rapped a double. Mike Felice and Steve Hogan added two-for-three each for the winners.

Indians scalped the Tigers 8-1 on nine hits in a Town of Ulster LL contest.

Gary Short struck out 15 batters and had a perfect day at bat, including a two-bagger, in taking honors in both the hurling and slugging departments. Short stroked three-for-three. He gave up three hits.

The Injuns jumped off to a four-run lead and added two more in the top of the third. The Tigers came across with their lone tally in the bottom of the fourth, but the Indians posted an additional pair of runs in the top of the fourth to put the game on ice. The scoring ended there.

Indian Ed Stevenson slammed two-for-three, including a double. Team mate George Lay also went two-for-three. The Tigers' John Salzman also had two hits in three trips to the plate. His team mate, Kevin Crosby, poked a two-bagger. Short walked four batters in taking the win.

KPA, 35 Club Cop Wins in BR Loop

Frank McGowan literally threw away a no-hitter as the 35 Club edged the Legion 2-1 in a Babe Ruth League game at Dietz Stadium.

Kingston Patrolmen's Association whipped the Masons 11-5 in the first game of a twin bill at the stadium.

"Although both teams scored lone tallies in the first inning, they went scoreless through the next five frames, with McGowan failing to yield a hit. Mike Milano singled in the bottom of the sixth for 35 to break the ice. He went to second on an attempted pickoff, and McGowan threw the ball into centerfield allowing Milano to score what proved to be the winning run. The Legion failed to score in the top of the seventh and the bad toss proved the difference.

McGowan struck out 15 Legion batsmen and walked two in taking the loss. He picked up two of the losers' three hits, including a triple, in three trips to the plate.

Paul Koeppefanned 12 and issued five walks in taking the win.

KPA romped for nine hits in the opener in which they went only one inning without a score. They surged for five runs after the Masons tallied once in the opening inning.

The Masons scored once in the second but KPA rapped two more across in the third. Both teams tallied once in the fourth and twice in the fifth. KPA added a bonus run in the sixth and held the Masons scoreless in the final frame.

Bill Kilquist led the victors at bat with three bingles in four trips to the plate. Doug Craddock rapped two-for-four for the Masons while teammate Bob Gorsline belted a double. "Tim Bowen, winning hurler, and Charles Howell, losing pitcher, each fanned three and walked three.

A spectacular one-handed catch by Jim Meyers in right field for KPA in the 7th inning was the fielding gem of the game.

Jay-Cee Hawks Beat Crows, 7-2

Tom Kuriger was tagged for his first loss in six games as the Hawks dumped the Crows 7-2 in a two-hit effort by his opposing moundman, Scott Findholt.

Findholt whiffed 14 Crows and failed to issue a single walk in taking the win, while Kuriger fanned 13 and issued four free passes. There were no extra base hits.

The Hawks tallied twice in the top of the first inning and added three more in the second before the Crows scored once in the bottom of the second. That would have been enough to wing the Hawks in on a victory but they added single tallies in the third and fourth while the best the Crows could come up with was one more run in the fifth. Findholt limited the losers to two safeties. The Crows committed five errors.

Mira Hopes All-Star Games Will Sharpen Him for 49ers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—

George Mira hopes to sharpen up in two all-star games for his big chance with the San Francisco 49ers. The fabulous quarterback from the University of Miami has been dreaming of playing pro ball since his sophomore year.

"The 49ers have a good one in John Brodie," said Mira. "I hope to learn a lot from him. I hope I can get to play this year. It's tough to sit on the bench. It's a big step and I'm anxious to get there and learn all I can."

Mira will quarterback the East team against the West in the All-America game at War Memorial Stadium Saturday night, co-sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association and the Buffalo Evening News. The game will be carried on network (ABC) television.

"Coach Jack Christiansen was down to Miami in January and spent some time with me," said Mira. "We went over films and a couple of plays. I think the big problem is learning the different defenses and knowing when to change plays at the line of scrimmage."

Mira thinks he is big enough at 5-foot-11½ to make the grade as a pro although he admits he will be dwarfed by some of the big defensive men in the National Football League.

"I can stay in the pocket all right," said Mira. "But I can get out and go if I have to. I throw real hard with a lot of wrist motion but I can throw soft passes, too."

Mira credits Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts with helping him during a spring practice session while he was at Miami.

"Unitas helped me tremendously," said Mira. "He helped me with my foot work and made me stride out longer. He also told me you don't have to throw certain passes as hard as others. When a man is open you don't have to drill it, but you have to throw a needle when a man is covered."

Mira has some apt targets on the East squad, coached by Pete Elliott of Illinois. Bob Lacey of North Carolina and Jim Kelly of Notre Dame will be at the ends and Paul Marth of Pitt at the flanker spot, plus little Sherman Lewis of Michigan State at left half.

"I've been throwing the ball for about a month and working out," said Mira. "This game should help my conditioning. I am going to drive out to San Francisco in time to get there July 10 for a week of camp before it is time to report for the All-Star game in Chicago, Aug. 7."

"These all-star games are great. You want to do your best for yourself and for your school. A lot of people in Miami and back home in Key West will be watching on television."

Mets, Cubs Post Wins in Pee Wee

The Cubs and Mets won in a pair of squeakers in St. Mary's Pee Wee loop.

Cubs edged the Tigers 6-5 to stay one game behind the first-place Mets who beat the Red Sox 4-3 in an extra-inning game.

Cub hurler Willy Costello pitched and batted his way to victory over the Tigers, allowing five hits while smacking a home run and triple in two trips to the plate. Team mate Greg Murphy clubbed three-for-three.

Brutus' Ross Carey and Rich Ambrose stroked two-for-three each while Joe Pugliese rapped two-for-four.

Duane Carey posted a perfect day at the plate for the losers with three singles in as many trips. The winners poked a total of 12 hits.

Dave Naccarato's long double in the bottom of the eighth inning drove Dan Mahoney across the plate with the winning run for the Mets after Mahoney had singled. The Sox outlived the winners, 10-5, but left seven men stranded on base.

Mets scored a pair of runs in the bottom of the first frame. The Sox brought a lone tally across in the third but the Mets added another in the fourth to take the lead, 3-1.

Sox hurler Dan Gallagher singled in the top of the sixth and scored on the triple by Frank Denton, who was thrown out at home plate trying to stretch it into a round-tripper. The Sox

Mets Beat Bucs In Nat'l by 4-1

Mets scuttled the Pirates 4-1 in a National LL game in which there were no extra base bingles.

Winning pitcher Paul DeCicco fanned nine batters and walked one in picking up the victory.

Gene Hofbauer, who was relieved after three innings by Gary Schoonmaker, took the loss. The Pirates tied it up 1-1 after two innings of play, but the Mets came up with two runs in the top of the third and added one more in the top of the sixth. DeCicco held the home club scoreless for the last four frames.

NEW YORK HARNESS RACING RESULTS

By The Associated Press
Favored Pack Hanover won the $45,000 Transoceanic Trot at Yonkers Raceway with ease Thursday night in the top attraction of the New York harness racing circuit.

American-bred and Italian-owned, Pack Hanover pulled away in the stretch in the 1 mile race for a three length victory over Sprite Kid of Canada.

Pack Hanover, the 6-year-old son of Hoot Mon, posted a time of 2:37 2-5 and returned $3.70, $2.60 and $2.50.

Third place Oscar R.L. of France and fourth place Fury Hanover of Italy joined Pack Hanover and Oscar R.L. in qualifying for Thursday's $60,000 United Nations Trot, the third leg of Yonkers' $150,000 International Trotting Series.

Next week's field will include the first four finishers from last week's Gotham at Yonkers, American-owned Duke Rodney, Porterhouse, A.C.'s Viking and Su Mac Lad.

The two Russian horses in the Transoceanic, Legion and Ranit, broke stride early and were never in contention.

Other feature race winners: Buffalo Raceway — Breck Hanover ($7.30) won the one-mile trot in 2:07.

Saratoga Raceway — Venus Scott ($17.50) won the first division of the $4,500 Pace in 2:05 4-5; Bill Yocum ($3.90) won the second in 2:06 1-5.

Vernon Downs — Amy Potomac ($7.70) took the $2,000 Trot by six lengths in 2:03 2-5.

Monticello — Kenland Squaw ($13.40) turned in a 2:06 1-5 to win the $2,000 Conditioned Trot.

Monticello Oval Driver Suspended

MONTICELLO — Judges at Monticello Raceway Thursday announced the suspension of driver George Sadosky for five days.

Sadosky, of Freehold, N. J., was set down for needlessly permitting a horse to pass on the inside. The incident occurred when he was driving Famous in Tuesday's third race. The horse was placed on the stewards' list for poor performance and now must qualify before racing again.

Sadosky will be eligible to drive again on July 3.

Twin Double Is $4,440 at Oval

MONTICELLO — Kenland Squaw, which won for a $78.80 mutual the last time out, got off at 5-1 odds in Thursday night's feature $2,000 trot at Monticello Raceway and responded with a length and three-quarter triumph in 2:06.1.

Driven by owner Vince Kachel of Shillington, Pa., the six-year-old mare returned a healthy $13.40, $6.20 and $6.80 to backers in the crowd of 4,005.

Kachel took Kenland Squaw to the top at the start and hit the first quarter in 31.2. Specter took over at the half in 1:03.2, but Kenland Squaw was coming on fast along the outside and led at the three-quarters in 1:35 flat.

Wildwood Chris got home second for $9.60 and $6.10, while Specter finished third, paying $4.20.

The Twin Double paid $4,440.00 on the 2-5-3-5 combination. There were 5 winning tickets.

Kingston Sport Club in Soccer Tilt This Sunday

The first of two games for the Central New York Soccer League championship will be played at 3 p. m. Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge field when the Kingston Sport Club will be host to the Albany Athletic Club.

A return match is scheduled between the two teams July 5 at Zwickelbauer's field at McCormack's Corners.

The Kingston booters won over the Albany Sons of Italy by default last Sunday to go into a tie for first place with the Albany A.C. Kingston is aiming for its third consecutive championship which would earn them permanent ownership of the league trophy.

The main contest will be preceded at 1 p. m. by an inter-squad game.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the Werder Bremen team of Germany beat Lanerosci of Italy and the Hearts of Scotland won over the Blackburn Rovers of England in the first section of the International Soccer League tournament at Randall's Island. The results put Werder Bremen in first place in the first section. They will play the winner of the second section on July 26. On Aug. 2, the second section winner will play Dukla of Czechoslovakia, winner of the ISL the past two years.

Kart Wheelers Results
Lou Murasso, of Poughkeepsie, won first place in the super junior event Sunday at Kart Wheelers Raceway, Clintondale. John Giangrosso, of Yonkers, finished second.

Other area winners included Judy Saries, Marlboro, first, and Jim LeRoy, Highland, second, in stock lightweight; John Baio, Peekskill, first, and Fred Michel, New Paltz, second, in stock heavyweight, and Edward Foerschler, Hyde Park, first in super heavyweight.

Stable-Shomo Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—One thing boxing observers used to say about Jose Stable was "Boy, can he take a punch." Now they're not so sure since the Cuban welterweight contender suffered a broken jaw in a gym workout with one Tito Marshall eight months ago.

The 23-year-old Cuban, ranked third among welter contenders and never stopped in 25 pro fights, will have his choppers tested tonight by streaking Vince Shomo of New York in a televised 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Shomo, 24, a former amateur flash who had trouble for a while adjusting to the pro competition, has won five straight and has zoomed to a No. 4 rating. His record is 12-6-1.

Until his jaw was busted for free in the gym, Stable was the hottest guy around in the welter set next to champion Emile Griffith and ex-champ Luis Rodriguez. He had won six in a row and boasted a 22-2-1 record.

Ferrier Had No Such Purses

CLEVELAND (AP) — Australian-born Jim Ferrier, a world golf tour for a quarter-century, wishes he had had a crack at some of the present-day purses while in his prime.

Now only a year away from the half-century mark, genial Jim figures he could have made a lot of money with the more than 20 tournaments he has won since 1944. He picked up only $3,500 as first prize for winning the PGA Championship in 1947, but last year Jack Nicklaus received $13,000 for the same chore.

Ferrier, who didn't help his hopes or financial situation Thursday with an opening 76 in the $100,000 Cleveland Open—only six of the field of 159 finished—said he sees a big future for the golfing greats.

"Practically every tournament is worth $50,000 or more these days," he said. "In 1953 the total purses were $562,000 and last year they were over $2 million and they'll go on up."

"In the first America tournament I entered about 1940, the total purse was $3,500 and the winner got $850. The winner of this Cleveland meet gets $20,000."

Jim said gold had been good to him, about $100,000 in the last 15 years but will be better for the crop of youngsters now getting into the act.

The tourist put on quite a show Thursday in the opening round here and old man par—he's 71—took a beating. Sixty-three of the 159 starters broke par, 22 others matched it, and only one amateur soared as high as 80.

Al Geiberger, the 26-year-old Californian, birdied six of the last 10 holes to take the lead with a 64 over the 6,821-yard par-71 Highland Park municipal layout, and his edge was a single stroke. On his heels with 65 were Tony Lema, winner of two of the last three tournaments, and long-hitting George Bayer. Defending champion Arnold Palmer was in an eight-way tie for eighth with 67, and Jack Nicklaus was in a 10-way deadlock for 16th with 68. Other hotshots were scattered all over the board as they headed into today's second round of the 72-hole four-day test.

Indications were that sub-par totals would be necessary to stay in the fight as the field is cut to 90 at the halfway mark.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Employees reporting for work at an East Los Angeles office found a hole in the ceiling, the office thoroughly ransacked, and a note reading: "So, solve this one. (Signed) Ace."

The office where the burglary was discovered Thursday was the L. F. Clark Detective Agency.

Williams Hurls 1-Hitter in RVLL

Tigers squeezed by the Indians for a 3-0 win in the Rondout Valley LL in which each team scored but one hit.

Winning hurler Tom Williams allowed a lone bingle to John Tillson as he faced but 19 batters in the six innings of play. He struck out nine and issued two bases on balls.

Losing pitcher Davis Heinitz whiffed 16 Tigers and walked three in facing 22 batters.

Skip Lyons' triple was the lone hit by the winners. The Tigers scored lone rallies in the third, fourth and sixth innings.

The line score:

Tigers	.....	001 101—3
Indians	.....	000 000—0

Tom Williams and Skip Lyons; David Heinitz and Gary Guenther.

The Smithsonian Institution's new Museum of History and Technology has the original Star Spangled Banner on display.

Tigers Rip Yanks By 10-2 in Hurley

Tigers ripped the Yanks 10-2 in a Hurley LL contest.

Rich Whelan led the victors at the plate with three hits in four trips at bat. However, team mate Jim Smith rapped two doubles in four appearances and Tim Whelan collected two-for-four, including a two-bagger. Ken Hoffstatter stroked a double for the losers.

The Bengals rolled up eight runs before the Yanks scored a lone tally in their half of the fourth. However, the Tigers clawed for two more in the sixth, in which the Yankees pushed across another lone run. Smith gave up six hits in taking the win.

The line score:

Tigers	.....	024 202—10
Yanks	.....	000 101—2

Jim Smith and Scott Smith; Mike Bushnell and Dirk Hoffstatter.

Northeastern Will Absorb Negro Groups

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Northeastern Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church will absorb two groups of Negro churches in another step in the church's drive to rid itself of segregationist practices.

Delegates to the quadrennial meeting of the Northeastern Jurisdiction voted Thursday to transfer the Washington and Delaware Conferences of the Central Jurisdiction into the Northeastern Jurisdiction.

The Methodist Church as a whole has voted to eliminate its Central Jurisdiction which is based on racial tactics and comprises mostly Negro churches.

The other jurisdictions, such as the Northeastern, are based on geography.

The Northeastern Jurisdiction's action Thursday also included approval of a transfer of Bishop Prince A. Taylor Jr. of Baltimore, a Negro, into the Northeastern Jurisdiction. Bishop Taylor supervises the two Negro conferences.

Another of the 16 Negro conferences is expected to be transferred into the North Central Jurisdiction next month, along with the second of five Negro bishops.

Elimination of the Central Jurisdiction has been under discussion and preparation for several years.

More than 300 clerical and lay delegates are attending the meeting. They represent nearly 2 million Methodists in 12 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Arrests for Major Crimes Increase
In First Quarter

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The number of arrests during the first quarter of 1964 for major crimes in New York State set a record and was "substantially higher than anticipated," the state correction commissioner reported.

Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis said Thursday that the 19,885 arrests during the January-March period this year was 15.1 per cent higher than during the previous record quarter, July-September last year, and 22.6 per cent higher than during the last quarter of 1963.

He said that, even when population and seasonal factors were considered, the rise was greater than expected.

New York City, which has about 45 per cent of the state's population, accounted for more than 80 per cent of the arrests, McGinnis said.

World News In Brief

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rebuke for Moro

ROME (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies rejected Premier Aldo Moro's plan for financial aid to church and other private schools Thursday night, handing him his sharpest rebuke since he put together his center-left coalition a half year ago.

May Boost Purchases

MOSCOW (AP) — An 18-member Mexican mission ends a two-week tour of Soviet industrial facilities Saturday and indicates it will recommend increased purchases of Soviet industrial equipment.

The mission, which also visited Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland, included specialists in oil and petrochemical industries, mining, machine tools, building equipment, agricultural machinery, electric power and railroads.

To Offer Compromise

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian Parliament will be asked to approve a compromise national medical insurance plan endorsed by the government and the medical profession.

The plan was announced Thursday after 10 months of dispute, including a nationwide doctors' strike in April.

Kissing, Cuddling Out

VALLETTA, Malta (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church is setting up a vigilance committee to see that tourists behave in Malta.

Earlier this week the government banned public kissing and cuddling. The police also have reported that holidaymakers have been appearing at resort spots dressed "indecently."

Names In The News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller, who will be 84 Saturday, is a woman of "great dignity who is just growing old with grace."

So reports a frequent caller at the country home of the blind and deaf author.

Miss Keller has given up writing and lectures. She refuses to receive reporters and photographers. Old friends and relatives call often at her white clapboard house for a chat.

NEW YORK (AP) — A visitor from abroad would have good reason to believe that the Johnsons have taken over the country.

By reading a newspaper this week, he could have learned that President Lyndon B. Johnson, deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam, named Lt. Gen. Harold K. Johnson as Army chief of staff and held a telephone conference with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi.

CHICAGO (AP) — Quote of the day: William Northrop, a Chicago construction worker after he was awarded a medal for subduing and capturing the assailant of a stenographer: "I acted on instinct. I saw somebody in trouble and I went to help. Wouldn't anybody?"

January 1963 Graduates — Sharon Amend, Dolores Benson, Robert Ricketson.

It states: "Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance, Saugerties High School, has reported a procedure which they have found helpful to minimize the amount of time required for processing transcripts for seniors who are applying for advanced education. In the spring of the junior year, each eleventh grader is asked to prepare a 'Junior Information Sheet.' On this paper he is asked to indicate his future educational and occupational plans. The forms of those planning to pursue some type of advanced education are then sorted into one pack. As time will permit during the summer and early fall, the guidance secretary types the scholastic records of these pupils on standard form spirit duplicator stencil.

After each stencil has been checked very carefully by the director of guidance for accuracy and clarity, four copies of each record are then duplicated and filed for future use.

Old-Fashioned Idea
BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — An old-fashioned touch was added to the wedding of Miss Bobbie Hannah Trigg at Wickland, her historic Bardstown home. She and groom John Cavender Sanderson left Wickland, a horse-drawn carriage but had to abandon the idea a short way down the driveway.

Sanderson didn't know how to drive a horse.

Folklore Issue
Publishes Glunt
Article on Area

COOPERSTOWN — Mrs. Ruth Reynolds Glunt, Lighthouse Drive, Saugerties, is the author of an article on the Overlook Mountain House in the June issue of the New York Folklore Quarterly, published recently in Cooperstown.

Mrs. Glunt recalls the summers spent at that famous resort in the first decade of the present century. She describes the hotel and relates in detail the typical activities of guests both young and old at the Overlook. She also describes the exceptional view that was enjoyed from its elevated location.

Mrs. Glunt earlier wrote for the New York Folklore Quarterly about living on a Hudson River island. She has also written for the New York State Conservationist and for local newspapers.

The New York Folklore Quarterly, now in its 20th year, is edited by William G. Tyrrell of Albany. It is published by the New York Folklore Society, which is affiliated with the New York State Historical Association and its Farmers' Museum. The magazine features songs, sayings, tales, proverbs, and other varieties of the state's rich heritage of folklore. The society holds two meetings each year, one in New York City in March, and this year, a fall gathering in Cooperstown in September.

At the Firemen's Bazaar, July 1, 2, 3, and 4, a committee of ladies will assist the men at the various refreshment booths.

Centerville Home Unit
Has Luncheon Meet

Forty members and friends of Centerville Home Extension Unit attended a smorgasbord luncheon at Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck, Wednesday.

A past officer's pin was presented by Ethel Jehle to Dorothy Maxfield, past chairlady and Helen Walbroel, past treasurer.

The group will meet at the Roosevelt Memorial and others to Vanderbilt Mansion. Meetings are discontinued until fall.

Three men were given an intelligence test, and one part of it was impromptu. Just to see what would happen, the examiner tore maps into pieces, and handed each man the torn bits to put together.

After quite a while 2 of the men gave up in disgust, but the third man had finished his.

Examiner — That's very good. But, how did you do it?

Nizer Steps Up Bid

NEW YORK (AP)—Attorney-author Louis Nizer plans to make himself "generally more available" to Democratic leaders in a stepped-up bid for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

Nizer told a news conference Thursday that he felt the undecided race for the nomination between himself and U.S. Rep. Samuel Stratton, Amsterdam, was far from settled.

Stratton has not announced formally for the nomination but has said he would accept it if the party leaders chose him far enough in advance of the September state convention to allow time for him to wage a good campaign.

E. Bohan of Ulster Park, senior county counselor; Charles Gaffney, William Dole, Robert Lindemann, Carl Jacobson, and George Mead of American Legion Headquarters, New York City. Missing at the time was Michael Suenram, who was attending his party's nominating convention as a delegate. A total of 1,030 selectees are attending the week-long sessions.

Traffic Held Up After 28 Crash

Traffic was snarled Thursday afternoon on Route 28 about a half mile west of Onteora School when a station wagon operated by Richard Johnson, 177, of Shokan, struck a utility pole, breaking the pole and depositing a tangled mass of electric wires on the highway. Traffic was delayed over an hour and half.

Johnson traveling east on Route 28 at about 5 p. m. ran off the right side of the road, skidded 130 feet, struck the utility pole and then continued on striking a tree. He was uninjured.

State Trooper John Turk, who investigated, charged Johnson with operating a car at a speed not reasonable or prudent and took him before Justice of the Peace Frank C. Carle where Johnson paid a $15 fine.

It took an hour and a half to clear the roadway and get traffic flowing in a normal manner.

Queens Boys Hurt By Explosion at Summer Home

Two Queens boys were injured shortly after noon Thursday when an explosion occurred as they were experimenting with chemicals in the yard of a Haines Falls summer home.

Trooper Carl Svenson of Leeds said Richard George Moen, 15, and Patrick Francis O'Hara Jr., both of Ozone Park, Queens, were taken to the Greene County Memorial Hospital. They were treated and released.

According to an investigation, Moen suffered lacerations of the left hand and over both eyes. O'Hara received lacerations over the right eye.

The incident, which occurred in the yard of the summer home of O'Hara's parents, was investigated by State Police BCI Investigator Patrick Romangano and Trooper William Todd.

Driver Escapes Injury

A 70-year-old motorist narrowly escaped injury at 3:10 p. m. Thursday when his car was involved in a collision on Route 23, Town of Catskill, with a tractor-trailer. Trooper Carl Svenson of Leeds sub-station, reported Jay Barrows, of Harpersville, was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer, when he apparently cut in too close and the crash occurred. Edward Handy, 45, of Albany, was the truck driver. Both men escaped injury, troopers said.

Violence Outbreak Is Worst

Florida March Is Set on by Whites

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Hundreds of white segregationists raced into a civil rights march Thursday night, screaming and flailing at Negroes in this city's worst outbreak of racial violence.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King said only the non-violence of Negroes "saved the city from a bloody night of terror."

At least 45 persons were injured and 15 of them were treated at a hospital. Dozens were arrested.

Protests were halted today as integrationists asked federal court in Jacksonville to overturn an order by Gov. Farris Bryant barring any group—integrationist or segregationist—from demonstrating after 8:30 p.m.

State Police Threatened
King said that he appealed to the White House for help at the height of Thursday night's melee and was assured the matter would be investigated. He frequently has called for federal marshals' protection.

For the first time in three weeks of almost daily confrontations, State Police were openly threatened. On at least two occasions, angry whites surrounded isolated groups of state troopers and tried to liberate Negro prisoners.

The Negro parade moved into the downtown square exactly like others which have been held. The proposed route went around the side of the square in which at least 200 whites were holding a segregation rally.

Break Through Police
When the Negro column approached, the whites burst through police lines and into the marchers with fists. Some of the Negroes were hit; some of the whites were clubbed by police and arrested.

The parade disintegrated and never reformed. Remnants of the march continued around the square with whites attacking again and again. Finally, the march turned into a rout. The Negroes ran toward their section of town, pursued by screaming whites who would hit once or twice, and race on.

The marchers straggled back to their starting point with some near hysteria.

King said that some were ready to get guns and return to the scene of the downtown riot.

Segregationist leaders told newsmen afterward that counter-demonstrations would continue as long as the Negro demonstrated.

Shokan Resident Lt. Governor at Legion Girls State

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—The Federalist Party dominated mock state elections at the annual Empire Girls State, electing a governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general.

The 300 high school girls attending elected Thursday Rachel Tessier of Glens Falls, governor; Susan Witko of Shokan, lieutenant governor, and Donna Noto of Pearl River, attorney general.

Option Taken on Mountain For Rosendale Ski Project

It was announced today that Rune Karlson and William P. Curran have signed an option to purchase the 117½ acre tract of land in the Village of Rosendale, known as Joppenbergh Mountain, the location of the Telemark Ski Jump, where championships ski jumping tournaments were held, for 1963 through 1964, but which were discontinued because of a gas rationing during World War II.

The signing of the option to purchase for a reported $20,000 is the first financial and legal step, along the road that will lead to the operation of the 60 meter championship Telemark Ski Jump, which will be operated by the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc., under sanctions from the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association, and in cooperation with the Metropolitan Ski Jumping Committee.

Karlson, councilman of the Town of Rosendale, and Curran, Rosendale attorney, and president of the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc., have called a meeting of any interested persons to attend, Monday at 8 p. m. at the village firehouse, Main Street, Rosendale. At this public meeting, a committee from the Ros-

Lots of Men, But Not Weapons

U.S. Toughens in Asia As China Power Slips

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is drawing the line in Southeast Asia at a time when Red China's ability to fight a major modern war is in a tailspin.

China's worn-out air force is starved for spare parts and new planes to replace a jet fleet that is largely of Korean War vintage.

Her army, huge in manpower, is strapped for up-to-date tanks and short on artillery.

There are serious scarcities of fuel to run the planes, tanks and vehicles "at China's heels have."

Red China's military deterioration set in about four years ago when the growing, ideological dispute with the Soviet Union led Moscow to shut off supplies and technical help to China.

Setback for Bomb
One effect of this has been to set back the day when China can explode her first atom bomb.

The Soviet-Chinese split seemingly has deepened and the prospect that the Soviet Union will resume arming China is considered remote.

U. S. officials regard as significant Moscow's recent warning to Red China that she should no longer count on Soviet backing in a crisis.

Some high officials believe this Soviet action was a direct result of repeated U. S. warnings that it is ready to risk war with China to keep Southeast Asia from falling under Communist domination.

Will Be Long Time
Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be "many, many years" before Red China is a first-class power.

This evaluation, based on solid intelligence information, is a main underpinning for the new U. S. "hard line" toward China.

There is an awareness that China could feel forced to call this country's hand.

She could, as she did in Korea, send hordes of men rolling into Southeast Asia.

Saugerties Father Is Viet Victim

A U. S. Army captain, whose wife and two children reside in Saugerties was killed Wednesday in the crash of a light observation plane in South Viet Nam.

An Associated Press report from Washington, D. C., identified the victim as Capt. Marlin E. McCahan, 28, with the 73rd Aviation Company. His widow is the former Patricia McManus of 5 Washburn Terrace, Saugerties.

The Army reported the crash was not caused by enemy action.

Capt. McCahan graduated from U. S. Military Academy at West Point on June 3, 1959 and Carson Long Military Academy, New Bloomfield, Pa., in 1954. He underwent advance training at Fort Rucker, Ala., and at that time Mrs. McCahan and their two children, Melissa, 4 and Lisa, 3, made their home with Mrs. McCahan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McManus at Washburn Terrace.

Also surviving are his parents, Mrs. Barbara McCahan and Kenneth McCahan, both of Harrisburg, Pa.

Local funeral arrangements will be announced by Seamon Funeral Home, John and Lafayette Streets, Saugerties.

Both Goldwater, Scranton Lose Strength on Ist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's first ballot strength slipped by eight votes this week and Gov. William W. Scranton's dipped by seven, an Associated Press survey of Republican presidential nominating delegates showed today.

Goldwater's current total of 686 is 31 more than the 655 needed to win the GOP nomination on the first countdown at the San Francisco convention opening July 13 if those who are personally committed to him or say they favor him stick with those who are bound to him.

Scranton, Pennsylvania Governor who is the Arizona senator's closest competitor, now has 131 first ballot votes, according to the AP survey.

Goldwater had been credited with 15 first ballot votes from the 58-vote Ohio delegation, but at a caucus earlier this week the delegates decided to support Gov. James A. Rhodes as a favorite son on the first ballot.

This surface loss of 15 votes for Goldwater was partially offset by a pickup of one in Florida and six in Tennessee.

Under the Ohio decision, Scranton lost 10 delegates who said they favored him on the first ballot. But he added two in New Jersey and another in West Virginia, making a net loss of seven.

Bright Future Seen for Uptown, Businessmen Install Officers

A large turnout of members of the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association gathered Thursday night at Hoppey's Restaurant for the annual dinner and installation of officers.

During the evening, retiring president George Svirsky outlined the comprehensive and hard hitting uptown promotional campaign designed for the coming year. He promised members that many improvements have been built into it as the result of experience with last year's successful campaign. Svirsky asked for the co-operation of all segments of the uptown business community in underwriting the program, noting that a very small minority of the retail merchants who benefit from the promotion are perhaps not shouldering their fair share of the costs.

Officers, Directors
Svirsky introduced to the members the incoming officers for 1964-1965. Adrian Kaplan will serve as president; Donald Winans, first vice president; F. Firstenberg, second vice president; and Andrew McDermott, secretary and treasurer.

The new board of directors includes Joseph Brady, Francis Kolts, Stephan Nekos, Richard Whittington and Herbert Kleiske for a term of one year; H. Van Wyck Darrow, August Foerschler, Harold Kaye, George Schneider and Stanley London for two years; and Clifford Bunting, Raymond Garraghan, William Ronduna, Robert Schneller and George Svirsky for three years.

Johnson Turns to U.N. To Ease Cyprus Crisis

Dulles Suggests Careful Handling

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Presidential fact-finder Allen Dulles says he doesn't see "any likely explosion" in this Deep South state over the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers.

U. S. sailors joined state and federal officers again today to comb this east-central Mississippi area for any clues to the trio, missing since last Sunday.

Sailors Join Search

President Johnson ordered the sailors from the nearby Meridian Naval Air Auxiliary Station to join the search late Thursday. One hundred sailors teamed with FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen to wallow knee-deep in mud through snake-infested swamps. Another 100 sailors were on standby duty at their base.

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 21, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, were last seen Sunday night when released from jail after paying a speeding fine.

The only clue to their mysterious disappearance was the finding Tuesday of their burned-out station wagon 17 miles north-east of Philadelphia.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was expected to brief President Johnson today on his mission to Mississippi. Dulles returned late Thursday night to Washington after two days in this state.

"I don't see any likely explosion," Dulles told an impromptu airport news conference in Washington.

Search in Good Hands
Dulles, who did not come to Philadelphia, said the search for Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney "is in good competent hands."

Before leaving the state he met at Jackson for 90 minutes with state civil rights leaders and again conferred with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Chains Self to FBI Door As CORE Demonstrates Here

A demonstration Thursday at Central Post Office as part of a nationwide protest against reported abuses of civil rights in Mississippi, included one at the FBI office there, in which a member of CORE, chained himself to an office doorknob.

The chaining was by Joseph Van Dyke, 22, son of Sixth Ward Alderman Leonard Van Dyke, of 18 Mill Street, and a member of the Ulster County Chapter of CORE.

March With Signs
Seven CORE demonstrators marched in a line outside the building carrying signs and Van Dyke was joined inside by Lenore Mills, 18, of 79 Broadway, another CORE member, who sat in front of the FBI office, and remained there with Van Dyke for five and a half hours during which they sang "freedom songs," and explained why they were there.

Picketing continued outside from noon until 5:30 p. m., and a torchlight demonstration was held at night. Picketing was due to resume at noon today.

Van Dyke said he refused to leave the federal building until he was given assurance from the New York FBI Office, that the FBI was "doing everything within its power" to locate the three CORE members reported missing in Mississippi.

Explaining his stand, Van Dyke said: "I felt it was the least I could do. Those young men were willing to go to Mississippi and risk their lives for the cause of civil rights. I wanted to hear directly from the head office of the FBI that they were using every conceivable method to find them."

CORE members reported that at 5 o'clock, when it was time to close the building for the day, local FBI officials "negotiated" with Van Dyke and Project Chairman Bertha DeWitt for a half hour.

FBI Message
At the end of that time, they said, the FBI having called its New York office, which conferred with J. Edgar Hoover's office in Washington, the following statement was issued: "The FBI is in full sympathy with your concern for the situation in Mississippi. The FBI is doing everything within its power in connection

Elite Police Squad Disbanded

11 Choose Dismissal, Balk About Collusion

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten city policemen, including a lieutenant in the department's elite investigating squad, have chosen dismissal rather than answer grand jury questions about police collusion with gamblers.

Shortly after the department disclosed the dismissals Thursday in the wake of an undercover, three-year probe, the 48-member investigating squad was disbanded and its members reassigned.

Lost Effectiveness
Police officials said the squad members had "lost their effectiveness."

The squad is composed of highly trained plainclothesmen who rely to a great extent on their anonymity, which the grand jury investigation might have destroyed.

The squad handled such specialized chores as probes of gambling, vice and even reports of corruption within the department.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said the inquiry was touched off by reports that some police had conspired with gamblers to accept bribes in exchange for overlooking gambling operations.

"We have been investigating these allegations in full cooperation with the district attorney's office for the last three years," Arm said.

Kept Wraps on Probe
Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said his office kept the probe under wraps because "you appreciate that we (have) to conduct an investigation without fanfare."

Rocco Errichetti, a civilian, also refused to waive immunity from prosecution and testify before the grand jury. He was ordered later by a State Supreme Court justice to waive immunity or face contempt of court charges.

Under state and city law, all municipal employees, including police, face dismissal if they refuse to waive immunity and testify.

Seven Lose Lives
In Okla. Crash,
Eighth Critical

BOSWELL, Okla. (AP)—A head-on collision between two cars early today killed seven persons and critically injured an eighth.

Children Victims
Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred two miles west of Boswell on U.S. 70, in the Lake Texoma area.

Dead on arrival at a Durant, Okla., hospital were, C. R. Brackett Jr., driver of one car, and his passengers, Glenn Rusby and F. M. Mack McMenamy; and Mabel B. Newton, 30, driver of the second car; her husband Raymond A. Newton, 31, and their two daughters, aged 11 and 5.

Driver Apparently Dozed
The Newtons were from Russellville, Ga.

In critical condition was a woman passenger with the Newtons, Vassie T. Johnson, 20.

Officers said Mrs. Newton apparently dozed at the wheel and swung across the highway dividing line into the path of the Brackett car.

Scranton Flays Both Johnson, GOP On Automation; Proposes 5 Points

DETROIT (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton hit today at what he termed failure of President Johnson's administration and "ostriches" within his own Republican party to cope with problems of automation.

"The underlying philosophy of the Johnson administration boils down basically to this: Delay automation as long as possible, harassing industry, Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery in this industrial city only hours before Johnson would appear here for an evening address at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Turning on the GOP, Scranton, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, declared:

"I must tell you that I think no more highly of the response of the ostriches in our own party. Their response appears to be: Bury your head in the lone prairie, until this and all other problems somehow go away."

Though Scranton did not mention Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, in the light of recent statements by Scranton his remarks appeared aimed at the Arizona senator. Goldwater presently holds a big edge in delegate strength for the nomination.

Scranton is campaigning in Michigan with hopes he could put some 45 Michigan delegates on ice for second-ballot support at next month's San Francisco convention.

Scranton proposed five points to meet the problem of automation "and to translate its benefit into a better, happier, more productive future for all of our people."

His proposals:
Remove restrictions on automation so that the nation can "maintain our competitive position in world trade" by turning out "all the goods that our economy can produce."

Encourage labor and management to "accept their full share of the responsibility for solving the short-range problems (of automation) that will be created."

"Launch a massive program of job retraining."

Gear education to "meet the needs of the new economy and the new society" and provide more funds through "altered" federal tax disbursements.

Diplomacy For Talks Rebuffed

President Fearful Of Open Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balked in efforts to set up direct talks between Greece and Turkey, the Johnson administration today turned to the United Nations for an easing of the explosive Cyprus crisis.

Sends Ball to N.Y.
After four days of apparently unsuccessful personal diplomacy, President Johnson dispatched Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, his Cyprus trouble shooter, to New York to report to U.N. officials on the results of his talks with Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu and Greek Prime Minister George Papandreu.

Fearful of open warfare between the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, Johnson tried to convince Inonu and Papandreu they should open direct diplomatic negotiations on a Cyprus settlement.

The Greek Cypriots outnumber the Turkish minority on Cyprus almost 5 to 1, and Greece advocates self-determination for the eastern Mediterranean island. Turkey firmly rejects Enosis—union of Cyprus with Greece.

Must Make Concessions
Johnson told both men their countries would have to make concessions, but argued this is in the interest of preventing a war between NATO allies and blocking a new Communist thrust into the area. The Soviet Union reportedly promised heavy arms aid to the Greek Cypriot government.

After seeing Johnson Monday and Tuesday, Inonu reportedly left with the understanding that he would go along with negotiations if they proved feasible. Papandreu saw the President Wednesday and again Thursday and turned down his appeal.

Turned to Thant
Now Ball plans to talk with Papandreu and Inonu in New York as well as report to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and to the U.N. Cyprus mediator, Ambassador Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland. He is prepared to promise strong U.S. support for a more intensive campaign by Tuomioja to get the Athens and Ankara governments moving toward some direct attack on their dangerous differences.

After rebuffing Johnson's appeal, Papandreu told reporters at Blair House, the President's guest house: "I do not think the views held on each side are mature enough for such a meeting. This is my attitude on all levels (of negotiation)."

Though three Michigan delegates were counted to Goldwater, the rest of the 48-member delegation are following the favorite-son lead of Gov. George W. Romney to the first ballot.

Scranton told a news conference Thursday night indications were in Michigan "that we're in a very favorable position."

The schedule for Scranton's Michigan visit included a swing to Detroit to address the Detroit Press Club, then a return to Lansing for an evening meeting with Michigan delegates. The governor planned to leave Lansing at 9:20 p. m. for Harrisburg.

The Pennsylvania governor competed for public attention in Michigan with the man he would face this November—President Johnson. The President is to address a Democratic $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Detroit tonight.

Scranton came to Lansing on Thursday after delegate-hunting sorties in Miami, Fla., and Cleveland, Ohio. In both states only small proportions of the delegations turned out.

However, the governor con-

Police Feel Civilian Groups Confuse Hoodlum Problem

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK
NEW YORK (AP)—Auxiliary police perform vital services in many cities, but a growing civilian patrol movement is causing police concern here.

"We feel they are complicating rather than simplifying the problem," a Police Department spokesman said. "We can't let amateurs take over police work."

A Jewish group began a car patrol plan recently in Brooklyn in an effort to curb a rising number of attacks by hoodlums. The wife of a rabbi had been dragged from her home and raped.

The group's members now include both whites and Negroes and a number of religions are represented. Radio cars patrol the Crown Heights section from dusk to dawn.

Most large cities have civilian auxiliary police units, but operating under regular police jurisdiction.

Regular police generally train the units, uniforms of both usually are similar. In some cases, the auxiliary members are armed. Often they work without pay.

Much of their work is devoted to parade, park, traffic and similar assignments that keep them away from violence.

The Brooklyn group, called the Community Safety Patrol, operates independently and has resisted police efforts to have it join the police auxiliary.

When trouble develops, police are notified.

"There is no action we can take against them because they are not violating the law," the police spokesman said.

Los Angeles has two reserve county sheriff's office.

About half of the sheriff's reservists pair with regular officers in patrol cars, work in jails, and perform jobs similar to those of full-time deputies. Others serve on mountain rescue teams and in the sheriff's mounted posse.

They come from various walks of life and join for different reasons.

In New York, author Max Wyllie patrols in Central Park two nights a week as part of the city's auxiliary police force.

His 21-year-old daughter, Janice, and her roommate, Emily Hoffer, were slain in their East Side apartment last year and Wyllie says he is determined to do everything possible to prevent similar tragedies.

New York has an auxiliary force of 3,816 persons, but they have no more authority than civilians. The Central Park precinct is the only one in which they normally are sent out on police units, a city police group of 110 and 1,120 men with the patrol duty.

Portland, Ore., has nearly 500 auxiliary policemen to help its 650 regular officers. A bad windstorm hit the city on Columbus Day in 1962 and within an hour 150 auxiliary workers were on duty.

"We'd be hard put to get along without them," said Lt. Thomas W. Simmons, a regular policeman assigned to the group as liaison officer.

In Philadelphia, auxiliaries patrol the streets on weekends, help in parades, conventions and do traffic and other work. Police credit them with helping to cut down on robberies and muggings.

St. Louis, Mo., tried the plan seven years ago, but said it didn't meet the department's needs.

Jersey City disbanded its force several years ago after members lost interest.

Canadian Vessel To Pass Kingston July 4 Weekend

The "St. Lawrence," training vessel of Brigantine Incorporated, in Kingston's sister city in Ontario, Canada, will sail through here on the Hudson River over the July 4th weekend to participate in "Operation Sail" out of New York City, it was announced today.

F. A. MacLachlan, Lt. R.C. S.C., commanding officer of the vessel, announced that the ship will participate in the unique international sailing event from July 14-18. He said the itinerary calls for departure from the Canadian city's harbor on July 1, with arrival scheduled the next day at Oswego to unstep the ship's masts. The craft is scheduled to sail the Oswego Canal with arrival July 4 or 5 at Albany. After the masts are re-stepped, the ship will proceed down the Hudson with anticipated arrival July 6 or 7 in New York.

If the ship adheres to sched-ule, the craft should pass through the Kingston area of the river either Saturday or Sunday of the holiday weekend.

MacLachlan said the "St. Law-rence" will undergo a training period at sea from July 7-13, and after participating in Operation Sail, will cruise Long Island Sound until July 22, when it will leave New York to proceed back up the Hudson. Masts will be un-stepped upon arrival at Albany on July 24 or 25. Ar-rival at Oswego is scheduled for July 28, when the ship's masts will be re-stepped. A new crew will be sent from Kingston, Ont., and the craft will proceed to Sodus Bay for the L.Y.R.A. race to Toronto.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN—Mr. and Mrs. Rich-ard Bross, Park Avenue, New York City, were callers in the village center Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rich-ard and son, Paul, came up from the city last weekend to open their village center place for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of downtown Kingston spent Sunday with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olsen and four sons at the Olsen home on Res-ervoir Road Mrs. Olsen is the former Eileen Smith.

Leona Foster was a mid-week caller at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Wilbur Johnson, Arkville.

Three busloads of pupils from Bennett School, Boiceville, and their chaperones, 120 in all, went on a Saturday trip to the World's Fair.

Mrs. Richard Addicks, West Palm Beach, arrived here Sun-day to spend a few weeks with her son, Hoyt Addicks, and family. Mrs. Addicks, who was here last summer, was brought up at Glasco and she also lived at Margaretville several years.

Dorothy Fenn, Haines Falls, was a Shokan caller Wednes-day.

Mrs. Martin Gulnack is visit-ing relatives in Southern Cali-fornia where she has three mar-ried children.

Mrs. Charles Cooper, Wood-stock summer resident, called on friends in the village center Wednesday.

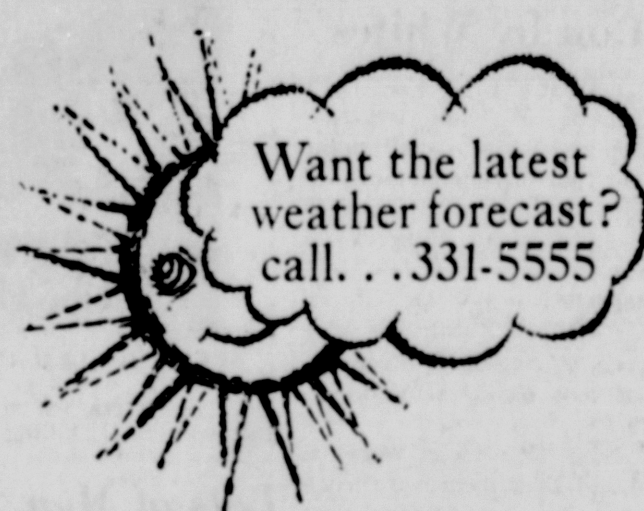

Bobby Mallory, 12, hooked a 15-inch trout while fishing through a crack in the flooring of Walker's Bridge at East Jewett. The boy called his Uncle

Maurice for help and the two managed to get the line above the bridge and landed the big fish.

Another good piscatorial yarn originating in the Mountain Top sector of neighboring Greene County has to do with Dan Lockwood, Hunter, who report-edly on a Saturday caught a 16-inch trout and also another big one which tipped the scales at four and a quarter pounds and measured 24 inches. He did well next day, too, with a 15-inch trout on his string.

News of Other Days: June 26, 1911—McArthur Bros. Company were moving their steam stovels, engines, tracks and dump cars from the recently completed Woodstock dike to the site, farther east of the West Hurley dike. The Woodstock sector, constructed of packed earthen embankment and concrete core wall, is the first of the Ashokan Reservoir barriers to be built by the contractors . . . June, 1939—Mrs. Frank Sharwell, Norfolk, Va., is again at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell . . . Herbert A. Dibble, local B.W.S. engineer and collec-tor of fine building tools, has in his collection a Sheffield hand-saw which was used by his grandfather, George Dibble, Shokan Civil War veteran and retired millwright. The saw also used by a great grandfa-ther over a century ago before tools of the kind were made in this country. Thanks to careful handling through four genera-tions, the Dibble antique re-mains in perfect condition.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—New construction is falling below its year-ago pace. The slip from the like period in 1963 could be the first signal of a leveling off in the long boom in this essential segment of the economy.

Or, say construction experts, it could be only a minor bobble.

They note that despite the slip in May, the total of construction projects started so far this year still is leading 1963 figures.

The building boom has been one of the chief factors in the 40-month advance of the general economy.

April had seen a dip from the March figures for construction contracts awarded. But these forerunners of building activity to come still held above the April 1963 figures.

Then May dipped 4 per cent below the year ago total. This was the first year-to-year decline in new construction reported since early in 1963.

The awards as collected by F. W. Dodge Co., a division of McGraw-Hill, Inc., show that in May contracts for future construction came to $4.6 billion, by no means a trivial addition to economic growth. And they brought the total for the first five months of the year to $19.6 billion, a pleasant 9 per cent above the like period in 1963.

The only sour note was that the May figures, in all categories, dipped below the year ago awards. Nonresidential building was off by 6 per cent; residential awards by 1 per cent; and nonbuilding construction, such as highways, by 8 per cent.

George A. Christie, economist for F. W. Dodge, prefers to call the May figures a sign that new construction demand has stabilized.

Toll-Free Service Approved by PSC

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A plan to establish toll-free service between the telephone exchanges in Utica, Barneveld and Remsen had the approval today of the Public Service Commission.

For customers in the Remsen exchange, the new service will mean a higher rate. No change is planned in the rates in the other exchanges.

In another action, the commission authorized the Orange County Telephone Co. to enlarge its base-rate area at Middletown and revise rates beyond the new base. The change will result in an annual saving of $18,048 to 3,147 customers outside the city.

General Telephone will boost the rates for its customers in Remsen by $6,900 a year to offset an expected drop in toll charges. New York Telephone estimates it will lose $8,800 a year in tolls in Utica and Barneveld the PSC said.

First Contingent Of CYO Campers Arrive in Area

The first of about 4,000 youngsters to spend at least two weeks this summer at Catholic Youth Organization Camps — one in New Paltz—arrived today at the Upstate sites, according to the Associated Press.

About 400 boys aged 7 to 14 boarded nine buses for the trip to either the CYO boys' camp in Putnam Valley or Camp Hayes, near Port Jervis.

The interracal camps have accommodated 28,000 children since they were established by Francis Cardinal Spellman in 1942.

Rockefeller Has Delegate Parley Scheduled July 12

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller chairman of the New York delegation to the Republican National Convention, has scheduled the next meeting of the group for July 12, on the eve of the convention, in San Francisco.

Most of the 92 delegates are expected to back Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the GOP presidential nomination. The only other meeting of the delegates was held here June 11. At that time, the delegation adopted a resolution backing Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination. A majority of the delegates pledged to support him until he was nominated or until he released them.

On June 15, Rockefeller withdrew as a candidate and urged the nomination of Scranton. But he has not yet released the New York delegation.

Civil Service Exams

New examinations have been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for Astronomers, Food Service Supervisors, and Medical Record Librarians. The astronomer examination is given for employment in the Navy's Research, Test and Development laboratories located in the Potomac River area adjacent to Washington, D. C., Maryland, and Virginia. Some positions in other federal agencies in Washington and other parts of the U. S. may also be filled. Applications should be sent to the Board of Examiners for Scientific and Technical Personnel of the Potomac River Naval Command, Building 72, Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. 20390. Full information is contained in Announcement No. 330-B.

Experienced food service supervisors are needed for duty in federal penal and correctional institutions located throughout the U. S. Salaries range from $2.72 to $3.84 an hour. Interested persons should ask for Announcement SL-14-3(64) and should send applications to the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Medical record librarians, paying $4,690 to $9,980 a year, are needed for work in hospitals, clinics, and other medical care and research facilities operated throughout the U. S. by the Veterans Administration, U. S. Public Health Service, Dept. of Defense and other agencies. The education and experience requirements are described in Announcement 331-B. Applicants should file with the Central Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C. 20420. Announcements and applications forms may be obtained from Leo Darwak, Examiner in charge at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. 20415.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bruce Brown, the man who produced "Slippery When Wet," "Barefoot Adventure" and "Waterlogged," presented the world premiere of his latest film "The Endless Summer" this week. Haven't heard of Bruce Brown or any of those films? You must be an earthbound square, man. Any hotdogger (surfing bug) knows that Bruce Brown is to surfing what John Ford is to Westerns, what Michaelangelo was to ceiling painters.

"The Endless Summer" has sold out four nights this week at the Encore Theater where audiences of tanned, taffy-haired young people and a few elderly types have gasped and cheered at surfers skidding down Matterhorn-like waves on foam-and-fibre glass boards. It is the sixth annual film of Brown, who went around the world to shoot two young surfers in Senegal, Ghana and other places that had never seen a surfboard.

Brown, 26, and blond, has been riding the crest of the surfing craze that has become a religion for thousands of California teen-agers. Through surfing music and magazines, the fad has spread to other parts of the country.

Brown operates his one-man film industry from his office at Dana Point, 50 miles south, in the heart of the high-wave district. He is his own cameraman and cutter and narrates the action in 100-150 one-night stands per year.

He makes frequent trips to Australia, which is the second most enthusiastic surfing country. Others are France, South Africa, New Zealand and Peru. His films also are shown with a recorded narration, and each can gross as high as $200,000.

Overbidding No Crime in Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It was almost 30 years ago that Louise Wainwright of New York became the first woman to win the Resinger trophy for the Eastern Team of Four championship. In those days Louise was an underbidder, but time changes many things and in a recent rubber game at the Regency Club in New York, she overbid to a rather doubtful game contract.

It wasn't too much of an overbid, but the wrong dummy hit the table and it almost required a good look at all the adverse cards for Mrs. Wainwright to make the hand.

She ruffed the opening heart lead and led the jack of clubs. East won with the king and shifted to a low trump. Louise rose with the ace, and promptly took a diamond finesse.

When this worked, business looked pretty good. The last club was led from dummy. East rose with the ace and led another trump. Louise refused a finesse. She could afford to lose a trick to the queen of trumps, but she

THE BIG INTEREST BITE

Of those normal charges against family income, one expects to find food, clothing and shelter taking a lion's share. In recent years, however, a new and somewhat disturbing factor has come to claim a large slice of the household budget.

This is interest paid on borrowed money. The Wall Street Journal reports that, on the average, 20 per cent of an American family's income goes to servicing debt. This causes justifiable concern among the nation's bankers and economists.

Lest those who are proud that they owe money to no one dispute the figure, it should be reported that there is an odd imbalance to the way this debt is owed. Fifty per cent of the families have all the installment debt. Presumably, then, among this group more than 20 per cent of the family budget is tied up in consumer financing. The heavy burden of debt takes many forms: mortgage loans, chattel mortgages and just plain personal notes. It is an unusual expansion in the first category which causes major concern at this time.

Lending officers are worried because more and more people tend to use the open-end mortgage on their home for things unrelated to housing. It has become too easy, in their view, to load up the old homestead with mortgage debt for a trip, say, to Europe or to buy a fancy boat.

Whatever form it may take, the wisdom of borrowing money to "enhance" the family's standard of living may always arouse controversy. It is difficult to see how the economy could stay at its present peak without some consumer debt. The other side of that coin is the false sense of security borrowed money may sometimes give. Apparently half of America's families believe one way, while half believe the other.

NEXT: NERVE BANKS

One of the great continued stories of medical progress is that having to do with the use of parts from one body, living or dead, to benefit another. Blood transfusions are commonplace. There are eye banks now, and bone banks. Now and then one reads of a successful organ transplant.

An interesting new chapter in this continued story has just been recorded by Dr. Leonard Marmor, an orthopedic surgeon connected with the University of California at Los Angeles. He has successfully replaced a three-inch section of the nerve in a woman's wrist. The length of nerve, taken from a newly dead person and irradiated to reduce the danger of inflammation, provided a kind of scaffolding over which the patient's own nerve regenerated to give her hand sensation again.

This and similar cases open up striking possibilities. Nerve tissue banks probably will be established, and there will be hope in many hitherto hopeless cases of nerve damage. The science fiction dream of interchangeable parts for human bodies seems not so far short of realization, after all.

TAKE COURTESY ALONG

Courtesy and consideration—they're wonderful!

They're especially wonderful in public places where thoughtlessness and selfish rudeness can be not only annoying but also downright dangerous.

Think how pleasant it would be during the summer vacation season, for instance, if all of us picked up after ourselves in the picnic areas, in the parks.

Think how much nicer the highways and adjoining ground would look if we didn't throw wrappers and cans and bottles and all manner of things out the car windows to litter the roads and landscapes.

Think how many lives would be saved on those same highways if we drove with courtesy and consideration for those who share the road with us and whose lives literally depend on the way we drive.

GOLDWATER'S IVY LEAGUE MANAGER

If Senator Barry Goldwater gets the nomination at San Francisco, a man who has been called the "least-experienced and most-unknown Presidential manager" in recent history will suddenly loom on the horizon as "the man who did it" for Barry. His name is Denison Kitchel, and he hails from the city of Phoenix in Goldwater's home state, which, of course, makes him the leading member of what has been called the "Arizona Mafia."

The odd thing about Mr. Kitchel, however, is that, like Teddy Roosevelt, he is a Westerner chiefly by adoption. He is, as a matter of fact, a product of the Northeast, a St. Paul school (New Hampshire) boy who became a graduate of two Ivy League universities (B.A., Yale, 1930, a Harvard law degree in 1933), a native of Bronxville (which was once the home of Jack Kennedy) and the son of a senior partner in the eminent Wall Street law firm of Cadwallader, Wickersham and Taft. In between his graduation from Yale and his journeying to Cambridge to study law at the institution dominated by Professor Felix Frankfurter, Mr. Kitchel spent a year at the School for International Studies at Geneva in Switzerland. His ambition at the time was to become an expert on international law.

So much for the early background of the man who has presided over the Goldwater political fortunes ever since last January. What burns Mr. Kitchel up is the propaganda that, as head of the "Arizona Mafia," he is confidently expected to lead a bunch of whooping cowboy isolationists into the White House if Goldwater should make it all the way.

This propaganda has bothered this columnist, too. Ever since I read Goldwater's long statement of his foreign policy position in Life magazine last February, I have been convinced that Goldwater should, in all logic, be Western Europe's candidate for the Presidency. He is so pronouncedly pro-NATO that he even commended himself to Clarence Streit, the prophet of "Union Now" between the U. S. and the West European democracies. Mr. Streit has printed Goldwater's statements in his magazine, Freedom and Union. But nobody has succeeded in explaining all this to European correspondents in the U. S. Maybe Goldwater will have to make a speech in Strasbourg or Paris to prove his point.

To Mr. Kitchel, everything about Goldwater's foreign policy seems to have got itself twisted 180 degrees around in the public mind. Barry, he says, is the least isolationist candidate now running. "Here we have Goldwater," so Mr. Kitchel observes, "wanting desperately to strengthen the bonds of NATO. He is for maintaining our military supremacy so that we will be respected to the point where we shall never have to fight. He wants an overall policy that will make use of economic strength and the resources of psychological warfare. The LBJ foreign policy, on the other hand, is a no-plan policy—or, as it has been called, the 120-plans foreign policy. 120 being the number of members in the UN. Under Johnson we don't even fire and fall back, we just fall back. This is real isolationism. If we let them take Latin America, we'll really be isolated. Yet Goldwater, who is against this retreat, is called the isolationist. Things couldn't be more twisted."

Mr. Kitchel is convinced that Republican infighting is what has caused the public, erroneously, as he thinks, to get a picture of Goldwater as a man who would be quick on the trigger in foreign affairs. "They twisted our position in New Hampshire," he says. "The voters in New Hampshire want Rocky, and when Goldwater was projected as a rock-the-boat type the Lodge people simply moved into the vacuum. We've got to get it across that Goldwater is a responsible, prudent individual—for he is just that."

The strange thing about it, as this columnist insists upon quite unpropagandistically, is that all the Republican candidates, from Rockefeller and Lodge to Goldwater, are for doing what it takes to win in Southeast Asia. They would all risk extending the war to the north in order to stop the Red infiltration of South Vietnam. Yet Rockefeller, Lodge and Scranton have been willing to let Goldwater seem a warmonger for thinking as they do.

It's campaign stuff, of course. And those of us who call attention to the sincerity involved in it are called propagandists. Oh, well, that's the way the ball bounces. It will all come out in the wash when the Republican platform produces a foreign policy plank acceptable to all the candidates. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The DOCTOR SAYS

Antibiotics Keep Check On Spread of Skin Infection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the cure for impetigo?
A—Impetigo is a skin infection that is common in children and is highly contagious because the pus gets on the hands, clothing, bed sheets, walls, floors and furniture. This disease was very stubborn and prone to recur before the advent of antibiotics. Stubborn cases are still seen when the causative organism has become resistant to penicillin. A newer antibiotic, erythromycin, has proved very effective. It works better when given internally than when used in an ointment. When impetigo is present in a household, it is essential that all members of the family use an antiseptic soap containing hexachlorophene.

Q—What is the cause and cure of leukoplakia?
How dangerous is it?

A—Leukoplakia is a condition in which a white patch develops on the mucous surface of the mouth. More rarely it may occur on other mucous surfaces. The most frequent cause is heavy smoking. The danger lies in the fact that it is often a forerunner of cancer. Its true nature should be determined by microscopic examination of a small piece of the affected tissue. If the condition is leukoplakia and not lichen planus, which may closely resemble it, surgical removal is advised as a cancer preventive measure.

Q—This summer we will be living in a furnished apartment with cooking utensils and dishes supplied. What should I use in the dishwasher to disinfect these dishes?

A—The best disinfectant is heat. Boiling for two or three minutes will do the trick.

Q—In a recent column you told about the benefits derived from the use of low molecular dextran (LMD). My doctor said he was unable to get it at the drug store. Is it commercially available?

A—It is manufactured by Pharmacia Laboratories of New York and also I believe by the Pharma Chemical Corporation of Bethlehem, Pa.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"Anything Else I Can Do for You?"

Washington News

BY RAY CROWLEY

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—

It hasn't been publicly announced, but Air Force aerospace scientists have discovered that by means of electrodes placed on the skull it is possible to control switches by thought processes.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists are now planning for the day when an astronaut in a space vehicle will maneuver his ship without using his hands or feet.

As one scientist puts it: "The pilot will observe his target and his eye movements will be translated into guidance signals." It is only one step further to conceive of an airplane pilot or an automobile driver steering his vehicle by eye movements or by "thoughts."

The advantages would be great. If a man could control his space ship, his airplane or his automobile by eye control, for example, he could react four times as fast as he can when using his arms or legs for steering or braking. Suppose it now takes a pilot or driver two-tenths of a second to react manually and put on his brakes. By eye control he'd be able to brake in five-hundredths of a second.

IT WILL BE A LONG TIME, of course, before such thought or eye control is practical. But already there is concrete evidence that it will be feasible.

Medical scientists have constructed an artificial arm which ties into the nerves of the upper arm. "From these neural signals," says a NASA scientist, "the wearer can 'will' the mechanical arm, powered by small motors, to move—just as he does when he 'wills' his own arm to move." Reportedly, the Russians have been able to make the same sort of a "mind-controlled" arm. Karushchev is spending large sums in this field of man's ability to control machines.

This eye and thought control opens great possibilities in the operation of complicated new machines. A successful system would make airplanes and automobiles far more maneuverable than they are today. It should be possible to type at fantastic speeds.

AEROSPACE SCIENTISTS have been forced into this field. Actions while in space frequently must be so precise and so quick that manual controls won't do. Space ships and space suits require more buttons than a man could handle.

As one research man puts it: "A hard-shell space suit built for locomotion and work on a planetary surface (say the moon) would present a ridiculous array of levers and buttons were it controlled by conventional methods."

By using the thought-action method, however, "such a complex space suit could be worn and operated as though it were an extension of the wearer's own body. The suit's powered appendages would move as his own arms move. His locomotion would be accomplished in similar fashion, enabling movement without strain or fatigue regardless of gravity, suit weight or terrain."

Turning Point in Viet Nam Seen With Taylor on Hand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be Ambassador to Viet Nam means that the United States wishes to serve notice on all concerned that the war in Southeast Asia has to be won even if it takes more and more American military forces on land, sea and in the air.

There comes a time in nearly every world crisis when firmness and resoluteness must be asserted, though there is always a risk that the other side may miscalculate and compel an intensive war to be fought.

The United States has been patient for many years now about the Southeast Asia situation. If the Red Chinese take over Southeast Asia, they will become a much more threatening factor in the entire Western Pacific, which includes not only Formosa but the Philippines and Japan. It also could mean a disruption of the situation in the whole of Asia, particularly in India and Malaysia.

The simple truth is that the Washington authorities are not going to let the Communists take over in Southeast Asia. The United States now is deeply in earnest, and it may be expected that the leaders of both political parties will back up the government.

The American viewpoint has recently been expressed privately by high officials in many conferences with newsmen. Deep disappointment has been voiced that our European allies who are also members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization have not been as co-operative as they could be in handling problems in the Far East.

The French for example, say they don't want to see Southeast Asia communized, but at the same time they keep opposing military solutions, thus giving the impression to Moscow and Peking that the allies are not going to put up a fight against continued aggression.

There has been too much talk in the past few months of appeasing Red China with promises of enlarged trade as well as diplomatic recognition or membership in the United Nations. Apparently Peking got the idea that the United States was willing to pay almost any price for peace. But a distinct turn in the whole situation occurred recently when President Johnson decided that he was tired of vacillating policies. He is not interested in trying to achieve a status quo in which the Communists would retain the benefit of their aggressions in Southeast Asia.

All that the American government wants is that the countries in Southeast Asia shall become truly independent and not be controlled from the outside by designing governments interested only in provoking more and more conflicts, particularly revolution, whether in Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia or Thailand, in all of which infiltration by the Red Chinese has been steadily increasing.

It might be wondered why the United Nations doesn't undertake this job. But, unfortunately, the Communists have so thoroughly infiltrated the United Nations that they are today able to block action in the Security Council. If a war of major proportions arises, however, it is difficult to see how the United Nations can remain aloof. Ultimately, as happened in Korea, the United Nations will have to join with the United States in adopting military measures to repel aggression.

Gen. Taylor, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has been spending a good deal of his time studying the military problem in Southeast Asia. He knows the background of it thoroughly and, having himself served in Korea, he is familiar with the problems of land warfare in the Asian world. It isn't customary for a military man of such prominence suddenly to be chosen as ambassador. Theoretically, an ambassador reports only to the Secretary of State, but in this case, Gen. Taylor sees eye to eye with both Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara on all phases of the problem.

Gen. Taylor, therefore, with his experience on the military side and with a foreknowledge of just how far the United States government will go to achieve its point, is virtually taking command of the whole situation. The President and his Cabinet here will be guided largely by what Gen. Taylor reports and advises. The mere fact that a military man has been chosen for this post indicates that a turn has come and that the dilatory process of negotiation has been abandoned in favor of direct action.

The United States has apparently already determined that the risk of war has to be taken if the entire Western Pacific is not to be lost to the Red Chinese.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Ah, the lazy summer . . .

The soft breeze plays roulette with a million poplar leaves. The moon stands on edge like a silver dollar. The odor of night jasmine anesthetizes the nose. The cricket choral society sings Johnny One Note. Small waves scour the beaches. A glass of beer percolates on a mahogany bar. On a hotel porch, an old man's hand reaches once more for his string.

A frog plunks a bass string. An infant under netting sleeps fretfully, pouting like Winston Churchill. A tomato blushes on a window sill. Silently, a firefly wings over a hedge, his red blinker working. A mosquito and a moth walk around a lamp, insects afraid of the dark.

The air is soft, the night breeze fingers window screens like a buglar in sneakers. It is barely strong enough to make the red maple leaves gossip. In the dark, the first young grapes hang pale on green vines. A fat puppy pants and whines because he cannot reconcile his first summer to his first fur coat.

In the distance, lightning stutters in the sky and the night breeze pauses to catch its breath. Two cautious bluejays swoop out of an azalea bush and set up light housekeeping in the eaves of a barn. They are wrong; the storm does not come. It is a dress rehearsal, with percussion instruments, a dry run.

The sun, slave of summer, comes up early. It sticks its hot tongue over the edge of the cool blue sea, splashes the white clouds with pink and peach and pastel green and repaints the landscape. In the pale dawn, a gray squirrel pauses halfway up a tree trunk, the tail curled into a question mark.

A sailboat rides quietly at anchor, looking at itself in the lake. A speckled trout leaps for joy, and leaves a dimple in the water. In a cellar, a female spider finishes her mating web, and tests the springs. A cat, dozing on a back porch, opens a yellow eye to the sun and shuts it tight. Along a fence, primroses lift their heads to shake the dew. A little girl, sleeping in cotton panties, looks around the room and whimpers for attention.

A man parks at a curb, throws his golf bag into the seat, and taps his horn. A stout woman in a skydiver mops the last floor, blows the hair out of her eyes, and prepares to go home. There is a loud sigh from a bus, beginning a day's work. The sun is higher, more gold than red, and it traces its image in thin spangles across the rivers, lakes and seas.

The thermometer feels a lift

in morale, and begins its climb from 71 to 86. A baker in a white suit stands in the shadow of an awning and fans himself with his apron. A baby crab, as translucent as a watch crystal, begins the long walk across the tawny sand to the green sea. A boy in shorts moves silently around the kitchen, making a sandwich, and shoulders a bamboo fishing pole and a pocketful of worms for the long walk through the woods to the brook.

An old farmer walks the rows of young corn, picking, plucking, frowning, a general inspecting an honor guard.

A dead tree stands naked to the sun, unwanted, not feeling the green vines of life crawling up its trunk. A woman lies in bed, eyes asleep, mind awake, dreaming of a prettier life than this.

The sun is higher and more brazen. It imposes its will on the sweaty brow of a policeman, sitting in a squad car. It loses the fight to little girls who skip rope under a double ditch. Window fans begin to hum. In a tenement district, children run in and out of the power of a fire hydrant. On a highway, the road and the billboards begin to shimmer with heat, and mythical puddles appear ahead. A garter snake cools its belly on wet grass.

Lady shoppers, like bees, honeycomb the stores. Their men stay home to nurse a cool drink and a ballgame. In the late afternoon, the earth is baked, cracking here and there like a devil's food cake. In a hospital, life beginning and ending and pausing, and these things can be read in the faces of the visitors on the elevator.

The sun works a full day, a long day. It sits on the rim of green hills in the west, and then the hills swallow it slowly, like a holy water. The sky becomes brighter with color, mustard, purple, dusty grape and pink. In the east, a huge cumulus cloud steals the color and, in jealousy, starts its own sunset.

It is gorgeous, arresting, intoxicating. In the west, Venus winks on cue and night curtains close on the sunset. There is a sudden coolness, the whisper of a breeze, a hint of honeysuckle. Bright pinholes appear in the sky.

Ah, the lazy summer. . . (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

One Nazi That Jews Honor For Efforts at Auschwitz

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A new youth center in the Ruhr bears the name of Kurt Gerstein, a lieutenant in the Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

Gerstein's cause is championed by a Jewish survivor of Nazi concentration camps and has been taken up by Jewish organizations.

"If there had been thousands more like Gerstein, there would have been no Auschwitz," says Issy Wygoda, 43, a Frankfurt fur dealer and onetime concentration camp inmate.

Gerstein died under mysterious conditions shortly after World War II, but he provided important evidence which was used at the Nuernberg war crimes trials. He risked his life to obtain much of it, Wygoda believes.

Incensed About No Pension

Wygoda is incensed because West German authorities have classified Gerstein as a Nazi offender and have denied his widow a pension.

In 1940 a sister-in-law was killed as a mental patient under the Nazi "mercy killing" program and Gerstein began checking on Nazi killings. He joined the SS to gain inside knowledge of Nazi crimes, Wygoda says.

Gerstein had studied some medicine and chemistry. The SS needed men with his training and he eventually headed a section in the "Hygiene Institute."

One of his jobs was to procure a cyanide gas used by extermination camps.

Gerstein tried to sabotage the operations in a limited way. Evidence shows he stopped one shipment of gas by marking it no good and ordering it buried.

But, according to Wygoda, his main effort was to alert the world outside Germany to concentration camp horrors.

A Lutheran, he got word to German Bishop Otto Dibelius of his church. Dibelius in turn informed Swedish clergymen.

He was allegedly turned away when he sought an audience with the Papal Nuncio in Berlin, and later wrote:

"Could one expect that an ordinary citizen can do something when even the vicar of Christ does not want to listen to me although tens of thousands are murdered."

Gerstein's visit inspired German author Rolf Hochhuth in writing his largely fictitious play "The Deputy."

In 1945 Gerstein surrendered to the Allies and gave the most detailed report on Nazi crimes ever to reach Allied hands. As proof he supplied bills for the cyanide gas.

The Allies could not be sure of Gerstein's anti-Nazi efforts and he was interned. He died July 25, 1945, in a Paris prison. Officially the cause was suicide, but there have been recurrent rumors that he was murdered to silence an accuser.

Appeal Rejected

In 1959, a German court ruled that Gerstein was a Nazi offender. His widow, Elfriede Gerstein, appealed but the appeal was rejected.

Wygoda heard of the Gerstein case just after he had successfully finished a 13-year struggle with authorities for recognition of his own German citizenship.

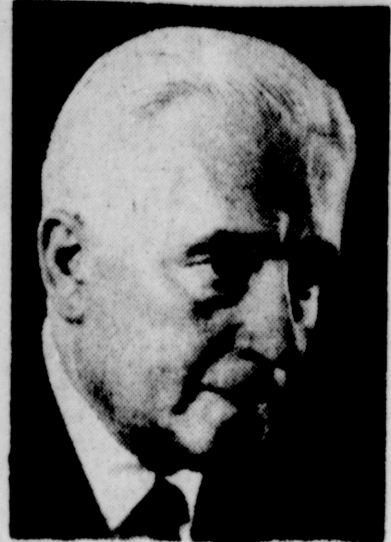

Struck by what he regarded as another case of postwar injustice, Wygoda got Mrs. Gerstein's permission to reopen her husband's case.

Jewish organizations in Germany and France have taken up the cause.

Senator to Tour Catskill Areas During Weekend

A weekend tour of Catskill Mountain areas and resorts is scheduled this weekend by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R.N.Y.).

The senator's office in New York City said he will take advantage of a rare break in his normally jammed schedule to visit a group of Catskill Mountain resorts.

The popular New York lawmaker has had numerous invitations to visit old friends throughout the Sullivan County vacationland and plans to respond to as many as possible Saturday night and Sunday. The senator expects to visit Grossingers, the Concord and at least half a dozen other famed resorts in the area.

One of his many stops will be at the Monticello Raceway where he will present a trophy to the winner of Saturday night's feature race.

Another highlight of his visit to this region will be his appearance at the opening ceremonies of Dairy Day on the porch of the Monticello Courthouse at 2 p. m. on Sunday. Following the Dairy Day festivities, Senator Keating will fly back to Washington, D. C. to resume his heavy schedule in the capital.

Leaflet Available On Tree Aphids

SYRACUSE — A free, four-page leaflet, "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids," is now available from the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Aphids, or plant lice as they are more commonly known, will attack all parts of all of the more common species of softwoods and hardwoods. By sucking the fluids from the leaves, bark, buds, and blossoms, these minute insects can cause serious damage such as defoliation, deformity, or death.

Aphids are prolific breeders and multiply quite readily, resulting in many generations and variations in one season. It is for this reason that members of the same species may vary greatly in color and in the choice of plant parts or species of plants on which they feed.

Even though these insects are difficult to see, their damage is quite apparent during periods when attacks are extensive. Signs of aphid attack are: curling of needles and curling of leaves; discoloration or dropping of foliage; formation of galls on new growth; abnormal swelling of woody parts; dead areas of bark; or quantities of sticky honeydew on foliage, bark and ground vegetation.

Unless infestation is abnormally heavy, control of the aphid is relatively simple. A complete description of control methods is covered in "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids." It is also brought out that aphids actually do little permanent harm to healthy, vigorous trees. Their life cycle is so easily affected by even changes in the weather that the periods of destructiveness are often short.

To get a copy of the leaflet, "Forest and Shade Tree Aphids," write to the Extension Division, College of Forestry, Syracuse, 13210.

Severe aphid problems on forests or nurseries should be brought to the attention of the State Conservation Department's Forest Pest Control Bureau, or to the College of Forestry or College of Agriculture.

Serious aphid attacks on vegetable, floral and other agricultural crops should be brought to the attention of your county agent or the extension entomologist at the State University College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

This is but one of the many free services available to the public through the Extension Division of the College of Forestry.

Seaway Facing Turning Point on Money Squeeze

By FRED COLEMAN

Associated Press Writer

OTTAWA (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, officially opened five years ago today by President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II, faces a key turning point within the next week.

Despite record business, the U.S. and Canadian agencies running the international waterway have fallen far behind schedule in repaying loans and interest on the Seaway's $50-million construction cost.

Recommendations Due

Recommendations to ease the financial squeeze are due by July 1.

They could affect rail and shipping interests on three fronts—the Great Lakes, the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico.

From a competitive standpoint all three areas have stakes in pending proposals to help the Seaway pay its own way, especially on the question of toll charges.

As recently as March, the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of Canada was reported to press for increased toll charges. But its American counterpart, the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., opposed toll hikes. So did U.S. and Canadian shipping interests on the Great Lakes.

Competing interests argued that the delay in repaying construction money borrowed from government funds meant taxpayers were subsidizing the Seaway. They said toll should be high enough to make the Seaway self-supporting.

The two Seaway agencies have completed five-year financial reviews and are required to submit recommendations to their respective governments by July 1.

Will Suggest Overhaul

Informed sources here indicated the Canadian agency will not press for any changes in the current toll rates of 90 cents a ton for general cargo and 40 cents a ton for bulk cargo.

Instead the Canadian agency is expected to suggest a financial overhaul.

One alternative would be to extend the 50-year period for repaying the debt. Another calls for refinancing the loans at lower interest rates.

Seaway traffic has increased every year since 1960; last year cargoes totaled more than 30 million tons for the first time.

According to original forecasts on which the toll rates were based traffic was supposed to reach 30 million tons by 1968. Now officials believe the Seaway should start paying its own way by the early 1970s.

An increase in shipping tonnage this year has fanned a new surge of optimism. Traffic through Seaway locks has been more than 50 per cent higher than the comparable 1963 period.

Traver Sentencing Is Set For July 29 in Poughkeepsie

HCL Unchanged From May; Food, Housing Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and housing prices dropped in May, but most other consumer goods increased in price and living costs remained unchanged from the month before, the Labor Department said today.

The consumer price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics stood for the second straight month at 107.8.

The figure means it cost $10.78 in both April and May to buy typical consumer goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Lower meat and egg prices were the main factors in a two-tenths of one per cent drop in food costs.

Fruit and vegetable prices remained unchanged. Sugar dropped slightly, but was still up more than 6 per cent from a year ago, and coffee climbed another 2.3 per cent, to an over-the-year total increase of nearly 23 per cent.

The bureau ascribed both the sugar and coffee price developments to the world supply situation.

Traver was indicted on two counts of second degree assault in connection with an assault last Nov. 17 on John Phillips, 32, of Highland, a Poughkeepsie taxi driver, on the lawn in front of the Traver home at 1 Colburn Drive, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz today fixed Wednesday, July 29 for sentencing of Traver. Bail of $5,000 posted for the suspended police lieutenant in November was exonerated.

Motions Denied

Judge Schwartz denied defense motions to set aside the verdict on the grounds that it was contrary to the weight of evidence, that the evidence was incomplete and that a newspaper headline was prejudicial.

Traver faces a maximum sentence of five years. The court could suspend sentence or impose probation.

Within the next 10 days, Traver must face departmental charges filed by Police Chief John L. Martin, at a hearing to be held before the Police-Fire Trial Board of three members.

The lieutenant has been under suspension since his arrest. Police officials said the convicted officer had an unblemished record as a police officer prior to the November incident.

The jury of 10 men and two women, found Traver guilty of the first count of the indictment, which charged that the lieutenant hit Phillips on the face with a .32 revolver during a quarrel. The weapon discharged and wounded the taxi driver's shoulder.

The jury found Traver innocent of the second count of the indictment, which had charged the police officer who has 27 years of service, with assaulting Phillips with intent to inflict grievous bodily harm.

Judge Schwartz, who presided at the four-day trial in Poughkeepsie, told the jurors in his charge that they could return any of four verdicts — guilty of the first or second count of the indictment, guilty of third degree assault or not guilty.

Out Over Three Hours

The case went to the jury at 1:30 p. m., and the report was handed up to the judge at 4:50 p. m.

During the judge's charge and summations by District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta and Edward Filipowicz, defense attorney, Traver and his wife sat calmly in the courtroom and listened attentively to the remarks.

RFK Denies Barry Has Widespread Support

BERLIN (AP) — U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, does not enjoy widespread public support in the United States.

Kennedy, during a visit to Berlin to commemorate the first anniversary of his late brother's triumphant tour here, belittled Goldwater's standing.

Tens of thousands of Berliners lined the streets to cheer and wave to the attorney general.

A reporter's question on Goldwater, who opposed some of the late President John F. Kennedy's policies, prompted the attorney general to speak at length on the Arizona Republican.

"The conclusion that Goldwater has widespread public support in the United States is erroneous," he said.

Det. Kills Woman After Attack by Two

NEW YORK (AP) — A detective shot and killed a woman who slashed his face with a knife as she and her son attacked him when he tried to quell a disturbance, police report.

Killed last night was Mrs. Carmen Sierra, 53, of the Bronx.

Her son, Edward, 24, was taken into custody.

Detective John Echevarria's wound was not believed serious. He and another detective had been summoned to the apartment building by the superintendent.

Charged With Larceny

NEW YORK (AP) — A Wall Street customer's man with a reported penchant for bad investments is charged with stealing $167,214 from accounts of his brokerage firms over a five-year period.

Authorities said the man, Samuel Strasburg, 40, father of two, lost most of the money in the stock market.

He was charged yesterday with larceny and forgery and released without bail for a hearing later. He had been employed by Hoppin Brothers and Co., which made good the losses to customers.

Three Drivers Fined

Two drivers, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each in city court today. They were: Arthur Shannon, 37, of 53 Amherst Street, St. Johnsville, N. Y., and Emily Buddenhagen, 29, of 12 Mary's Avenue, Fred D. Cure, 74, of 4 Forest Hill Drive, charged with a stop-sign violation, was fined $10.

Blat Kills Vols, 2 Others; Frees Poisonous Snakes

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A truck loaded with dynamite caught fire and exploded near here early today, killing at least five persons and freeing hundreds of poisonous snakes from a nearby reptile farm.

The blast made a crater some 10 feet deep and 30 feet wide and caused extensive damage over a quarter-mile area.

Three of the dead were volunteer firemen from Marshalls Creek, some three miles from the scene of the accident on Route 209, who had responded to the fire call.

They were tentatively identified as Leonard Mosier, Earl Miller and Ed Heins.

Also reported killed in the explosion was John Regina, son of the owner of the Regina Hotel, located a few hundred yards from the blast.

The scattered remains of a fifth person were found near the scene.

Seriously injured in the explosion were two other firemen from the Marshalls Creek station, not immediately identified: Ted Regina, owner of the hotel, and Ruth Livingstone, manager of the reptile farm.

Law enforcement agents, state and local police went through damaged buildings for possible injured or dead persons.

They were hampered by hundreds of snakes, many poisonous, from the damaged reptile farm.

Snakes, shot by officers, were reported strewn all over the road.

Some 125 firemen from six volunteer fire companies in the area responded to the explosion. Only the Marshalls Creek firemen were there when the truck blew up.

The scene of the accident is in this northeastern Pennsylvania resort area.

Fire Damages Ambulance

Health, Welfare Agencies Hold Workshop Here

Representatives of numerous health and welfare agencies of Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Orange Counties assembled at Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing this week to participate in a workshop on "The Skills of Interviewing." Sponsors were Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

More than 150 social workers, teachers, nurses, policemen, and clergymen, among others that serve the public, came to hear David J. Houghton, training field representative of the Massachusetts State Department of Public Welfare talk about basic skills and techniques in handling a "purposeful conversation between two people," his definition of the interview situation.

Houghton received his master's degree in social work from the Boston College of Social Work in 1950. He served as teacher for Boston University and Simmons College from 1950 to 1955, and as a supervisor for the merged Family Society-Boston Provident agencies from 1955 to 1960. He has worked in training capacities for the Dept. of Public Welfare since 1960.

The program was planned by a volunteer committee of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

2 Girls Treated For Fluid, Boy Injured by Bench

Two Franklin Street children believed to have consumed transmission fluid were taken to the Benedictine Hospital Thursday, and a boy was reported injured when a bench collapsed during the showing of a recreation department movie.

Sally VanWagenen, 4, of 75 Franklin Street, and Patricia MacDonald, 3, of 83 Franklin Street, were admitted to the Benedictine Hospital, after it was reported that they had picked up a can of automobile transmission fluid, which was partly empty, and it was feared they had consumed some of it Thursday afternoon.

As it turned out Patricia MacDonald had consumed little, if any, of the fluid, and was discharged from the hospital today, and Sally VanWagenen, who bore symptoms of having consumed some, was reported in fair condition today, and was expected also to be discharged.

Police were notified at 9:02 p. m. that Ralph VanEtten, 5, of Colonial Gardens, while watching a movie in an area near there, had suffered an injury while under a bench collapsed. He was to be treated at Kingston Hospital.

Grand Jury to Consider Abortion Charges

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — A grand jury will consider abortion charges against a physician and two other men who State Police said were part of a ring operating in Central New York.

The cases were sent to a grand jury Thursday after a day-long hearing before City Court Judge Donald K. Comstock.

Bail of $10,000 each was continued for the three defendants, Dr. Harry L. Alpert, 52, and Victor Gore, 42, both of Fulton, and Frank Morreale, 53, of Utica.

They were arrested May 28 by State Police.

Dominick Froio, 45, of Rome, charged with aiding and abetting an abortion in the same case, faces a hearing July 1.

AMA Elects Ward

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) — A 59-year-old Dubuque doctor who takes over next year as president of the American Medical Association is a specialist in plastic surgery but one of his main concerns is the family doctor.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward was named president — elect of the AMA at its national convention Thursday in San Francisco.

It's an office he cherished and for a reason.

"I don't want to destroy the relationship between the general practitioner and the specialist but I do want to strengthen the concept of the family doctor," said Dr. Ward, chief of the surgical section of Finley Hospital here.

Shot Off Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Guidance system trouble today forced a second straight postponement of an attempt to launch the high-energy Atlas-Centaur rocket on its third test flight.

The countdown on the 112-foot-tall rocket had progressed to two hours before the scheduled 9 a. m. liftoff when the problem cropped up.

No new launching date was set immediately.

E. J. Dempsey Serious

The condition of former Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, of 625 Delaware Avenue, who was admitted to Kingston Hospital early this month, was reported serious today. His condition had been reported satisfactory for some time. He had served as the city's mayor from 1926 to 1931.

Wallace made the statement to some 9,000 wildly cheering persons Thursday night as he brought his movement for unpledged presidential electors to the giant Mississippi Coliseum here.

"I intend to give the American people a clear choice," he said. "I welcome a fight between our philosophy and the liberal left-wing dogma which now threatens to engulf every man, woman and child in the United States."

Report Heavy Red Toll SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 100 Communist guerrillas may have been killed in a major battle with government troops Thursday, reports reaching Saigon indicated today.

The battle took place 60 miles northeast of the capital in the same area where government troops suffered a serious reversal last Friday.

Drivers Are Cited After 3 Mishaps Here on Thursday

Drivers were cited for stop-sign violations after three city traffic mishaps Thursday.

Margaret New, 47, of 71 Wait Street, Walden, one of the drivers in a car-taxi mishap at Clinton Avenue and John Street, reported at 2:55 p. m., received a summons. Police listed the cab driver as Clifford C. Craig, 38, of Mossy Brook Road, High Falls, and its owner, the Econo-mo Cab Co., of 12 Wilbur Avenue.

Richard D. Filla, 69, of 9 Elmendorf Street, was summoned after an earlier mishap at Cornell Street and TenBroeck Avenue. The other car, police said, was driven by Felix J. Ambrose, 27, of 39 West Chestnut Street.

A summons was issued to Viola Tweedy, 50, of RD 3, Box 74, Kingston, after another collision at Main and Wall Streets, reported at 2:20 p. m. The other car was driven by Samuel Beck, 60, of 331 Main Street.

Richard D. Filla drew a suspended fine of $10 in city court today. Viola Tweedy is due to appear in court July 1, and Margaret New is also due to appear later.

No injuries were reported after any of the mishaps.

Mr. Davies, owner of Hamilton Garden Apartments, installed competitive makes of boilers in the first three units and IRON FIREMAN WHIRL-POWER GENERATORS in the last two units... so far this year the heating costs in the last 2 units are

25% LOWER than in the others.

Mr. Davies says.... "After considering all types of fuel for heating, we chose OIL because of its economy, cleanliness and convenience of operation!"

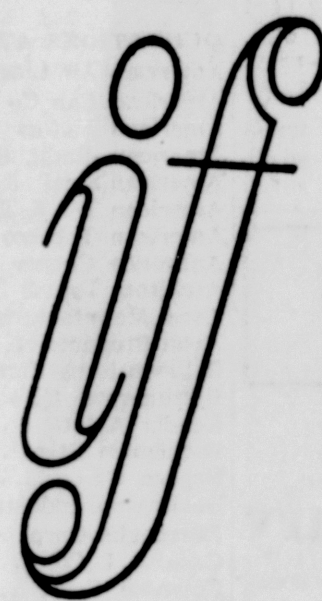

The tenants in these apartments appreciate the fact, that they're not "insulated-in," that all the rooms are comfortably warm, and that the basement utility rooms are not damp... every one is happy with OIL HEAT!

If you are having friends in and feel the need for fresh air, Mr. Davies says, "Just throw open your windows for all the fresh air you need. Iron Fireman Oil Heat is inexpensive."

In these apartments heat is being paid for by the owner, if you were in an electrically heated apartment, you would probably have to pay for your own heat, at a much higher cost! "So you would need to be 'insulated-in!'"

Reedy in Center of CR Data White House Scores Inaccuracy Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Reedy, the slow-talking, pipe-smoking White House press secretary, faced waiting newsmen and announced gravely that one item of information he had furnished earlier was "inadvertently accurate."

Of course, this was only a slip of the tongue—he quickly said he meant to say "inadvertently inaccurate"—early last night following a stream of misinformation from the White House.

Worst Day in Memory

Seldom, if ever, in recent memory has the White House put out so much inaccurate information as it did in announcing the deployment of federal military forces in the search for three young civil rights workers who vanished Sunday in Mississippi.

At his midday briefing for reporters Thursday, Reedy announced that President Johnson had ordered 200 Marines based at Meridian, Miss., not far from the search site, to join the hunt. And he said they would be augmented by eight Marine helicopters.

Asked whether the move had been taken at the request of Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi, Reedy indicated there had been no request, but added: "This is a cooperative effort. There has been complete cooperation at all levels."

Minutes after newsmen had dispatched this word, and even as they were finishing their dispatches, Reedy personally contacted them at their telephones and said he was misinformed—that the Marines were coming from outside Mississippi and only the Marine helicopters were Mississippi-based.

Gov. Johnson was saying in Jackson that he was surprised by the movement of Marines—that several days ago he had offered the use of National Guardsmen familiar with the area for the search.

Second Press Briefing

Shortly after 5 p.m., Reedy met reporters for a second time and announced that one item he had conveyed at his noon-hour briefing had been "inadvertently inaccurate."

He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been informed that Marine personnel from Meridian—where there is no Marine base—would be used in the search. He said the Marines "turned out to be sailors."

He volunteered the information that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had called Gov. Johnson since the original announcement, which had been allowed to stand unchallenged for five hours, "to straighten out this matter."

'Slip-up Somewhere'

"There was an inadvertence," said Reedy. "There was a slip-up somewhere."

Thus did the White House spokesman concede that he had been oversteering the case earlier when he had spoken of "complete cooperation at all levels."

At this point, one reporter asked if Reedy had been correct in reporting that eight Marine helicopters were being used in the search.

"I believe," said the press secretary, "these will turn out to be Navy helicopters."

There was no further White House explanation of the whole incident.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was a shade higher late this afternoon as trading slackened considerably from Thursday's five-million-share rate.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

American Telephone was still being traded heavily as investors dealt in its new stock, just split 2-for-1. AT&T inched higher.

General Motors held firm in early trading and then moved ahead a full point.

The trend was slightly higher among steels, motors, oils, aerospace issues and rails.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.308 with industrials unchanged, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.20 at 829.68.

U.S. Smelting recouped more than 2 points of Thursday's 6-point decline. Control Data was weak, trimming a point from a 5-point loss. IBM was down 2.

Cigarette stocks were irregularly higher following their recent losses.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Woman Is Hurt As She Swerves To Avoid Animal

A Dutchess County woman was injured at 9:25 p. m. Thursday when she swerved her 1960 sedan to avoid an unidentified animal on Route 9, Town of Hyde Park, and crashed head-on into a utility pole.

Sergeant Maurice Valliant of the Rhinebeck sub-station of state police, said Delores Horwede, 27, of Springfield Village, Hyde Park, was driving north on the highway north of Old Farm Road when an animal ran in front of the vehicle.

Trooper J. S. McLean said the driver swerved the car off the east shoulder of the highway and hit the pole. The woman was taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by the Hyde Park Fire Department Rescue Squad. Troopers said the driver suffered lacerations of the nose and right knee and a fracture of the right little finger.

U.S. Toughens

Asian waters, plus an Army airborne brigade on Okinawa and the 7th Fleet, plus the 2nd Marine Division in South Korea, but these are pinned down by the ever-present threat from Red North Korea.

On Hawaii, the 25th Infantry Division stands ready as the theater reserve.

The United States has vastly improved its airlift in recent years and reinforcements, including a Marine division on the West Coast and Army troops from the United States, could be flown across the Pacific.

But the movement of the heavy gear that makes these divisions potent striking forces would have to go by ship, and that takes many days.

Not Enough Material

Some heavy equipment is stockpiled in Thailand, on Okinawa and aboard three deep draft ships in the Philippines, but not nearly enough for a truly major ground operation.

This country's aces in the game are nearly 3,000 military planes in the Pacific, plus the 125 ships of the 7th Fleet ranged along the Asian Coast.

U.S. Warplanes—most of them far faster, far more maneuverable, and far more heavily armed than the Chinese—can strike at China from bases on Okinawa, Formosa, the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Thailand—and Japan, although political considerations might prevent this.

The 7th Fleet has three big carriers from which Marine and Navy fighters and bombers could be launched against the mainland.

Chinese Inventory

This is what the Chinese have, based on intelligence reports:

An air force of about 2,400 planes, mostly elderly fighters—MIG15s and MIG17s. As much as half of this force reportedly has been immobilized by a shortage of fuel and a need to take parts from some planes to keep others flying. Some medium and long-range bombers and a few transports. The 75,000 air force men include about 10,000 pilots who aren't rated very highly.

A People's Liberation Army of 2,600,000 men—many of them conscripts—formed into 160 divisions. About three are armored divisions, one is airborne, some are cavalry for desert operations and the great mass are infantry.

A navy of about 135,000, which includes marines. An air arm of about 500 MIG17s. Some 30 submarines, about half equipped for mine-laying. This navy, mainly for coast defense, couldn't stay in the water with the mighty 7th Fleet.

Scranton Flays

tended the numbers of delegates that met with him were not a true sign of his support in those states. Asked about a statement by Illinois Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen that Goldwater would win on the first ballot at San Francisco, Scranton declared: "When the convention comes about I think you will see a different situation."

"I'm in this race to stay," he said.

Largest Crowd Yet

Scranton was greeted Thursday by two of his largest crowds so far. Some 5,000 persons turned out in Public Square, Cleveland, in Lansing Thursday night an estimated 4,000 crowded around a truck Scranton used as a platform in a shopping center.

DONALD G. CROUT

Named Admission Officer at UCCC

Officials at Ulster County Community College today announced the appointment of Donald G. Crout as admission officer at the college. Crout has been serving as assistant director of admission at Springfield College in Springfield, Mass. since 1961. Prior to his position at Springfield, Crout served as assistant district executive of the Boy Scouts of America in Baltimore, Md.

Crout started his college study at the University of Maryland and later completed requirements for his bachelor's and master's degrees at Springfield College.

While in college he was extremely active in co-curricular activities and a broad personal interest in camping, sailing and in music. He is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and served overseas in an intelligence unit.

Crout has recently married Miss Carol Cerny who has been a teacher in the elementary schools of Longmeadow, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Crout will move to Kingston in July when Crout will assume his new duties at the college. In September, Mrs. Crout will teach at the Hurley School.

Bright Future

this trend might result in a smaller number of customers interested in better items, the dollar units of sales were larger and accounted for an overall betterment of sales volume for uptown merchants.

Holiday Schedule

The Association also announced that, in conformance to American tradition, up-town stores would be closed on Independence Day, July 4, but that for the convenience of customers they would be open on Monday night, June 29, in addition to Friday night, July 3.

Driver and Rider Arrested After Mishap Downtown

A Thursday night mishap at Delaware Avenue and Hanratty Street, in which police said, a car struck a pole, resulted in the arrest of a driver on two charges, and an occupant of the car on a public intoxication charge.

Monroe Turner, 38, of 323-A Flatbush Road, was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Aaron E. Klein, former city judge, appeared with Turner today before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman, and the case was adjourned to July 10 for all purposes. Bail of $500 was posted.

Edward Taylor, 39, of 104 Tammany Street, charged with public intoxication, was fined $10.

Explosion . . .

frustration never experienced before," Aaron Henry of Clarkdale and Charles Evers of Jackson said in a telegram to the White House.

Henry is state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Evers, brother of the late Medgar Evers, who was slain by a sniper a year ago, is the organization's field secretary.

Farmer Concerned

At Meridian, James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, expressed concern about the nature and progress of the investigation.

He said he felt protection was required for other civil rights workers throughout the state—"that's why we called for marshals."

"No one asked for a special number," Farmer said. "Just to have marshals around would be a great deterrent factor to violence."

The White House first announced that 200 Marines would join the search but later said the report was "inadvertently inaccurate" and only sailors from the Meridian base would be used.

Report Stirs Resentment

The erroneous report that Marines would be used stirred resentment among some Mississippi members of Congress, including Rep. John Bell Williams, who said the President bowed to "left-wing racial agitators."

Williams said that if President Johnson is so concerned about helping to find missing persons, he should turn his attention to New York City, where he said, 10,500 persons were reported missing last year, of whom 188 are still listed as missing.

Earlier, Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., whose home is Philadelphia, told the House the disappearance of the three men may be a hoax designed to attract publicity.

"Nobody knows there has been any violence," Winstead said. "There are some who think it is a hoax intended to get all this unfavorable publicity."

Accused of operating a motor vehicle while his license was revoked, John Martin, 39, of North Putt Corner Road, New Paltz, was cited Thursday by State Trooper Robert Whalen of the Highland sub-station. Troopers reported Martin pleaded guilty before Judge of the Peace S. Glenn Parks, Town of New Paltz, and was sentenced to four days in the county jail.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Investment Advisor and Analyst
Cardiac Bachelor Must Sell All and Reinvest

Q) "I am a 56-year-old bachelor with a cardiac condition and have retired with a yearly pension of about $4600. My mother and I own our home, have $13,000 in savings, and shares of Cannon Mills, Avco, Hess Oil and Chemical, and White Motor. For protection against inflation I think I should put part of our savings and switch part or all of our stocks into such growth issues as General Motors, Jersey Standard, American Telephone, Sears, Roebuck, and Bristol-Myers. I would appreciate your advice." L.S.

A) I am extremely sorry to read of your cardiac condition, but am pleased that you are well fixed financially for retirement. Although I like Avco, the shares are in the aerospace group, which has lost market favor. Cannon Mills and White Motor are good stocks but very cyclical in nature.

Hess Oil is a speculation not suited to your purpose. I advise you to sell all present holdings, remove $3,000 from savings, and place the resultant sum in the strong stocks you've mentioned as replacements.

Q) "Would you please let me know if it's advisable to buy Madison Square Garden stock as a long-term investment for my grandchildren?" M.D.

A) While I think it is admirable to want to do something for your grandchildren, I do not consider your stock choice as suitable for your purpose. Madison Square is strictly a speculation, as its very low price indicates.

I cannot emphasize too often and too strongly that it is unwise to buy a stock simply because it can be bought for a dollar or two. When a stock sells at that level after 15 years of the longest bull market in history, its price is more apt to indicate lack of intrinsic value rather than an opportunity to pick up a bargain.

I advise you strongly to buy fewer shares of a powerful growth stock like Procter & Gamble as an investment for your grandchildren.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Role of Congress in Health, Smoking Problem Gets Hazier

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The future role of Congress in the problem of smoking and health is growing hazier all the time.

A host of bills is pending—all asking Congress to move in a host of different directions—and all the paper seems to have created a confusing maze.

The confusion has been compounded by a decision of the Federal Trade Commission to issue a rule requiring that cigarette advertising and labels include a warning next year that smoking may cause death from cancer and other diseases.

The FTC announced its rule at a House Commerce Committee hearing called to consider bills that would enact a similar rule into law.

Some Courses Listed

Some of the courses Congress may take now that the FTC has issued its rule are:

1. Do nothing and let the FTC rule go through with its rule. With the tobacco industry taking the rule to federal courts, years of litigation would follow.

2. Approve one of several bills introduced since the U.S. Public Health Service's special advisory committee said that cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

If Congress passed a law requiring the same labels the FTC rule requires the confusion likely would be over. Without court suits, the tobacco industry likely would begin putting warning notices on its labels and advertising.

3. Approve one of several bills which would either delay the FTC decision for three years or require approval by Congress before the FTC may issue a rule.

Tobacco States Support

These bills have the support of congressmen from the tobacco states and of those congressmen who believe the FTC has overstepped its authority.

4. Approve legislation proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare giving the Food and Drug Administration authority to regulate cigarette labels under the Hazardous Substances Act.

Such a law, however, might not stop the FTC rule. Commission Chairman Paul Rand Dixon

Youth Is Injured

As TV Antenna Falls
Garry Young, 7, of Second Street, Slighsburg, received scalp lacerations Thursday shortly after noon when he was struck by a falling TV antenna which had been damaged when a truck backed into a guy wire.

A truck owned by the Syracuse Tank Manufacturing Co., Inc. of 723 Hiawatha Boulevard, Syracuse, was backing up preparatory to unloading tanks for the Kingston Oil Supply Company at Slighsburg when the top of the truck struck a TV antenna guy wire causing the antenna to fall. The youth was playing in the vicinity and was struck on the head. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Richard Colman and Dennis Kilmer, employees of Kingston Oil Supply Company.

Deputy Sheriff Carl J. Swenson investigated.

Urges Hudson Curfew

A curfew that would take children 9 to 12 years of age off the streets of Hudson at a "decent" hour, was proposed Thursday by Mrs. Irene Burton, chairman of the Taxpayer-Rentpayer Association of that city. Alderman Benjamin Murell pledged immediate support to the proposal and said, "I'll back her up 100 per cent."

Dear Abby . . .

Rely On Your Intuition!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently we started seeing a lot of a certain couple. I have always liked them both but we have never been real close friends. For the past few months I have had the feeling that something was going on between this woman and my husband. I have never been jealous before. When I first got that feeling, I told my husband about it. He denied everything and I felt like a fool. I haven't mentioned it since, but I am no fool. All of a sudden she has been planning things for the four of us to do almost every night, and she does favors for me that are uncalled for. I don't like the looks that pass between them or the way they always manage to sit close to each other, or the way they dance together, either. I've never had to cope with this in 20 years of marriage. Should I keep my mouth shut and keep watching or what? My woman's intuition is strong.

NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: Your woman's intuition is probably better than Scotland Yard. Tell your husband in plain language that you are jealous, you sense danger and you have no intention of sharing him or losing him. If he fights too hard to continue the friendship, you will know your suspicions were correct, in which case you had better enlist the help of the other husband.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife's mother came to live with us. Everything is fine, except when we go out for a ride. I have a two-door automobile. My mother-in-law is 78, and quite large. She always climbs in the front, which seats two comfortably, but with three it's crowded. It is also dangerous, because I have only two seat belts in front, and they are being sat on—not used. I certainly am not going to put my wife in the back seat alone, so she's up front next to her mother, near the door. My mother-in-law can't very well straddle that hump on the floor, so she puts both her feet next to mine, which interferes with my driving. She leans heavily toward me, so her head is right in my rear view mirror. I don't enjoy these rides, but I go anyway because my wife says her mother needs the fresh air. Is there a solution?

SKIP MY NAME

DEAR SKIP: It is not easy to get most large 78-year-old women into or out of the back seat of a "two-door automobile." But that's where "mother" belongs. Get a car with two more doors (Detroit will love you!) and enjoy a safer ride.

DEAR ABBY: No uglier facet of human personality is there than was shown by the critics who wrote to tell you that they would not stop to help an injured animal in the road. Surely you are not surprised! Thirty-eight cowards watched a New York woman being stabbed to death. They should hang their heads in shame. Twenty-three years ago, on an Iowa farm, a mad bull had my father pinned to a fence. My frail little mother was alone on the farm. She got a pitchfork and fought the bull back into the barnyard. Dad suffered a broken nose, but we had him another fifteen years.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 26—Most readers of this column are aware that since the panic-like stock market decline in the spring of 1962, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has been marching upward, with only short halts, to successively new record highs.

Business Backbones the Stock Market

The rapid shrinkage in stock values in the dark days of 1962 undoubtedly had its beginnings in distrust of the politico-business outlook. Then, as paper profits began to vanish, selling pressure rose to a crescendo, with investors hurrying to preserve what profits they had left, or to limit their losses. The market did regain its composure when investors realized that a business decline of the proportions indicated was not imminent. By that time, too, the "water" had been pretty well wrung out of the glamour and speculative stocks.

Thus it has been the sustained well-being of general business, powerfully assisted by consumer spending and residential building, which not only righted the stock market but launched it on a two-year advance, virtually uninterrupted, during which time the Dow-Jones Industrial Average rose from a low of 536 to a high of 830.

Are Inflation Fears Justified?

As I view the market now, many of the blue-chip stocks which have largely accounted for the two-year market advance seem fully priced, and real bargains are harder to find. This is understandable, since the Dow-Jones Industrial Average's climb of nearly 300 points outdistances the gains of industrial activity and business profits in the same period of time. Business and profits may rise further over the near term, to be sure, but such additional gains are probably pretty well discounted. Hence we must look to another element to propel the stock market on upward. This may well be speculative enthusiasm stemming from fears of inflation. It has been said that a whiff of inflation psychology can stir investor buying impatience. Those who feel we are in for more inflation have many arguments in their favor. Since the last business recession, U. S. monetary authorities have been pursuing a policy of keeping money and credit plentiful. To the extent this has exceeded the legitimate credit needs of business, the surplus represents an inflationary potential. In addition, consumers have been expanding their borrowings, both for installment purchases of durable goods and for new home mortgages. Such borrowings are inflationary to the extent that purchasing power is boosted above the levels of earned incomes. The deficit operations of federal, state, and municipal governments are also inflationary; and we must not forget the steady inflation of labor costs.

On the other hand, President Johnson's economy drive in government spending is an attempt to prevent inflation from getting out of hand. The most effective barriers against inflation in recent years, however, have been the surplus of most commodities and the excess of productive capacities in many industries.

Hedging Against Inflation

The danger of inflation is most acute during and following wars. Under normal conditions, deflation is more likely to prevail. In today's "semi-war" economy and prolonged prosperity, therefore, the tug-of-war between inflation and deflation leaves the situation in doubt. Conceivably, this stalemate could continue with neither side gaining a clear advantage, even though over the long run rising government spending and the unreasonable demands of labor suggest further inflation.

It has been my experience that the best time to hedge against inflation is when the stock market and real estate prices are depressed. Hence, although the current bull market may yet penetrate higher ground, the "real gravity" is largely behind us and the risk factor greater from here on in. It might therefore be better to have patience and "hold your fire." Profitable hedging against inflation requires careful timing and selection. When the prices of stocks and real estate are depressed, and when deflation rather than inflation is the watchword of the day, then investors should have the courage to acquire inflation-hedge investments—carefully and selectively. I believe more inflation is ahead of us, but now is not the time to hedge against it.

State Reports 92 Major Crimes Arrests in County

There were 92 arrests for major crimes in Ulster County between January and March of this year, according to figures released today by Commissioner of Correction Paul D. McGinnis.

Of these, 51 involved persons 21 years of age and over, and the other 41 youths 16 to 20 years of age.

McGinnis said 30 persons were arrested for major crimes in Kingston during the same period, including 13 between the ages of 16 and 20 and 17 who were 21 years or over.

The commissioner said they were among 19,885 persons arrested for major crimes in New York State during the first three months of the year. He said this was the largest quarterly total on record, exceeding by 51.1 per cent the previous high of July-September 1963. This record-breaking volume registered an advance of 22.6 per cent over October-December 1963 and an increase of 24.7 per cent over the first quarter of 1963. New York City was the major contributor to the rise over the previous quarter, McGinnis said, but both sections of the state participated almost equally in the advance from January-March 1963.

McGinnis said that the upward trend in youth arrests (16-20) also was reinforced by the influence of the rising youth population resulting from the post-war rise in the birth rate. He said that arrests for narcotic drug violations alone accounted for almost one-third of the numerical increase, followed by felonious assault, burglary and auto theft. Among youths under 21, the greatest numeric advances occurred in arrests for narcotic drugs and auto theft, while adult increases were largest for narcotic drugs, felonious assault and burglary.

Other area county and city figures showing total arrests for the three-month period, age 16-20 and 21 years or over, respectively, included:

Baptists Retain Men's Club Slate, To Change Tenure

Current officers of the Men's Club of First Baptist Church will continue in office through December, if a resolution adopted at Wednesday night's meeting is approved in September.

The resolution, presented by the nominating committee during the annual steak roast at Upper Hasbrouck Park, would bring the Men's Club in line with other church organizations whose officers serve for the calendar year.

In the past the men's group has elected officers in June with installation in September.

Current officers include Alfred E. Shults, president; Billy G. Smallwood, vice president; Alfred O. Sonnenberg, treasurer; and Edwin J. Thomas, secretary.

The only other major business transacted last night was a report by Donald Field relative to the annual Baptist Men's retreat at Colgate University, set this year for the Aug. 29-30 week-end.

The feature of the annual steak roast meeting was the traditional softball clash. Last night's game wound up in a 3-3 tie between A. Sonnenberg's Baptist Batters and Bill Williams' Cape Codders.

Don Field and Norm Bowen were the opposing hurlers. The Batters pushed across two runs in the last inning to knot the score. Defensive star of the game was Al Goodwin who retired all three batters in the first inning.

YMCA Staff Will Wind Up Camp Plans Saturday

The final planning sessions of the YMCA Day Camp Staff will be held at camp today, Friday and Saturday. All phases of the summer camp program will be discussed for the largest season in the camp's history. The staff will work on the waterfront and review swimming, boating, canoeing, sailing and life guard duties. The camp has joined the National Camp Archery Association in which campers shoot for scores according to distance to earn badges and pins. The staff will put up tents and the new 20 foot Indian Teepee.

Committee on Senecas Adjourns, No Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee seeking agreement on funds for the Seneca Indians of New York State adjourned indefinitely Thursday after a meeting at which "little or no progress" was reported made.

The meeting was the fourth held by conferees trying to resolve differences between two bills to compensate the Senecas for loss of their lands as a result of construction of the Allegheny River Dam at Kinzua, Pa.

The reservoir to be formed after the dam is closed next fall will inundate much of the Seneca Reservation in southwestern New York.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House conferees, told reporters that "little or no progress" was made at the meeting.

The differences hinge on money. The House voted $20.15 million in damages and for a rehabilitation fund for the Senecas, while the Senate voted $9.12 million.

Van Buren-Vogt Nuptials Are Announced; Wedding Ceremony in Episcopal Church Here

Miss Linda Jean Van Buren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Van Buren of 105 Cedar Street, this city, was married to Paul Joseph Vogt, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Vogt, 48 Pine Street, this city, on Sunday, June 21. The wedding ceremony took place in St. John's Episcopal Church, Kingston, with the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, pastor, officiating.

Gladioli and white pompons decorated the church for the occasion. Given in marriage by her brother James Van Buren, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and silk organza over silk taffeta. It was styled with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, long tapered sleeves and full skirt of lace. The gown was chapel length. Her butterfly veil of English silk illusion was caught to a double crown of pearls and cut crystals fashioned with crop crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet with stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses. Blanche Bigando of Kingston was matron of honor for her sister. The bride's sister Mrs. Arlene Corrado of 8 Conway Place, and Mrs. Peggy Vogt of 32 Pine Street, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, were the attendants. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Joanne Corrado, the bride's niece. They wore floor length gowns in petal pink silk organza with fitted sleeveless bodice and full bouffant skirts. Large horsehair picture hats were also worn accented with pink flowers, illusion bows and streamers. The matron of honor was in Viva pink and the bridesmaids in pink. The junior bridesmaid wore petal pink organza gown with full skirt and Viva taffeta cummerbund and back bow with streamers.

The attendants carried arm bouquets of light pink carnations with deep pink carnations and deep pink ribbon. The junior bridesmaid carried an arm bouquet of light pink carnations with deep pink carnations and matching ribbon.

The matron of honor carried an arm bouquet of rubrum lilies. George E. Vogt, the bridegroom's brother, 32 Pine Street, this city, served as best man. Ushers were Donald Van Buren, 105 Cedar Street, this city, George Oswald of Saugerties and Jerry Corrado of 8 Conway Street, the bride's nephew.

Approximately 100 guests were entertained at The Alpine. The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. The bride is employed by Shop-Rite, Inc., and the bridegroom by Graphic Techniques.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogt will be at home at 30 Stahlman Place, this city, when they return from their wedding trip through the southern states.

GUESTS SEATED AT TWO TABLES

Q: My husband and I are giving a large dinner party at home. There will be 20 in all, and as our table is not large enough to seat everybody at one table, we are having two tables of 10. Both tables will be in the same room. In this situation, should my husband sit at one table and I at the other, or do we both sit at the same table?

A: To avoid the possibility of offending any of your guests by seating them at what they might consider a "second" table, you should sit at one table and your husband at the other.

Lighting Cigarette From Candle

Q: The other night my wife and I had dinner at a very nice restaurant here in town. Each table had a lighted candle on it. After we had finished our dinner, I took out a cigarette and lit it from the candle on the table. My wife immediately pounced on me for doing this and said I should know better. I can't for the life of me see anything wrong in this and would like to hear what you have to say about it.

A: If you did not pick up the candle and risk spilling melted wax on the tablecloth, your wife was unnecessarily punctilious in criticizing you for lighting your cigarette from it.

Inviting Wives Without Their Husbands

Q: I am going to be married shortly and have a problem concerning the invitations to my reception. I am not having too large a reception but I would like to include some of the girls from my office with whom I have worked for many years. Most of them are married. Must I also invite their husbands who are strangers to me?

A: I'm sorry, but it would not be proper to invite them without their husbands.

Carol McArdle, William Michael Cuff Are Married; Ceremony in Local Church

In the Holy Name Church of Wilbur marriage vows were taken by Carol Mary McArdle and William Michael Cuff.

The ceremony took place on June 21 at 2 p. m. with the Rev. John Russell officiating. Organist was Nan Goldrick and Mrs. Frank Sass was the soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cermak of 22 Davis Street, this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Matthew O'Locki of Schenectady and the late John Cuff.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. After the wedding ceremony, the bride dedicated a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Mother.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle and Godfather George F. McArdle. She wore a white silk organza gown in empire style with full length skirt accented with embroidered lace appliques. A double crown of lace held a pure silk illusion fingertip veil. The bride carried a missal which belonged to her great grandmother. With it she also carried an orchid.

Bush-Muller Wedding Takes Place June 6

Mrs. Anita M. Bush of Hurley and Pierre J. Muller Jr. were united in marriage June 6 at St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. William Williams officiated.

Attending were Mrs. Warren Henry, the bridegroom's sister and Joseph H. Hoffman, the bride's brother. A reception followed at Leherb's Restaurant after which the couple left for Bermuda.

Mr. Muller is employed by the Kingston City Post Office. The couple plans to reside in Hurley.

Onteora Commencement Exercises Held; Awards Totaling About $3,000 Are Given

Graduation exercises were held at the Onteora Central School auditorium Wednesday evening, June 24, at which time 109 seniors received diplomas. This is the largest graduating class in the history of the school.

The program opened with the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," followed by the invocation which was delivered by the Rev. James Cook, pastor of the Overlook Methodist Church, Woodstock. The Rev. Mr. Cook also gave the benediction at the conclusion of the program.

The high school band, under the direction of Harry Simon, played "Intermezzo." William Fox, senior class president, delivered his address, "Our Class." The salutatory address was given by Nicolette Ketcham followed by Susan Perlman's valedictory address.

Paul Runge, high school principal, presented the prizes and awards which totaled over $3,000. Dr. George Sullivan, superintendent of schools, presented the class to Philip Gordon, Board of Education President, who awarded the diplomas.

COMMENCEMENT AWARDS

Seven students were recipients of the Onteora P-TA awards. These awards are in the form of scholarships and are made to students who are pursuing a higher education, who have demonstrated scholarship to the best of their ability, have maintained good citizenship records and are worthy of financial assistance. with straps of a unique new non-rippling, non-rolling elastic!

Till now you've had to put up with straps that stretch, which have a bad habit of twisting and binding—especially after they are washed. Forget it! Maidenform's newest "Sweet Music" bra has straps that stretch smoothly over your shoulders, around the back and under the cups, and stay smooth, no matter how active you are or how often you wash the bra. That's because they're made with a totally new kind of elastic—light, meshy, and permanently treated to lie flat! The shaping of the bra? Pure Maidenform! ## FBI Sent After 3 Missing

Constitutional Wall Major Barrier in Mississippi

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leaders got smaller encouragement when they asked the government to take "preventive" police action not only to protect civil rights but "the 985,000 Negro citizens" in Mississippi.

Swarm of volunteer civil rights workers are supposed to pour into Mississippi this summer. Three young men of the advance guard disappeared Sunday night and have not been seen since leaving a police station at Philadelphia, Miss.

Their burned automobile was found Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy sent in FBI agents and Thursday President Johnson ordered 200 unarmed sailors, stationed in Mississippi, to join in the search for the missing trio.

Action Is Taken
But this action was taken after something had happened: The disappearance of the three men.

What Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Kennedy to do was take "preventive" police action for Mississippi Negroes and civil rights workers before anything happened to them.

Kennedy said that even under the pending civil rights bill, not yet law, the Justice Department would have only "limited authority" to step into a racial crisis such as that in Mississippi.

Authority Limited
He said, "It won't give us authority because we have no national police force. Our authority is very, very limited." What he had in mind was the high constitutional wall separating federal power from the power of the states.

Nothing in the Constitution authorizes the federal government to take such ahead-of-time action as Wilkins asked. But sometimes both the Constitution and federal power take on the appearance of stretchable rubber.

When there seemed a chance of race riots in Birmingham, Ala., in 1963, President John F. Kennedy sent 3,000 troops into Alabama's military bases, near but not in Birmingham. He did not have to use them. But did he have authority to?

The Justice Department at the time said the President could have decided whether to use troops or not, if a riot started, under authority of a specific law—Article 10, Section 333 of the U.S. Code—which says:

A Gigantic Task
The president can use troops or "any other means" to suppress domestic violence in a state if it "hinders the execution of the laws of that state and of the United States within the state, that any part of class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection."

There's a lot of latitude there if the President felt he had to act. But in that case he would have been handling an immediate problem concentrated in Birmingham. For the government to protect several hundred civil rights workers, if they were scattered around Mississippi, would be quite a task.

Yet, the government in some particular cases can act on the assumption that something happened. When a "Freedom Ride" bus was bombed in Alabama in 1961 it seemed like a local problem. But the FBI was sent in on the assumption there might have been a violation of federal law against transportation of bomb materials across state lines.

FBI Explanation
The Justice Department explained this week why the FBI was sent into Mississippi after the trio of civil rights workers, held 3½ hours by Philadelphia police, disappeared.

While no one could say for sure anything had happened to them, the Justice Department operated on the assumption it might have.

The department gave this explanation: "We wish to talk to the three men about the circumstances of their arrest. We also are investigating the possibility they are being held against their will by persons not law enforcement officers or are being deprived of their civil rights."

Federal intervention in a state is supposed to be permitted when some federal law or authority is violated or someone in government can argue it might

Barry Will Give Away Daughter At Phoenix Rites

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, top contender for the Republican presidential nomination, settled down in his Arizona hilltop home today to make the transformation from politician to father of the bride.

Goldwater's youngest daughter, Margaret Ann, 20, will marry Richard Arlen Holt, 26, of Beverly Hills, Calif., Saturday night at the Phoenix Trinity Episcopal Cathedral.

The Arizona senator made two speeches in his home state Thursday, then ducked out of the spotlight. In Nogales, Ariz., Goldwater told an American Legion convention that he hated to cut his visit there short, but that he had to get home for a "meeting of the clan."

A dinner was scheduled for tonight. Miss Goldwater, better known as Peggy, will be given away by her father at the 11-minute ceremony.

Her husband-to-be is a junior executive with an oil company. The newblows plan to honeymoon in Hawaii and then make their home in Beverly Hills.

GE Gives Union No Good Hope On Arbitration

NEW YORK (AP) — General Electric Co. has offered no hope that it will agree to voluntary arbitration of a union incentive pay dispute at its Schenectady plant.

Following a top-level meeting Thursday of company representatives and officials of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers on the union-proposed arbitration, E. J. Ritter, GE's manager of union contracts, said:

"We could give the union no encouragement of putting such an important determination in the hands of a third party. However, the union is free to make such a request through the usual procedure."

The company proposed elimination of piece work incentive pay rates for 3,000 of the 9,000 union employees at the plant, effective July 13.

The plan called for gradual substitution of day-work rates which are lower.

The union contended the matter is a national issue and suggested it be arbitrated. The company maintained that sound solutions could be reached at the local level since the condition was unique to Schenectady.

The company promised to reply to the union grievance within five days.

be involved. This is pretty broad authority. If a truly critical situation develops in Mississippi it won't be surprising if the federal government steps in with one excuse or another to save lives.

AT ANNUAL CAMPOREE—Brownies, Girl Scouts and leaders of the Onteora Neighborhood participate in flag ceremonies at the third annual camporee held over the weekend at Camp Mountain Pals, Mt. Tremper.

Onteora Scouting Camporee Is Held; 130 Participate

Fair skies favored the annual Girl Scout camporee held June 19, 20 and 21 at Camp Mountain Pals, Mt. Tremper.

Troop 139 took first place for the third consecutive year in the Junior and Senior class. Troop 179 took second place with Troop 124 taking third.

Troop 91 took first place in the presentation of Indian legend of why the crow is black was depicted in a dance with authentic costumes. Each troop then presented an original skit.

The flag pole presentation of awards ceremony was held Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk of Mt. Tremper, directors of the camporee, thanked all those who for the past three years have made the camporee possible. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shikita, owners of Camp Mountain Pals, Ed Quadro, Woodstock, Tom Fickus, Ashokan, Pat D'Salvo, Woodstock, Bud Buley and son Westly, Ashokan, Bill Doran and son Rick, Woodstock, Ronnie Hutchinson, West Hurley, Mrs. Doris Arneson, staff nurse, Phoenicia and all troop leaders and assistants.

Church Picnic Set
The elders in conjunction with the MIA of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold a picnic Saturday on the chapel grounds, Fording Place Road, Lake Katrine.

Festivities will start 1:30 p. m. All members and friends may attend. Those attending will bring hot dogs and rolls, beverage, salads and other food items will be supplied by various members.

New York Ballet Is To Summer at Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The Saratoga Performing Arts Center will be the summer home of the New York City Ballet in 1966.

The ballet company's plans to stage up to 32 performances during a four-week period starting July 5, 1966 were announced Thursday by Harold G. Wilm, state conservation commissioner, and Newbold Morris, board chairman of the City Center of Music and Drama Inc.

The Philadelphia Orchestra will perform at the center in August, 1966, while the traditional thoroughbred racing meeting is on here.

Ground will be broken for the $3-million center Tuesday in a ceremony in which Gov. Rockefeller will take part.

Passionettes Win Three in Flowers

Eight teams competed in the Flower League meet at Plaza Bowl, Saugerties, Wednesday night with Essie Owen's Passionettes taking all three of their games to total an even 2,000.

Defeating the Tiger Lilies 640-681-679 with a 63-pin handicap, the winners netted 619-660-658—1937 over their opponents' 644-658-654—1956 gross.

In other matches, the Bleeding Hearts took their last two games to gross a 649-683-688—2020 as opposed to the Snap Dragon's 677-651-660—1988 tally.

The Sweet Peas won their first two and finished with 728-613-574—1915 while the Poppies managed to come up in the third and ended with a gross of 591-592-615—1798.

The Rose Buds took a close one against the Tulips, totaling 607-682-602—1891, with the losers grossing 588-600-620—1808.

2447 Gross Total In Stephano Win

Stephano's Construction took their first and third games to gross a total of 2447 to Sangi's Bowlers score of 2382 and P. F. Electric Motors out-rolled the Bowlers Summer Classic League meet at Sangi's Wednesday.

Stephano's had 835 in the first to Sangi's 698 and watched the losers scrape through with 793 to their 775 in the second. Their 837 to 791 in the third clinched the win.

P. F. Electric won the first two in a row, rolling 836 and 855 while the losers stayed in the upper 700's. The winners lost their last round by 16 points, as the Electric Five rolled a neat 850.

Friendly Raps 134 Softball Win in Saugerties

Friendly Inn wasn't exactly that in belting out a 13-4 victory over Dale's Chevron in the Saugerties Softball League as FI bats boomed for 12 hits.

They did it in spite of seven errors.

Friendly Jack Lechner set a season record for the league by blasting five runners across the plate. He smashed a home run, a double and a single in four trips to the platter in the process.

Team mate Jerry Smith settled for a perfect day at the plate with two-for-two, including another round-tripper. Bob Shuenbacher whacked a two-bagger for the winners. Winning pitcher Bob Wolven added to his cause by knocking in two tallies.

Dale's was spared complete humiliation by reeling off a triple play in the seventh inning, although they committed five playing misuses. Chevron John Gambino had two-for-four for the losers.

The line score:
Friendly .....520 114 0-13
Dale's .....200 101 0-4
Bob Wolven and Bob O'Connor; Ralph Childers and John Hinchey.

Canadian Trotter Bows in Big M Feature Tonight

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Amulet Hanover, the seven-year-old brown mare owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Leblanc of Quebec City, Canada, makes her bow in the $5,000 invitational ranks at Monticello raceway tonight as the 3-1 early line favorite.

In 2:03.3—fastest trotting time of the season at the Sullivan County oval—Amulet Hanover has been assigned the No. 5 post in the one-mile handicap test. Roger White will do the driving.

The Sat's pride mare, which will be facing the likes of Great Pleasure, Dancing Demon, Mighty Indian and newcomers Hadley's Boy and Timmy, carries an impressive record into the one-mile battle.

In eight starts this year, Amulet Hanover has breezed to four wins, a second and three thirds for a bankroll of slightly over $10,000. Both Great Pleasure, assigned the outside six hole, and Timmy are pegged as the 7-2 co-second choices by oddsmakers.

Eddie Cobb piloted the eight-year-old Maregreat Pleasure to a 2:04.2 triumph at MR last week. That win, her second in 14 tries, boosted her earnings for the year over the $20,000 mark.

In Timmy, a five-year-old Demon Hanover gelding owned by the Ohio Valley stables of Hamilton, Ohio, Amulet Hanover and Great Pleasure will be meeting a rugged opponent.

Campaigning mostly in Chicago and Philadelphia this spring, Timmy racked up $23,000 in winnings of a 2-4-4 chart for 14 starts.

Hugh McIntosh will take the latter from post position four. Veteran trotter Mighty Indian was assigned the rail and will be handled by Jim Grundy. He is listed at 9-2 in the morning line.

Dancing Demon, 4-1 from post two with Bobby Camper driving, and Hadley's Boy, 5-1 from the three hole with Paige West assigned, complete the lineup.

The associate feature tonight will be a $3,500 invitational handicap trot which finds Miss Sarah Rodney pegged the 3-1 favorite from post five in a field of seven starters.

Supplementing the card will be three invitational pacing tests.

Politics Come To Wimbledon

By BOB WAITS
Associated Press Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Officials at aristocratic Wimbledon, which prides itself on being the world's best-run tournament, were wondering today just what to do if any more Communist players refuse to play with South Africans because of apartheid.

Politics hit Wimbledon tennis for the first time in its 78 years Thursday when Russia's No. 2 player, Alex. Metreveli, scratched from the men's singles after refusing to meet South African Abe Segal in a third-round match because of South Africa's racial policies.

This shock withdrawal was closely followed by Hungarian Istvan Gulyas pulling out of the men's doubles in which he was to have partnered Segal.

Now Wimbledon officials are wondering if another player, Mrs. Suzi Kormoczy of Hungary, will withdraw from the doubles first-round match in which she is scheduled to play with Christine Merello of Belgium against Segal's wife, Heather, and Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla.

One Wimbledon official said: "To keep political propaganda out of Wimbledon in the future we should insist that a player can only withdraw if he produces a valid medical certificate."

Russian coach Semyn Belitz German said: "The decision was entirely up to Metreveli's own sense of duty and from the tennis association in Moscow."

Politics apart, Thursday saw the exit of the first seed in the women's bracket—seventeen-ranked Jan Lehane of Australia. Norma Baylon, the young Argentine star, beat her 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Otherwise, all of the seeds, both men and women, who took the courts Thursday came through—though several had some uneasy moments.

These included the holders of the men's and women's titles—Chuck McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., who was taken to four sets by Denmark's bearded Torben Ulrich, 7-5, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Marge Smith of Australia, who struggled through a marathon first set before beating Mrs. Karen Susman, of San Antonio, Tex., 1962 winner but unseeded this year, 11-9, 6-0.

Outfielder Admits He Substituted Ball
BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—As a high fly hit by Dan Napoleon soared toward the fence Thursday night, evidently bound for home run territory, it was suddenly snared from the air in a spectacular catch—or so it appeared.

But later, outfielder John May of the Binghamton Triplets in the Class A New York-Pennsylvania League admitted he didn't catch the ball after all. He said he went through the gestures, but actually substituted the ball that was hit out of the park, with one he had in his uniform pocket.

May apologized to Auburn Manager Clyde McCullough and explained he was sorry to Binghamton Manager Andy Pafko, who said as far as he was concerned the incident "is closed."

Auburn won the game, 8-2.

Orioles Beat Yanks Third Straight; Kaufax Has New Strikeout Record

Barber Is In Good Form

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dust off the first chair, boys—Baltimore's fanciest Barber is back in business!

Steve Barber, who bossed the Orioles' pitching corps a year ago with a 20-13 mark, can count his 1964 victories on one hand. But the three-hit, nine-strikeout trim job he did on New York Thursday night in a 3-1 verdict over the Yankees had all the earmarks of a return to 1963 form.

The southpaw's effort, coupled with home runs by Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson, gave the Orioles a sweep of the three-game series and stretched their American League lead over the Yanks to 2½ games.

A month ago, Barber was still looking for his first victory. He had started five games, finished none and was laboring with a sore arm and a 6.83 earned run average.

Now he's 4-4 with two complete games in his last three starts and a 3.79 ERA. His left arm is healthy again, which is more than can be said for the Yankees' image.

They came into Baltimore on a five-game win skid and left with their heads shaved. Manager Yogi Berra, however, was unruffled.

"We're one game behind (in the loss column) with 98 to play," he purred.

While the Orioles were mistreating New York for the third straight time, the red-hot Los Angeles Angels captured their ninth in a row, nipping Kansas City 4-3, and climbed into a sixth-place tie with idle Boston. Cleveland overpowered Minnesota 8-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

St. Louis topped Houston 4-2, Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 8-1 and San Francisco nipped Los Angeles 2-1 in 13 innings in National League activity.

Barber's scissors slipped once against the Yanks. Joe Pepitone led off the third inning with his ninth homer. But Powell's 18th circuit—his third in the series—and Robinson's eighth, both off loser Jim Bouton, gave Barber all the runs he needed before 36,369 fans, largest Baltimore crowd of the season.

Bob Rodgers' sixth-inning single scored Bob Perry, snapping a 3-3 deadlock at Los Angeles and extending the longest winning streak in Angel history. Fred Newman recorded his fourth straight victory with the aid of Dan Oskis's scoreless three-inning relief stint.

Veterans Jim Piersall and Vic Power each delivered runs in the Angels' three-run third inning. Bill Bryan hit a solo homer for the A's, who scored twice in the top of the sixth, to tie it.

Max Alvis crashed his third homer in two games and Jack Kralick won his eighth game in 10 decisions as the Indians ousted former teammate Mudcat Grant. Kralick collected three hits and combined with reliever Don McMahon for a three-hitter.

Larry Brown also homered for Cleveland and Dick Howser went 3-for-5. The Twins' Bob Allison stretched his hitting string to 15 games with a fourth-inning double.

Kelso Seems Ready To Again Take Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso, the 7-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable, appears ready to make his run for a fifth straight Horse-of-the-Year title and top spot among the all-time money winners.

After running two poor races on the West Coast, the son of Your Host-Maid of Flight got back into winning stride with a 1½-length victory in the $15,000 Straight Face at Aqueduct Thursday.

His share of the purse wasn't much, $9,750, but it boosted his total earnings to $1,591,452 and left him only $158,417 back of the leading money winner, Round Table.

More important than the victory, with Ismael Valenzuela in the saddle, Kelso showed he was ready for the big test in the 1½ miles of the $100,000-added Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct July 4. Weights will be announced next week and one of his probable opponents is Quadrangle, the 3-year-old who won the Belmont Stakes.

Del Crandall Gets 4 Hits

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax set his record but the 35,930 Candlestick Park fans who saw him do it probably will remember Del Crandall's performance a lot longer.

Koufax has struck out 10 or more batters in a game 54 times before, but how many times has Crandall had four hits in a game?

It was the veteran catcher's fourth safety of the night that broke up a 13-inning oldtime Giant-Dodger donnybrook Thursday night and gave San Francisco a 2-1 squeaker over Los Angeles.

Crandall, acquired from Milwaukee last winter, delivered the key blow in the final inning after hits by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda and an intentional walk to Jim Ray Hart had loaded the bases.

Crandall, batting .188 going into the game, cracked his game-ending hit off Nate Oliver's glove as Cepeda scampered across with the winning run.

Four innings earlier, Koufax had broken the mark he shared with Rube Waddell and Bob Feller, by reaching the 10-or-more strikeout plateau for the 53th time in his career.

The Dodgers got their first run on Ron Fairly's third homer of the year in the seventh. San Francisco tied it on Mays' walk and steal of second and Tom Haller's pinch single in the eighth.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh whipped New York for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 8-1, and St. Louis rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to whip Houston 4-2.

Jerry Lynch hammered two homers and Bill Mazeroski had one as the Pirates piled up an early lead against the Mets. The 13-hit attack made it easy for Joe Gibbon, who fired a four-hitter.

Ron Hunt had two hits for the Mets and scored their only run. It was New York's fifth straight loss and 13th in the last 14 games.

Ken Boyer and Dick Groat cracked eighth inning doubles to drive in the three Cardinal runs as St. Louis rallied to beat Bob Bruce. Boyer's two-run shot came after Curt Flood walked and Bill White singled. Groat's hit added the insurance run.

Bob Aspromonte drove in both Houston runs with a pop fly double in the second inning and a homer in the sixth.

Tebbetts Has Hopes Of Joining Indians

ANNA MARIA CITY, Fla. (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts, Cleveland Indians manager who has been recuperating from a heart attack at his home, left Thursday for Cleveland with hopes of rejoining the club.

Tebbetts will first undergo a complete physical examination and if permitted by his physicians, will rejoin the Indians immediately.

Tebbetts suffered the heart attack April 1 during spring training in Arizona.

Accompanying him were his wife, Mary, and four children.

The new, little 3.9 hp Merc 39 has features you won't find on any other motor in its power class.

First, it has a twist-grip throttle on the steering handle. The handle itself is rubber mounted to take the sting out of steering. It has full gearshift... forward, neutral, reverse... just like its more powerful brothers.

Merc 39 has a remote fuel system. It's not on top of the motor. An all-day fuel tank and fuel line are included with the motor at no extra cost.

Merc 39 has two clamp brackets in stead of one. It has an all-metal cowling, fixed-let carburetors, ball and roller bearings throughout, Glide-A-Line styling that lets it slip over logs, sandbars and shallows. It has no protruding nose on the lower unit to gather weeds or plow sand.

Sickler's Win 6-4 in American

Sickler's Delivery capitalized on a four-run second inning to post a 6-4 verdict over Felice's Masonry in the American LL.

They went through the complete batting order and picked up four hits in the process.

Felice scored two runs in the top of the second inning before the Sicklers bounced back. The winners pushed two more tallies across in the bottom of the fifth and Felice came back with two in the top of the sixth but that wasn't enough.

Keith Nickerson allowed two hits and struck out 11 batters in earning the win and had a perfect day at the plate with three-for-three, including a double. Teammate Mark Kachigian rapped a double. Mike Felice and Steve Hogan had two-for-three each for the winners.

Ulster Indians Top Tigers, 8-1

Indians scalped the Tigers 8-1 on nine hits in a Town of Ulster LL contest.

Gary Short struck out 15 batters and had a perfect day at bat, including a two-bagger, in taking honors in both the hurling and slugging departments. Short stroked three-for-three. He gave up three hits.

The Injuns jumped off to a four-run lead and added two more in the top of the third. The Tigers came across with their lone tally in the bottom of the fourth, but the Indians posted an additional pair of runs in the top of the fourth to put the game on ice. The scoring ended there.

Indian Ed Stevenson slammed two-for-three, including a double. Team mate George Lay also went two-for-three. The Tigers' John Salzman also had two hits in three trips to the plate. His team mate, Kevin Crosby, poked a two-bagger. Short walked four batters in taking the win.

KPA, 35 Club Cop Wins in BR Loop

Frank McGowan literally threw away a no-hitter as the 35 Club edged the Legion 2-1 in a Babe Ruth League game at Dietz Stadium.

Kingston Patrolmen's Association whipped the Masons 11-5 in the first game of a twin bill at the stadium.

Although both teams scored lone tallies in the first inning, they went scoreless through the next five frames, with McGowan failing to yield a hit. Mike Milano singled in the bottom of the sixth for 35 to break the ice. He went to second and on an attempted pickoff, and McGowan threw the ball into centerfield allowing Milano to score what proved to be the winning run. The Legion failed to score in the top of the seventh and the bad toss proved the difference.

McGowan struck out 15 Legion batsmen and walked two in taking the loss. He picked up two of the losers' three hits, including a triple, in three trips to the plate.

Paul Koeppen fanned 12 and issued five walks in taking the win.

KPA romped for nine hits in the opener in which they went only one inning without a score. They surged for five runs after the Masons tallied once in the opening inning.

The Masons scored once in the second but KPA rapped two more across in the third. Both teams tallied once in the fourth and twice in the fifth. KPA added a bonus run in the sixth and held the Masons scoreless in the final frame.

Bill Kilquist led the victors at bat with three bingles in four trips to the plate. Doug Craddock rapped two-for-four for the Masons while teammate Bob Gorsline belted a double. Tim Bowen, winning hurler, and Charles Howell, losing pitcher, each fanned three and walked three.

A spectacular one-handed catch by Jim Meyers in right field for KPA in the 7th inning was the fielding gem of the game.

Jay-Cee Hawks Beat Crows, 7-2

Tom Kuriger was tagged for his first loss in six games as the Hawks dumped the Crows 7-2 in a two-hit effort by his opposing moundman, Scott Findholdt.

Findholdt whiffed 14 Crows and failed to issue a single walk in taking the win, while Kuriger fanned 15 and issued four free passes. There were no extra base hits.

The Hawks tallied twice in the first inning and added three more in the second before the Crows scored once in the bottom of the second. That would have been enough to wing the Hawks in on a victory but they added single tallies in the third and fourth while the best the Crows could come up with was one more run in the fifth. Findholdt limited the losers to two safeties. The Crows committed five errors.

The line score:

R	H
Hawks	231 100-7 7
Crows	010 010-2 2

Mira Hopes All-Star Games Will Sharpen Him for 49ers

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—George Mira hopes to sharpen up in two all-star games for his big chance with the San Francisco 49ers. The fabulous quarterback from the University of Miami has been dreaming of playing pro ball since his sophomore year.

"The 49ers have a good one in John Brodie," said Mira. "I hope I can get to play this year. It's tough to sit on the bench. It's a big step and I'm anxious to get there and learn all I can."

Mira will quarterback the East team against the West in the All-America game at War Memorial Stadium Saturday night, co-sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association and the Buffalo Evening News. The game will be carried on network (ABC) television.

"Coach Jack Christiansen was down to Miami in January and spent some time with me," said Mira. "We went over films and a couple of plays. I think the big problem is learning the different defenses and knowing when to change plays at the line of scrimmage."

Mira thinks he is big enough at 5-foot-11½ to make the grade as a pro although he admits he will be dwarfed by some of the big defensive men in the National Football League.

"I can stay in the pocket all right," said Mira. "But I can get out and go if I have to. I throw real hard with a lot of wrist motion but I can throw soft passes, too."

Mira credits Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts with helping him during a spring practice session while he was at Miami.

"Unitas helped me tremendously," said Mira. "He helped me with my foot work and made me stride out longer. He also told me you don't have to throw certain passes as hard as others. When a man is open you don't have to drill it, but you have to throw a needle when a man is covered."

Mira has some apt targets on the East squad, coached by Pete Elliott of Illinois. Bob Lacey of North Carolina and Jim Kelly of Notre Dame will be at the ends and Paul Marthia of Pitt at the flanker spot, plus little Sherm Lewis of Michigan State at left half.

"I've been throwing the ball for about a month and working out," said Mira. "This game should help my conditioning. I am going to drive out to San Francisco in time to get there July 10 for a week of camp before it is time to report for the All-Star game in Chicago, Aug. 7."

"These all-star games are great, you want to do your best for yourself and for your school. A lot of people in Miami and back home in Key West will be watching on television."

Mets, Cubs Post Wins in Pee Wee

The Cubs and Mets won in a pair of squeakers in St. Mary's Pee Wee loop.

Cubs edged the Tigers 6-5 to stay one game behind the first-place Mets who beat the Red Sox 4-3 in an extra-inning game.

Cub hurler Willy Costello pitched and batted his way to victory over the Tigers, allowing five hits while smashing a home run and triple in two trips to the plate. Team mate Greg Murphy clubbed three-for-three. The Bruins' Ross Carey and Rich Ambrose stroked two-for-three each while Joe Pugliese rapped two-for-four.

Dustin Carey posted a perfect day at the plate for the losers with three singles as many trips. The winners poked a total of 12 hits.

Dave Naccarato's long double in the bottom of the eighth inning drove Dan Mahoney across the plate with the winning run for the Mets after Mahoney had singled. The Sox outlast the winners, 10-5, but left seven men stranded on base.

Mets scored a pair of runs in the bottom of the first frame. The Sox brought a lone tally across in the third but the Mets added another in the fourth to take the lead, 3-1.

Sox hurler Dan Gallagher singled in the top of the sixth and scored on a triple by Frank Denter, who was thrown out at home plate trying to stretch it into a round-tripper. The Sox

Mets Beat Bucs In Nat'l by 4-1

Mets scuttled the Pirates 4-1 in a National LL game in which there were no extra base bingles.

Winning pitcher Paul DeCicco fanned nine batters and walked one in picking up the victory. Gene Hofbauer, who was relieved after three innings by Gary Schoonmaker, took the loss. The Pirates tied it up 1-1 after two innings of play, but the Mets came up with two runs in the top of the third and added one more in the top of the sixth. DeCicco held the home club scoreless for the last four frames.

The line score:

R	H
Mets	1 0 2 0 1-4 4
Pirates	0 1 0 0 0-1 2
Paul DeCicco and Ed Basch
Gene Hofbauer, Gary Schoonmaker.

Wood Supply

It is estimated that 85 per cent of the wood needs of the United States is harvested from tree farms, industrial timberlands and other privately-owned forestlands.

New York Harness Racing Results

By The Associated Press
Favored Pack Hanover won the $45,000 Transoceanic Trot at Yonkers Raceway with ease Thursday night in the top attraction of the New York harness racing circuit.

American-bred and Italian-owned, Pack Hanover pulled away in the stretch in the 1 mile race for a three length victory over Sprite Kid of Canada.

Pack Hanover, the 6-year-old son of Hoot Mon, posted a time of 2:37 2-5 and returned $3.70, $2.60 and $2.50.

Third place Oscar R.L. of France and fourth place Fury Hanover of Italy joined Pack Hanover and Oscar R.L. in qualifying for Thursday's $60,000 United Nations Trot, the third leg of Yonkers' $150,000 International Trotting Series.

Next week's field will include the first four finishers from last week's Gotham at Yonkers, American-owned Duke Rodney, Porterhouse, A.C.'s Viking and Su Mac Lad.

The two Russian horses in the Transoceanic, Legion and Ranit, broke stride early and were never in contention.

Other feature race winners: Buffalo Raceway — Breck Hanover ($7.50) won the one-mile trot in 2:07.

Saratoga Raceway — Venus Scott ($17.50) won the first division of the $4,500 Pace in 2:05 4-5; Bill Yocum ($3.90) won the second in 2:06 1-5.

Vernon Downs—Amy Potomac ($7.00) took the $2,000 Trot by six lengths in 2:03 2-5.

Monticello — Kenland Squaw ($13.40) turned in a 2:06 1-5 to win the $2,000 Conditioned Trot.

Twin Double Is $4,440 at Oval

MONTICELLO — Kenland Squaw, which won for a $78.80 mutuel the last time out, got off at 5-1 odds in Thursday night's feature $2,000 trot at Monticello Raceway and responded with a length and three-quarter triumph in 2:06.1.

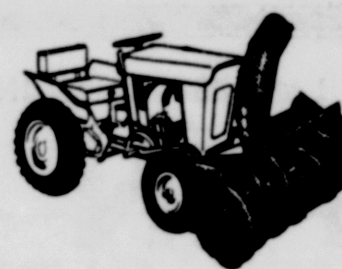

Driven by owner Vince Kachel of Shillington, Pa., the six-year-old mare returned a healthy $13.40, $6.20 and $6.80 to backers in the crowd of 4,005.

Kachel took Kenland Squaw to the top at the start and hit the first quarter in 31.2. Specter took over at the half in 1:03.2, but Kenland Squaw was coming on fast along the outside and led at the three-quarters in 1:35 flat.

Wildwood Chris got home second for $9.60 and $6.10, while Specter finished third, paying $4.20.

The Twin Double paid $4,440.00 on the 2-5-3-5 combination. There were 5 winning tickets.

Despondent Over Dad, He Shoots Family, Self

WALKER, N. Y. (AP) — Paul Norman Hessler, despondent since the death of his father, apparently shot and killed his wife and teen-age son before killing himself, police report. The bodies of Hessler, 47, his wife, Dorothy, 46, and son, Norman, 18, were found Thursday night in the family home. Hessler was slumped over a 12-gauge shotgun in the home near this Monroe County community.

Kingston Sport Club in Soccer Tilt This Sunday

The first of two games for the Central New York Soccer League championship will be played at 3 p. m. Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge field when the Kingston Sport Club will be host to the Albany Athletic Club.

A return match is scheduled between the two teams July 5 at Zwickelbauer's field at McCormack's Corners.

The Kingston booters won over the Albany Sons of Italy by default last Sunday to go into a tie for first place with the Albany A.C. Kingston is aiming for its third consecutive championship which would earn them permanent ownership of the league trophy.

The main contest will be preceded at 1 p. m. by an inter-squad game.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the Werder Bremen team of Germany beat Lanerosi of Italy and the Hearts of Scotland won over the Blackburn Rovers of England in the first section of the International Soccer League tournament at Randall's Island. The results put Werder Bremen in first place in the first section. They will play the winner of the second section on July 26. On Aug. 2, the second section winner will play Dukla of Czechoslovakia, winner of the ISL the past two years.

Kart Wheelers Results

Lou Murasso, of Poughkeepsie, won first place in the super junior event Sunday at Kart Wheelers Raceway, Clintondale. John Giangrosso, of Yonkers, finished second.

Other area winners included Judy Saries, Marlboro, first, and Jim LeRoy, Highland, second, in stock lightweight; John Baio, Peekskill, first, and Fred Michel, New Paltz, second, in stock heavyweight, and Edward Foerschler, Hyde Park, first in super heavyweight.

Stable-Shomo Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—One thing boxing observers used to say about Jose Stable was "Boy, can he take a punch." Now they're not so sure since the Cuban welterweight contender suffered a broken jaw in a gym workout with one Tito Marshall eight months ago.

The 23-year-old Cuban, ranked third among welter contenders and never stopped in 25 pro fights, will have his choppers tested tonight by streaking Vince Shomo of New York in a televised 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Shomo, 24, a former amateur flash who had trouble for a while adjusting to the pro competition, has won five straight and has zoomed to a No. 4 rating. His record is 12-6-1. Until his jaw was busted for free in the gym, Stable was the hottest guy around in the welter set next to champion Emile Griffith and ex-champ Luis Rodriguez. He had won six in a row and boasted a 22-2-1 record.

Ferrier Had No Such Purses

CLEVELAND (AP) — Australian-born Jim Ferrier, a world golf tourist for a quarter-century, wishes he had had a crack at some of the present-day purses while in his prime.

Now only a year away from the half-century mark, genial Jim figures he could have made a lot of money with the more than 20 tournaments he has won since 1944. He picked up only $3,500 as first prize for winning the PGA Championship in 1947, but last year Jack Nicklaus received $13,000 for the same chore.

Ferrier, who didn't help his hopes or financial situation Thursday with an opening 76 in the $100,000 Cleveland Open—only six of the field of 159 finished half of the hole—sees a big fiscal future for the golfing greats.

"Practically every tournament is worth $50,000 or more these days," he said. "In 1953 the total purses were $562,000 and last year they were over $2 million and they'll go on up."

"In the first America tournament I entered about 1940, the total purse was $3,500 and the winner got $850. The winner of this Cleveland meet gets $20,000."

Jim said golf had been good to him, about $160,000 in the last 15 years but he would be better for the crop of youngsters now getting into the act.

The tourist put on quite a show Thursday in the opening round here and old man par—he's 71—took a beating. Sixty-three of the 159 starters broke par, 22 others matched it, and only one amateur soared as high as 80.

Al Geiberger, the 26-year-old Californian, birdied six of the

Williams Hurls 1-Hitter in RVLL

Tigers squeezed by the Indians for a 3-0 win in the Rondout Valley LL in which each team scored but one hit.

Winning hurler Tom Williams allowed a lone bingle to John Tillson as he faced but 19 batters in the six innings of play. He struck out nine and issued two bases on balls.

Losing pitcher Davis Heinitz whiffed 16 Tigers and walked three in facing 22 batters.

Skip Lyons' triple was the lone hit by the winners. The Tigers scored lone tallies in the third, fourth and sixth innings.

The line score:
Tigers ..... 001 101-3 1
Indians ..... 000 000-0 1

Tigers Rip Yanks By 10-2 in Hurley

Tigers ripped the Yanks 10-2 in a Hurley LL contest.

Rich Whelan led the victors at the plate with three hits in four trips at bat. However, team mate Jim Smith rapped two doubles in four appearances and Tim Whelan collected two-for-four, including a two-bagger. Ken Hoffstatter stroked a double for the losers.

The Bengals rolled up eight runs before the Yanks scored a lone tally in their half of the fourth. However, the Tigers clawed for two more in the sixth, in which the Yankees pushed across another lone run. Smith gave up six hits in taking the win.

13 Families Are Big Scot Guests On Trip to Fair

Thirteen families who were Big Scot World's Fair trip winners attended the Fair last Sunday, with all expenses paid including bus trip, sightseeing tour of the fair and lunch and dinner.

The bus left Big Scot's parking lot at 9 a. m. and returned at 9 p. m. Each family was given a Pan American Airline travel kit which contained an official guide of the fair and other World's Fair souvenirs.

Northeastern Will Absorb Negro Groups

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Northeastern Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church will absorb two groups of Negro churches in another step in the church's drive to rid itself of segregationist practices.

Delegates to the quadrennial meeting of the Northeastern Jurisdiction voted Thursday to transfer the Washington and Delaware Conferences of the Central Jurisdiction into the Northeastern Jurisdiction.

The Methodist Church as a whole has voted to eliminate its Central Jurisdiction which is based on racial tactics and comprises mostly Negro churches. The other jurisdictions, such as the Northeastern, are based on geography.

The Northeastern Jurisdiction's action Thursday also included approval of a transfer of Bishop Prince A. Taylor Jr. of Baltimore, a Negro, into the Northeastern Jurisdiction. Bishop Taylor supervises the two Negro conferences.

Another of the 16 Negro conferences is expected to be transferred into the North Central Jurisdiction next month, along with the second of five Negro bishops.

Elimination of the Central Jurisdiction has been under discussion and preparation for several years.

More than 330 clerical and lay delegates are attending the meeting. They represent nearly 2 million Methodists in 12 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Colgate University Gets $2.2 Million Special Ford Grant

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—A special Ford Foundation grant of $2.2 million has been awarded to Colgate University, on a matching basis, to aid a 10-year expansion program.

The grant, announced Thursday night, is contingent on the University's raising another $6.6 million in the next three years.

Colgate President Vincent M. Barnett Jr. said Colgate planned to increase its enrollment from 1,425 men to about 1,825, and boost faculty salaries by 77 per cent, to an average of $16,800 a year plus $2,000 in fringe benefits.

Arrests for Major Crimes Increase In First Quarter

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The number of arrests during the first quarter of 1964 for major crimes in New York State set a record and was "substantially higher than anticipated," the state correction commissioner reported.

Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis said Thursday that the 19,885 arrests during the January-March period this year was 15.1 per cent higher than during the previous record quarter, July-September last year, and 22.6 per cent higher than during the last quarter of 1963.

He said that, even when population and seasonal factors were considered, the rise was greater than expected.

New York City, which has about 45 per cent of the state's population, accounted for more than 80 per cent of the arrests, McGinnis said.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must not pay less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours. Employers not specifically exempt. Also most employees in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961 must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less than covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 381 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452. WYandotte-4235.

A past officer's pin was presented by Ethel Jehle, to Dorothy Maxfield, past chairlady and Helen Walbroel, past treasurer.

After the luncheon some of the group went to the Roosevelt Hotel and others to Vanderbilt Mansion. Meetings are discontinued until fall.

World News In Brief

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rebuke for Moro

May Boost Purchases

MOSCOW (AP) — An 18-member Mexican mission ends a two-week tour of Soviet industrial facilities Saturday and indicates it will recommend increased purchases of Soviet industrial equipment.

The mission, which also visited Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland, included specialists in oil and petrochemical industries, mining, machine tools, building equipment, agricultural machinery, electric power and railroads.

To Offer Compromise

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian Parliament will be asked to approve a compromise national medical insurance plan endorsed by the government and the medical profession.

The plan was announced Thursday after 10 months of dispute, including a nationwide doctors' strike in April.

Kissing, Cuddling Out

VALLETTA, Malta (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church is setting up a vigilance committee to see that tourists behave in Malta.

Earlier this week the government banned public kissing and cuddling. The police also have reported that holidaymakers have been appearing at resort spots dressed "indecently."

Names In The News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller, who will be 84 Saturday, is a woman of "great dignity who is just growing old with grace."

So reports a frequent caller at the country home of the blind and deaf author.

Miss Keller has given up writing and lectures. She refuses to receive reporters and photographers. Old friends and relatives call often at her white clapboard house for a chat.

NEW YORK (AP) — A visitor from abroad would have good reason to believe that the Johnsons have taken over the country.

By reading a newspaper this week, he could have learned that President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed U. Alexis Johnson deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam, named Lt. Gen. Harold K. Johnson as Army chief of staff and held a telephone conference with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi.

CHICAGO (AP) — Quote of the day: William Northon, a Chicago construction worker after he was awarded a medal for subduing and capturing the assailant of a stenographer: "I acted on instinct. I saw somebody in trouble and I went to help. Wouldn't anybody?"

Eastern New York—Temperatures are expected to average 1 to 2 degrees above seasonal normals. Little indication of consequential rainfall.

Western New York—Temperatures are expected to average 2 to 4 degrees above seasonal normals. Cooler Sunday, very warm and humid Monday and Tuesday and turning cooler Wednesday. Scattered showers Sunday through Tuesday and more numerous showers Wednesday.

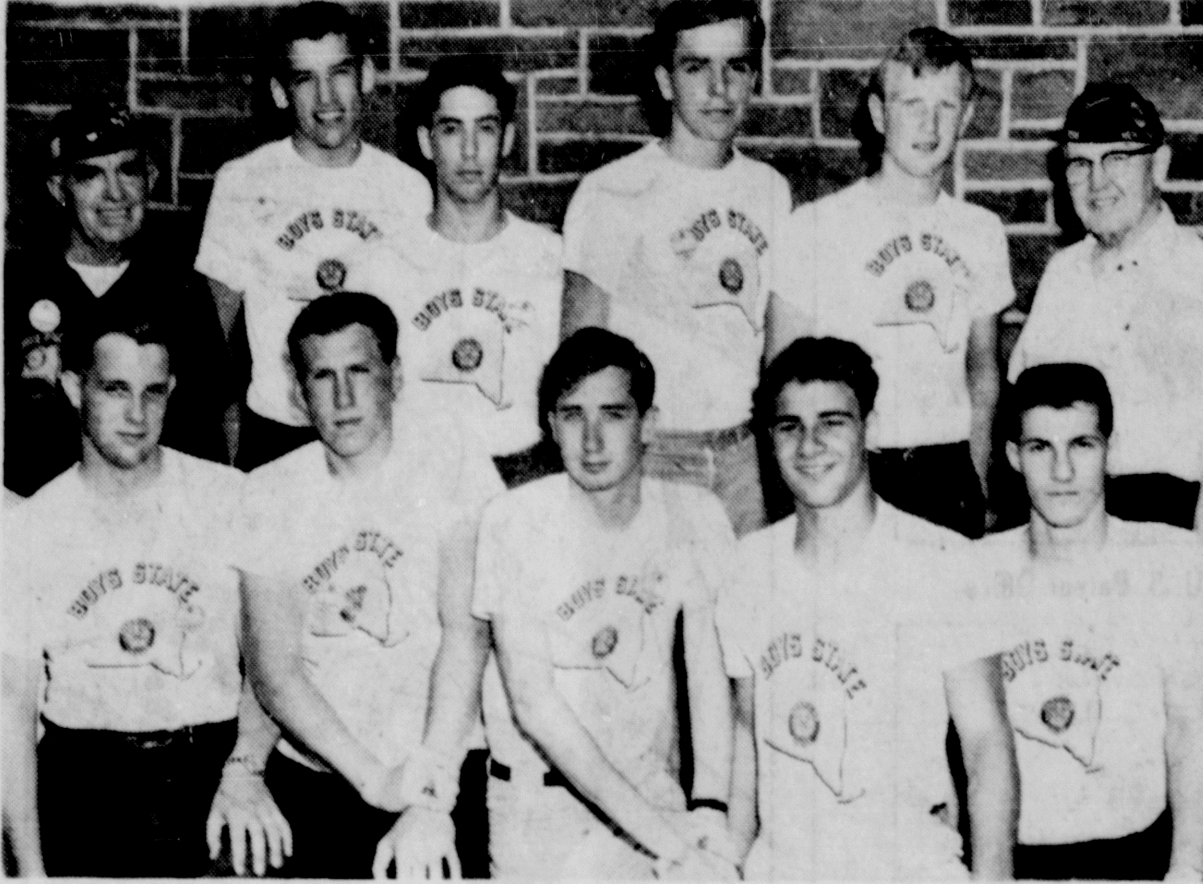

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 76-83. Nighttime lows, 57-61.

Nizer Steps Up Bid

NEW YORK (AP)—Attorney-author Louis Nizer plans to make himself "generally more available" to Democratic leaders in a stepped-up bid for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

Nizer told a news conference Thursday that he felt the undecided race for the nomination between himself and U.S. Rep. Samuel Stratton, Amsterdam, was far from settled.

Stratton has not announced formally for the nomination but has said he would accept it if the party leaders chose him far enough in advance of the September state convention to allow time for him to wage a good campaign.

E. Bohan of Ulster Park, senior county counselor; Charles Gaffney, William Dole, Robert Lindemann, Carl Jacobson, and George Mead of American Legion Headquarters, New York City. Missing at the time was Michael Suenram, who was attending his party's nominating convention as a delegate. A total of 1,030 selectees are attending the week-long sessions.

Traffic Held Up After 28 Crash

Traffic was snarled Thursday afternoon on Route 28 about a half mile west of Onteora School when a station wagon operated by Richard Johnson, 177, of Shokan, struck a utility pole, breaking the pole and depositing a tangled mass of electric wires on the highway. Traffic was delayed over an hour and a half.

Johnson traveling east on Route 28 at about 5 p. m. ran off the right side of the road, skidded 130 feet, struck the utility pole and then continued on striking a tree. He was uninjured.

State Trooper John Turk, who investigated, charged Johnson with operating a car at a speed not reasonable or prudent and took him before Justice of the Peace Frank C. Carle where Johnson paid a $15 fine.

It took an hour and a half to clear the roadway and get traffic flowing in a normal manner.

Queens Boys Hurt By Explosion at Summer Home

Two Queens boys were injured shortly after noon Thursday when an explosion occurred as they were experimenting with chemicals in the yard of a Haines Falls summer home.

Trooper Carl Svenson of Leeds said Richard George Moen, 15, and Patrick Francis O'Hara Jr., both of Ozone Park, Queens, were taken to the Greene County Memorial Hospital. They were treated and released.

According to an investigation, Moen suffered lacerations of the left hand and over both eyes. O'Hara received lacerations over the right eye.

The incident, which occurred in the yard of the summer home of O'Hara's parents, was investigated by State Police BCI Investigator Patrick Romagano and Trooper William Todd.

Driver Escapes Injury

A 70-year-old motorist narrowly escaped injury at 3:10 p. m. Thursday when his car was involved in a collision on Route 23, Town of Catskill, with a tractor-trailer. Trooper Carl Svenson of Leeds sub-station reported Jay Barrows, of Harpersville, was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer, when he apparently cut in too close and the crash occurred. Edward Handy, 45, of Albany, was the truck driver. Both men escaped injury, troopers said.

Supper Canceled

The annual July 4 cafeteria supper held at the Union Center Community Church, Ulster Park has been canceled due to circumstances.

Actress Confused,

She Mails Puppy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gale Gilmore isn't sure how it happened.

She walked up to a Sunset Strip mailbox Thursday with a package to mail in one hand and her black and white mongrel puppy, Snipper, in the other.

"I got confused," she said. And she mailed the dog.

Gale, 21, blonde, and an actress, called the dog and cried. Someone else called the newspapers. A passerby called the post office.
